IMMIGRANT BILL LAGS

Senators Absent at Ban Debate

Brigham Warns Excluders of Danger to Pan-American Good Will

Speakers Favor Confining Operation of Measure to Mexicans

By a Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 11. (Exclusive)—Debate on the Harris bill for restriction of immigration from Europe and the countries of Central and South America continued in the Senate today while at the same time the House Immigration committee heard additional witnesses on the Welch bill for Filipino exclusion, Atty.-Gen. Webb of California being one of those appearing for this legislation.

There were only two speeches in the Senate. Bingham of Connecticut completed the warning he started yesterday that passage of the Harris bill would wreck Pan-American good will and Heflin of Alabama came back waving the flag in opposition. The debate was desultory among empty seats, and there was no indication as to when the Senate will get down to action on amendments or the bill itself. At this evening's adjournment for the week-end the Harris bill was no further advanced than when it was made the unfinished business on Monday.

During the discussion Senator Shortridge of California suggested that the Harris bill be amended to apply only to Mexico.

"Why not deal with the one sore spot first?" he asked.

This was the tenor of interjections made by Vandenberg of Michigan and was as well the burden of the speech by Bingham.

Others seemed to agree that while in the non-country on the Western Hemisphere which presented an immigration problem to the United States, and that the general restriction should be confined to that one nation.

ACTION INDEFINITE

Much of the sentiment that is now in gain most ground as the days continues, but it will be difficult for Congress to limit immigration from one nation on the Western Hemisphere without dealing in the same manner with all other neighboring countries. That is the real stumbling block in the way of restriction legislation.

Senator Hayden of Arizona gave notice he will speak first thing Monday. He is against the measure as it now stands, aimed primarily at Mexico. Allen of Kansas, who wants to restrict immigration with no reference to the Western Hemisphere, Vandenberg of Michigan, who has an amendment for seasonal labor; Kendrick of Wyoming, who has an amendment to Mexican seasonal labor under

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Been reading Mr. Coolidge's article. Told about me knocking Senate. Why, he started in where I finished. Said his prestige would not allow him being a Senator. That when he was elected Governor twelve years ago that he stepped over their heads. And he certainly wasn't going to go backwards. When those guys hear that a Governor is higher than a Senator I want to hear 'em howl. Mrs. Gann can't be accused of being the only one that brings up social precedence, Calvin is trying to uphold his place at the table, too. I'd like to see some hostess try and seat the Governor of Utah above Borah, wow.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

NAVY SAVING TO BE HUGE

Hoover Foresees Cut of Billion

President Gives Estimate of Benefit Gained by London Pact

Possible World Reduction in Arms Costs Put at $2,500,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—Commending the results of the London Naval Conference, President Hoover today said the total savings to the world will be perhaps $2,500,000,000.

The President based his estimate on amounts which he considers the world is preparing to spend on naval construction. He cited the naval figures which were the basis of discussion at the unsuccessful Geneva parley in 1927, and said that on that basis up to $1,000,000,000 will be saved by the United States in the next six years as a result of the London accord.

He said the most vital feature of the London meeting's accomplishments for peace is "the final abolition of competition in naval arms between the greatest naval powers and the burial of the fears and suspicion which have been the constant product of rival warship construction."

The complete text of the President's statement was:

"I am greatly pleased with the

UNION PORT PLAN WINS

War Board Asks $8,000,000

Fund for Local Project in Omnibus Bill to be Available July 1

Government to Pay Entire Cost of Dredging and Breakwater

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 11. (Exclusive)—The Army Board of Rivers and Harbors Engineers today approved the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor program with a few minor exceptions, and the House Rivers and Harbors Committee immediately incorporated the development in the omnibus appropriations bill to be reported to the House next week.

The day's developments mean that the funds for a new $7,000,000 breakwater and more than $1,000,000 in dredging operations will become available at the start of the new fiscal year July 1, next.

The action by the Army board and House committee removes the local-aid clause and other restrictions which have held up the breakwater and general harbor project for the last five years. Representative Evans of Glendale explained this and other phases of the Army board's report in the following statement:

EVANS' STATEMENT

"The report of the board of engineers transmitted this morning to the chairman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors on the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor improvement recommends the construction of a composite detached breakwater 12,500 feet long to be built on forty-eight foot contour in the outer harbor at a cost of $7,000,000.

"The board also recommends that all the restrictions imposed by the resolution of 1925, including the one calling for 50 per cent local aid from the cities of Los Angeles and Long Beach be removed, and that the government pay the total cost of constructing the breakwater.

"The recommendation of the board on the breakwater is in complete accord with the joint request of the cities of Los Angeles and Long Beach.

"Restrictions are recommended to be waived on the ground that both cities have heretofore spent several millions of dollars in developing the harbor, and on the further ground that there is commerce of an annual tonnage of approximately 29,000,000, increasing at the rate of 1,250,000 annually.

FIVE-YEAR FIGHT

"This report is the culmination of a courageous effort lasting more than five years on the part of the people of the local communities to have these restrictions removed and the government take over the development of this rapidly growing port, now, as I understand it, the third in point of tonnage in the United States.

"The board has also recommended that a material part of the dredging requested by both cities in both the outer and inner harbors be done. Cerritos channel and the outer Long Beach entrance channel are to be dredged to a depth of thirty-five feet, the government to take over the maintenance of the Long Beach breakwater from the south pier. Approximately 85 per cent of all dredging asked for in both harbors is recommended.

"Needless to say, I am much gratified at the outcome."

Harbor Engineer G. F. Nicholson of Los Angeles was enthusiastic about the report and the action taken by the House committee. "If I had drawn the report myself," Nicholson said. "I couldn't have done better."

BUILT BY GOVERNMENT

The breakwater to be built on the forty-eight-foot contour in the outer harbor will afford a protected anchorage for the navy fleet as well as merchant marine ships. It will start in a line from the end of the present breakwater, with an entrance between the two, and continue westerly beyond the entrance to Long Beach inner harbor. Its construction will be taken over by the government and all restrictions, including the joint harbor operation between the cities of Los Angeles and Long Beach, long a controversial point, have been done away with.

In addition the Cerritos channel, running on the inland side of Terminal Island and connecting the inner harbors of Long Beach and

NEW ATTACK ON BRISTOW FRUSTRATED

Attempt to Wreck and Hold Up Train Carrying Freed Man Reported.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 11. (AP) An unsuccessful effort was made to wreck and hold up the train carrying J. E. Bristow from Tepic, Mex., to Mazatlan, Mex., shortly before daylight today, according to a message received by the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman from Merle Blakely, Oklahoman correspondent with the Bristow party.

The train was carrying Bristow from Tepic after his rescue Wednesday at Ahuacatlan, Mex., near where he had been held for ransom for thirty days before being freed by payment of $1500 ransom by his son, Obie Bristow.

The attempted hold-up was three hours before daybreak.

Troops accompanying the party and protecting them were given credit for frustrating the bandits' efforts.

One bridge about forty-eight feet long had been burned, causing the train to be stopped, when a number of armed natives appeared in the underbrush along the right of way, Blakely reported.

When the alarm was sounded the troops dismounted and frightened the purported attackers away.

Air Transport Control Rests With Curtiss

WILMINGTON (Del.) April 11. (AP)—The fight for control of the National Air Transport, Inc., was settled early today when it was announced that the present management had been retained.

The battle was waged between two groups of the company, the Curtiss-Wright-Keyes group, which now controls the directorate of the corporation, and the United Aircraft Corporation, which sought to elect a new board of directors.

FASCISTS FIRE ON RIOTERS

Troops Shoot Into Crowds at Taranto as Sequel to Arrest of 280 Malcontents

NICE (France) April 11. (Exclusive)—A grave situation confronts the Fascist regime in Southern Italy, according to well-confirmed reports from Rome today. Rioting has broken out in Taranto, a busy city in the heel of the peninsula where troops were forced to fire into the crowds to maintain order. Up to today there have been 280 arrests.

The trouble is said to be due to unrest over economic conditions. Things took a violent turn when a mob fired on several public buildings and bloody clashes occurred between mobs and troops of police.

Sig. Scorthea, one of the directors of the Fascist party, went to the scene of the trouble. But due to the gravity of the situation he was not able to return to Rome today to participate in the deliberations of the party court of discipline, which is presided over by Secretary Turati.

News of the trouble in Southern Italy is being kept strictly secret. This has been the first outburst of violence since last fall when rioting of a similar nature occurred in the Abruzzi Mountains when troops were called to quell a mob which had been stirred up over labor troubles.

England Gets Appalling Air War Weapon

LONDON, April 12. (Saturday) (AP)—The Daily Mail this morning states that "the most appalling weapon of war ever devised by man, defying all defense and raining merciless death from the skies," is now being forged in secret in England.

This new war terror, says the Mail, is a giant airplane torpedo operating without a crew, its engine and course controlled by clockwork and its hull a mere receptacle for bombs.

The clockwork control is set beforehand to operate at a certain moment and a specific place. On arriving at the appointed moment the engine stops and the whole machine with its deadly load crashes to the earth.

Hoover Stands Pat on Naming of Judge Parker

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—After hearing that some Republican Senate members, alarmed at the opposition to Judge John J. Parker as Associate Supreme Court Justice, have expressed a desire that the nomination be withdrawn, information reached the Senate today that President Hoover has no intention of withdrawing Judge Parker's name.

WINDY CITY, ALL HET UP, GETS CHILLS

Cold Breezes from North Put Heat Wave to Flight Within Twenty Minutes

CHICAGO, April 11. (Exclusive)—Chicago's freakish weather took an unexpected turn this afternoon when the mercury droped 27 deg. in twenty minutes, thus banishing the unseasonable heat wave which had sent Chicagoans sweltering through yesterday and most of today.

The drop continued as a cool north breeze lowered the temperature a degree a minute between 3 and 3:30 p.m., dropping the mercury from 90 to 60 deg.

At 4 p.m. the temperature stood at 52, a drop of 38 deg. in one hour.

The cool wave did not arrive, however, until the all-time heat record for April, set yesterday at 90 deg., had been equaled again today.

The unseasonable warmth sent hundreds of persons to bathing beaches although not open officially.

Chicago was not the only hot place. From all over the Middle West came reports of high temperatures. St. Louis reported 92 deg.; Milwaukee, 90; Kansas City, 92; Omaha, 92; Peoria, the same, and Des Moines and Dubuque, 93.

BLOOD TEST AIDS CLAIM FOR INFANT

Device Backs Parentage Assertions of Oregon Woman, Attorney Says

PORTLAND (Or.) April 11. (AP)—Elmore Lessard, attorney for Mrs. George F. Schaefer, whose parentage of a 2-month-old baby is disputed by Miss Geraldine Watson of Los Angeles, announced today that blood tests indicated Mrs. Schaefer's claim to parentage of the child is well founded.

Immediately after this announcement, officials here instituted a search for Laura Reynolds, twin sister of Mrs. Schaefer, who was last heard of from Redlands, Cal. Mrs. Schaefer told authorities that her twin sister may have abducted the baby Miss Watson claims from a hotel where the child is said to have been abandoned.

Lessard said his authority for his statement is Dr. Curtis W. Miller, who by electronic therapy arrived at the decision that the child's blood and the blood of Mrs. Schaefer are the same.

Dr. Miller told Lessard that when the blood of two related persons is examined by this system, the device refuses to operate, but blood of unrelated persons causes the device to vibrate.

NINETEEN KILLED AS TRAIN HITS BUS IN NEW MEXICO

Ten Known Injured in Crash of Los Angeles-Denver Stage; Fire Adds to Horrors

ISLETA (N. M.) April 11. (AP)—A fast Santa Fe mail train today crushed a Pickwick Greyhound motor stage, killing nineteen persons and injuring ten persons, six seriously.

In the worst accident in the history of western bus transportation the train sideswiped the stage as the driver tried frantically to swing it clear of the on-coming locomotive and the terrific impact so mangled the bodies of the victims that late today identification of three had not been made.

Two survivors said the driver slowed up but failed to stop at the crossing.

Demolished by the collision, the stage was ignited by flames which licked over it from the gasoline tank.

BODIES CARRIED BY TRAIN

Two bodies and parts of the bus were carried 200 yards down the right of way by the speeding train which stopped half a mile past the crossing where the tragedy occurred.

Neither the Pickwick Greyhound office at Los Angeles, from which the bus departed at 11:59 p.m. Wednesday, east-bound for Denver, nor the bus driver carried identification for the passengers, and identification was established only through bits of personal effects which escaped the flames.

The twenty-nine persons known to have been on the bus have been accounted for.

ACCOUNTS HAZY

Three of the injured, Conrad Heuvers, Los Angeles; Homer Stein, San Francisco, and F. A. Wicker, Century City, Cal., were removed from the Santa Fe Hospital to St. Joseph's Hospital this afternoon.

Two of the injured, William Richards Perkins of Pueblo and Ellis Huff of Los Angeles, whose wife and son, Kenneth Huff, were killed in the crash, were able to leave the hospital tonight to go to a hotel.

Many of the injured are suffering from head injuries and a slight concussion of the brain and were unable to tell of the disaster. Heuvers and Stein reiterated tonight their statement that they blamed the bus driver for not stopping at the crossing.

SURVIVORS STUNNED

The sudden crash stunned the survivors, several of whom were seriously injured. The engineer, C. C. Davis, said when he realized the crash must occur he clamped on the brakes and slowed down to about thirty-three miles an hour when his locomotive struck the stage. The train was partially derailed.

Bodies were strewn all along the right of way. Only two large tires remained as mute evidence to the damage wrought by the collision and flames. Tourists and Indians from a near-by pueblo were the first to arrive on the scene, but they could do nothing without ambulances, which did not arrive from Albuquerque and other near-by communities until a half-hour after the crash.

Crazed by the shock and injuries one survivor wandered about the wreck calling for his wife and child, and, unable to find them, threw himself on the ground with the plea that he wanted to die, too.

"Apparently the bus driver attempted to turn parallel with the track when he saw he could not beat the train to the crossing," said Davis. "The locomotive side swiped the bus."

"BODIES EVERYWHERE"

C. W. Atwater of Albuquerque one of the first to reach the wreck said: "It was a terrible scene. Bodies were strewn everywhere. Some of them had been decapitated by the impact, some were armless and some were legless. The clothing had been burned from some of the bodies."

Homer Stein, temporarily knocked unconscious, and Conrad Heuvers credited their escape to the fact they were on the side of the bus opposite to that struck by the locomotive. Both said the driver, F. D. Williams of Albuquerque, failed to stop, but merely slowed down at the crossing. Williams, a relief driver between Gallup and Albuquerque was among those killed. Stein of San Francisco and Heuvers of Los Angeles were traveling eastward together.

"I felt myself rolling over and over," Heuvers said. "Everything was ablaze and there were clouds of dust. Thrown free of the bus I jumped to my feet and everywhere around me were horrible

Rail Commission Hears Argument for Gas Merger

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11. (AP)—Improved service to consumers and elimination of costly duplication of investments were arguments presented to the State Railroad Commission today in support of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's application to acquire the California properties of the North American Company of New York. The proposed merger involves approximately $650,000,000 and will make Pacific Gas and Electric the third largest public utility in the United States.

A. F. Hockenbeamer, president of Pacific Gas, testifying at the morning session, said ultimately the merger would result in reduced rates to the public.

NEW YORK WET BILL FAILS

Democratic Move for Constitutional Convention Plea Blocked by One Man's Objections

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 11. (AP)—A Democratic bill proposing that Congress be memorialized to call a constitutional convention to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment appeared tonight to have failed on a point of parliamentary procedure and the objection of one Senator. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Cuvillier, who sponsored the measure which repealed the Mullan-Gage State Enforcement Act.

The bill was sent to a Senate committee tonight, from which little chance of its emerging seemed to exist, after it passed the Assembly early in the day on an 80-to-62 vote. Twenty-one Republicans joined Democrats in support of the measure.

Sent to the upper house after its passage by the Assembly, the measure first was referred to the Judiciary Committee by the Republican leader, John Knight.

A meeting of the committee was called promptly by the chairman, Senator Fearon, Republican, and the body returned within a few minutes to report the bill out. The measure, however, could not remain before the Senate for vote except by unanimous consent. A single objection was all that was needed to send it to the committee, where, apparently, it will remain for three days or well after the expected adjournment of the Legislature.

The objection came from Senator Brown, Republican, Schenectady.

Senator Fearon in reporting out the measure from Judiciary Committee said:

"The bill should be brought forth while there is a chance for consideration. I think each one of the other thirty-seven members who are not members of the Judiciary Committee should have the opportunity of presenting their views. If the bill is considered, it is a bill which will invoke a serious discussion and argument may be advanced which will influence the vote one way or the other."

Advocates of the measure were confident they could muster enough votes to pass it if the measure was placed in position for balloting.

Fire Adds to Difficulties of Identification

Both of bodies burned black, torn and bleeding. There were only two other people on their feet, Stein and a fellow from Oklahoma City."

Stein said he escaped because the impact catapulted him through a window and free from the wreck. He was knocked out for a few moments.

"When I came to," Stein said, I saw Heuvers staggering around and there was a man from Oklahoma City running wildly and calling for his wife and baby. He ran frantically here and there. Unable to locate his people he threw himself to the ground and, rolling over and over, cried out that he wanted to die, too. I don't know what happened to him. The sight was indescribable."

Tonight six bodies lay in one Albuquerque morgue, and in another were thirteen.

The mail train, of which George Irwin was the conductor, was held at the point it stopped from 9:27 p.m. at the time of the accident, until late in the afternoon awaiting investigation by the Coroner's jury.

CORONER'S JURY DISMISSED

The Coroner's jury taken to the scene was dismissed until positive identification of the bodies is established.

The crossing where the crash occurred is open and level ground about a mile from the Indian pueblo. The highway is paved.

An investigation of the crash was begun immediately. The motor bus regulation department of the New Mexico Corporation Commission ordered a complete report from the Pickwick Greyhound lines in Kansas City, Mo., and a department inspector was on the scene a short time after the accident was reported. Supt. West of the Santa Fe Railroad drove here in an automobile and H. E. Evatt, superintendent of the bus line's operations in Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico, left Denver for here immediately upon being informed of the crash.

ALHAMBRA VICTIM PLANNED VISIT IN EAST

ALHAMBRA, April 11. (Exclusive) Miss Cartula M. Mauer, 21 years of age, one of the victims of the Pickwick bus crash in New Mexico today, lived with her cousin, Edward A. Sommers, at 412 North Garfield avenue, this city. She was traveling alone on her way to visit relatives in Buffalo, N. Y., her former home, and had intended returning here.

Miss Mauer came to Southern California from Buffalo last fall in company with Miss Peg Greiner. The latter had been a telephone supervisor in Buffalo and Miss Mauer was an operator. They were chums. The two planned returning East for a visit, at first both agreeing to make the trip by stage. Just before their scheduled departure Miss Greiner decided to go by rail and booked accommodations on a train leaving tomorrow. Miss Maurer was reluctant to cancel her bus reservations and boarded the bus in Los Angeles at 1 o'clock Thursday morning on the fatal trip. The two were to meet in Chicago, where the parents of Miss Greiner were to join them and motor to Buffalo.

Miss Greiner, an employee of the Alhambra telephone office, was visiting in Redlands today and was ignorant of the fate of her friend.

SIBERT LETS NOTHING OUT ABOUT DAM

Colorado River Board's Head Silent on Progress of Plans Conference

DENVER, April 11. (AP) — Steadfastly refusing to divulge a particle of information regarding their deliberations, Maj.-Gen. William L. Sibert, chairman of the Colorado River board and four other members of the board continued behind locked doors today their work of completing final plans for the Boulder Dam.

Gen. Sibert was adamant in his refusal to discuss in any way with newspaper men the progress of the conference, reiterating brusquely that he had nothing to say.

In conjunction with Gen. Sibert's group, three members of the Boulder Dam board worked at their problems of construction plans which the river board must approve.

The two boards will likely be occupied in Denver for the next ten days. It is known that one of the problems to be worked out is that of a proposed addition of twenty-five feet to the top of the structure.

NEW PLAN OF SCHOOL TAX SOUGHT

Teachers Consider Income Levy as Way to Relieve Small Home Owners

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11. (Exclusive.)—California teachers are making an effort to relieve the small home owner of the necessity of supporting the public school system by providing a different form of financing education, as, for instance, an income tax levy.

This became evident today as one of the major problems being considered by the State Council of Education of the California Teachers' Association, meeting in annual convention at the Palace Hotel with approximately 135 members in attendance.

Other problems include a plan to make teachers' retirement more attractive in order to give younger applicants a chance to teach, and new legislation in regard to the tenure of position of a teacher.

OAKLAND, April 11. (Exclusive) After almost an entire night spent in conference with an attorney, William H. Parker, City Commissioner and target of a grand jury accusation in the Alameda county graft scandal, submitted his resignation today. It was accepted by Mayor Davie. The action occasioned surprise, as Parker had elected to fight the charges and already had gone to trial on them.

City Clerk Merritt was on the witness stand preparing to testify against Parker when the resignation was offered, and Merritt took it to the Mayor.

"A Thing of Beauty Is a Joy Forever"

BEAUTY speaks to our hearts of a quality in the world that ministers to the deepest need of our lives. A universe that produces the splendor of the lily inspires our trust. The musician, the poet, the painter who opens our eyes to behold new realms of loveliness renders, perhaps, the greatest service of any member of society. All lovers of beauty are cordially invited to participate in a celebration of its ministry to human life, Sunday at 10:50 A.M. at the First Unitarian Church, West Eighth Street just east of Vermont. Address by E. Burdette Backus. Music by double quartette from the A Capella Choir of U.C.L.A. Ada Marsh Chick at the Casavant organ.

HOOVER LAUDS NAVAL TREATY

final success of the naval arms conference in London and I have today telegraphed the delegation expressing my approval of the result achieved and my admiration for their patience and determination in an arduous and difficult negotiation. And I wish to congratulate the delegations of the other governments for their constructive and courageous action.

"The most vital feature of its great accomplishments for peace is the final abolition of competition in naval arms between the greatest naval powers and the burial of the fears and suspicions which have been the constant product of rival warship construction.

"It will be recalled that prior to the three-power conference at Geneva in 1927, which France and Italy felt obliged to decline attendance, there was naval competition in all craft except battleships with constant international friction.

"Consequently upon the failure of that conference, the rival expansion received even new impulses and resulted in increased international suspicion and ill-will through the world and a steady drift to greatly increased navies.

BARRIERS OVERCOME

"When I initiated this negotiation it was after a critical examination of the experience before and after the Geneva conference and a determination that the causes of that failure could be met with adequate preparation and preliminary negotiation. At that time we realized and have realized at all times since that the particular setting of the continental nations, because of the inseparable importance of land armies in their bearing upon naval strength, together with the political agreements that reduction of such arms implied, made a five-power agreement extremely improbable, as the United States could not involve itself in such agreements. The French and Italian governments have shown the utmost good will in this conference in endeavor, in the interest of world peace, to support the present solution just as far as they could do so and they have joined the present agreement in important provisions.

"It is difficult to estimate the precise reduction in war craft tonnage which has been brought about by this agreement because of the factor of normal replacement and additional tonnage authorized but not yet constructed. Nine battleships are to be scrapped of a total of about 230,000 tons, the replacement of sixteen or seventeen others to be deferred for six years. The various navies in the agreement are to reduce some 200,000 to 400,000 tons of other categories in the next few years as they become obsolete —but some categories of some of them must be increased in order to come up to the standards set. The net balance will be a very considerable decrease in the world's actual tonnage as it stands today."

AMERICAN SAVING

"The cost to the United States of replacements and new construction during the next six years until the further conference will be (under various estimates) from $550,000,000 to $650,000,000 as compared to a sum, as I have said, of between $1,400,000,000 to $1,640,000 000 to attain parity on the Geneva basis. To this latter would need be added the additional cost of maintenance and operating which would make the saving upon the present basis as compared to the Geneva up to $1,000,000,000 in the next six years.

"The savings are not alone to the United States but to Great Britain and Japan as well. The total saving to the world is perhaps $2,500,000,000 below the Geneva basis to which the world was steadily drifting. This sum devoted to reproductive enterprise will be a great stimulus to world prosperity."

CONFERENCE EXPECTED TO END THURSDAY

LONDON, April 11. (AP)—The London naval conference, with its treaty within a treaty built as a new beacon on the road to disarmament, is rapidly nearing its close and may end at the plenary session next Thursday with the signing of the London treaty.

This will follow a similar plenary meeting of brief duration Monday, and the drafting of a five-power treaty—which embodies the three-power agreement reached by the United States, Great Britain and Japan—is being rushed day and night. The only thing that might delay the wind-up Thursday would be the inability of the pact writers to agree upon terminology in so short a time.

Secretary Stimson and his American colleagues confidently expect to sail home on the Leviathan. The ship normally would sail the 22nd inst., but the United States Lines offered to hold her twenty-four hours if necessary and the Americans are investigating to see if sailing could be delayed forty-eight hours in the event negotiations are slow.

Today the delegations celebrated the success with which the London parley is terminating — success achieved with dramatic effects yesterday after almost the last vestige of hope for any sort of a five-power agreement had been surrendered.

Meanwhile the First Lord of the British Admiralty, A. V. Alexander, delivered at Sheffield an important address interpreting the results of the conference for Great Britain. He declared that as a result of the three-power agreement Great Britain will save at least between £160,000,000 and £170,000,000 (about $300,000,000 and $350,000,000.)

He added that the treaty will mark a valuable development in cementing British friendship with the United States, "friendship which of itself alone must have profound effect upon the peace of the world." He also paid tribute to the good will and friendship shown by the Japanese delegation and gave recognition to its contribution in settling naval problems.

Poisoned Co-ed Dies in Lieu of Awaking Others

NEW YORK, April 11. (Exclusive) A 19-year-old girl, rated a brilliant student by Columbia University, died in the hallway outside her dormitory room at 4 a.m. today because she hesitated to waken any of her girl friends and tell them she had made a mistake in medicine bottles.

She was Miss Claire Sweeney of Cleveland Heights, O.

"I have taken my neuralgia liniment by mistake," she wrote in a note left for her room-mate, a nurse absent on a case. "Not all of it though—probably not more than enough to make me a little sick. This note is just so you'll know what to do if you come home and find me ill. I've tried to get a doctor, but there is no one downstairs, and I wouldn't want to waken anyone here at this hour unless I was sure there was a reason."

Reforestation Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—Favorable report on the Vandenberg bill to enlarge tree-planting operations in national forests was ordered today by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The measure calls for an appropriation of $150,000 for the fiscal year ending 1932, $300,000 for the following year and $400,000 for each year thereafter to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to establish nurseries and promote reforestation.

bond, and a number of others are waiting to present their views.

The prospects are that speeches will take up at least another week before any definite action is had on amendments, and that it will perhaps be several weeks before a vote is taken on the bill itself. Meanwhile the majority of Senators are paying no attention to the debate. There was difficulty again today in obtaining a quorum and after half the Senators had answered to their names less than a dozen remained on the floor.

FILIPINO EXCLUSION

Besides Atty.-Gen. Webb, the witnesses before the House committee were J. H. Patten of the Immigration Restriction League, favoring the principle of Filipino exclusion but finding certain objections to the Welch plan; Gen. F. L. Parker, chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs, of the War Department, who opposed the bill on military grounds; and Pedro Guevara, resident commissioner from the Philippines, and Manuel Roxas, speaker of the Philippine House, contending that exclusion would be unjust unless accompanied by independence for the islands. The hearings continue tomorrow and may be concluded, but more likely will run over into next week. Observers see a good chance of the committee reporting the bill but hardly any possibility of action at this session by the House, let alone the Senate, which has not itself given the Filipino exclusion issue any recent consideration.

Senator Bingham, in concluding his speech today, made the definite statement that the "administration," meaning President Hoover, is opposed to the proposed restriction of immigration on other countries on this hemisphere. But only two or three Republican Senators and not many more Democrats were in the chamber to hear him say it.

SOURCE OF DISCORD

"The administration, the State Department, our diplomatic representatives and all others who have had commercial or intellectual contact with our neighbors to the south of us," Bingham declared, "know that this legislation would cause an unfriendly feeling. Passage of this bill will strike a death blow at Pan-Americanism because no longer would the countries of Central and South America believe the United States sincere in its protestations of friendship. We know this whole thing is brought about because we have too many immigrants representing cheap labor coming in from Mexico. But we also know that there is no objection at all to the immigrants we receive from the eighteen countries below Mexico but which are equally affected and offended by this bill."

The implication all through Bingham's speeches yesterday and today was that he would not object to a bill affecting only Mexico.

POLITICAL FOOTBALL

Senator Heflin followed Bingham with what observers regarded as a campaign speech. A product of the Ku Klux Klan tide, Heflin has now been read out of the Democratic party in Alabama and is making a desperate fight for his political existence in the primary and election of this year. Very cleverly he seized upon the opportunity to make Senator Bingham, who recently was censured by the Senate in connection with tariff lobbying and who, therefore, is an unpopular figure in Alabama, stand out as the champion of continued unrestricted immigration from Mexico, although in reality Bingham spoke not for Mexico but for the countries which constitute what we know as Latin America.

But in the campaign pamphlets going out to Alabama it will appear that Bingham, the arch-protectionist who wormed the secretary of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association into the secret session of the Senate Finance Committee during tariff consideration, is the one sinister figure fighting against the flow of Mexicans who come here to take jobs away from native boys who fought and bled in France, and all that sort of thing. This is just another sample of the way a bill for immigration restriction, regardless of its merits, plays into the hands of the Congressional politicians who are about 150 per cent Americans, and represents again the reason those who really know the importance of Mexican immigration to the farm interests of California and the Southwest some times despair of ever getting intelligent consideration of the problem at the hands of Congress.

"Every Senator who, really loves his country will vote for the Harris bill," was one of Heflin's remarks. At another point he compared Mexican laborers to the alien racketeers in Chicago.

The following dispatch was received by Charles L. Lundblad, owner and operator of amateur radio station W6PZ, direct from the Automobile Club's portable station, IPR.

BY HARRY CARR

PORTESUELA (Nayarit, Mex.,) April 11. (Exclusive)—When the moon came up last night over the Spanish treasure trail through the wild Nayarit Mountains a company of horsemen rode in out of the night. It was headed by the president of the old Aztec town of Ixtlan and R. E. East, chief engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California. They had spent the day scouting the tourists' route through the dreaded barrancas, which have been ramparts of slaughter and peril since the days of the Spanish Conquistadores.

When the road is built it will be a modern surface laid on a cobblestone highway haunted by the ghosts of Spanish treasure trains. It was over this road that the great gold trains went under heavy guard from the Manila galleons which landed at San Blas, then over the mountains to the waiting ships at Vera Cruz.

Until this road is built it will be impossible for tourists to come farther south than Tepic. From there on the road is fierce. The old cobblestone road has been allowed to fall into a wild burro trail.

From Tepic to Compostela the road crosses the San Miguel River twenty times in six miles. From the old capital whence Coronado started on his quest for the seven golden cities of Cibola the road goes through the ancient Hacienda San Jose de Conde, where they have been raising bulls for the fights since 1555.

After Ixtlan the road is a series of rocks and ditches cut by streams. Only a sturdy car and a master driver can make two miles an hour. At Portesuela Mr. East ordered the expedition into camp and with twenty cavalrymen went on through the barrancas on horseback to see if it is possible to drag a car through by oxen. It cannot go through on its own power. Tomorrow he will scout the San Marcos grade. The choice between the two involves not only rocks and gullies but the steeper declivities of local politics.

Dr. Bass Supplied Brains for Conspiracy, He Says

BENTONVILLE (Ark.) April 11. (AP)— [illegible] Fields announced today that Dr. A. J. Bass, 35 years of age, wealthy retired dentist of Columbia, Mo., had made a confession in which he admitted he had been the "master mind" in one successful insurance murder plot and was involved in another which involved the slaying of William Pearman.

Bass is in jail here charged with first degree murder in the death of Pearman, 47, former Columbia mechanic, who was found slain here two weeks ago. Bass held an assignment of $200,000 life insurance which Pearman took out under the assumed name of William Foits, a man who had been missing seventeen years from his Centralia (Mo.) home. The insurance was assigned to Bass, supposedly as collateral on a loan in Southwest Arkansas.

Bass's statement revealed that he hired gunmen to kill M. J. Jessey of Hammond, Ind., head of the Northern States Life Insurance Company, in a $100,000 insurance swindle plot. This plot collapsed because the gunmen double-crossed him, Bass said, and Dorsey cancelled the insurance before any of the gunman could execute a murder plot with Bass.

WORLD COURT ISSUE DEFINED

Mrs. McCormick and Hoover "Agree to Disagree"

Harmony Reached on Other White House Policies

Senatorial Nominee Firm on Law Enforcement

WASHINGTON, April 11. (Exclu- sive)—Ruth Hanna McCormick in- formed President Hoover today that she is preparing to make a plank op- posing the World Court a promi- nent feature of the Illinois Republi- can State platform. On other is- sues she assured the President that her declarations will be in accord with administration policies.

Mrs. McCormick conferred with the President for a full hour late this afternoon.

"We agreed to disagree on the World Court," said Mrs. McCormick at the conclusion of the confer- ence. The President has said ex- actly where he stands, and I have stated where I stand. I do not find that we have any other differences at this time. I am with the Presi- dent on his tariff and farm pro- grams and also on the question of law enforcement."

The discussion of the Illinois Re- publican platform was due to the fact that the State convention is scheduled for the 18th inst. As the party nominee for United States Senator, Mrs. McCormick has been advised by the State leaders that the platform will be approved in such form as she desires.

DELAY SUGGESTED

Mrs. McCormick conferred with Senator Glenn, Republican, Illinois, during the afternoon, and they agreed that it might be desirable to ask that the State convention recess until fall and defer the adoption of a platform until that time. Under this procedure Mrs. McCormick suggested that more time would be available in which to prepare the platform.

By incorporating a declarstion against the World Court in the platform the Illinois Republican statement of principles will de- part somewhat from previous na- tional platforms. The 1924 plat- form adopted at Cleveland at the time of the renomination of Pres- ident Coolidge, who was making ad- vocacy of the World Court one of his principal issues, indorsed the World Court.

The 1928 platform adopted at Kansas City at the time of the nomination of President Hoover did not specifically refer to the World Court.

"We approve the following poli- cies of the administration of Presi- dent Coolidge," this platform read. "We believe they express the will of the American people in working actively to build up cordial inter- national understanding that will make world peace a permanent reality."

CHEERED IN HOUSE

After approving the Kellogg- Briand war-renunciation pact and other Coolidge foreign policies the 1928 platform asserted that "the Republican party maintains the tra- ditional American policy of non- interference in the political affairs of other nations."

"This government has definitely refused membership in the League of Nations and to assume any obli- gations under the covenant of the League," continued the platform. "On this we stand."

It is Mrs. McCormick's conten- tion that opposition to the World Court as an instrument of the League of Nations is in harmony with the 1928 platform.

Mrs. McCormick at noon made her first appearance on the floor of the House since her victory over Senator Deneen in Tuesday's Illi- nois primary. She was vigorously applauded. Representative Kahn, Republican, California, led the ap- plause. Mrs. McCormick bowed acknowledgment and then took her seat. Members gathered around to greet her. Later in the afternoon she dropped in at the Senate where many of the Senators congratulat- ed her on her achievement as the first woman to win a Senatorial nomination of a major party.

Mrs. McCormick informed in- quirers that she is ready to pre- sent a full statement of her ex- penditures whenever the new Sen- atorial campaign fund investigating committee desires the information.

Commission Reorganizing Will Come Up Next Week After Pending Measures

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)— The Cousens bill for reorganization of the Federal Power Commission was given the right of way on the Senate calendar today by the Sen- ate Steering Committee.

This legislation will be taken up probably early next week after the Senate disposes of the pending Harris immigration measure and a resolution by Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, to amend the rules to restrict double considera- tion of measures by the Senate.

Anxious to give early considera- tion to the House bill transferring the prohibition enforcement ma- chinery from the Treasury to the Justice Department, the Steering Committee sent word to the Judi- ciary Committee this measure will be given privileged status on the program whenever it is reported by the committee.

The House bill regulating motor bus transportation also was put on the program by the Steering Com- mittee.

KINK TAKEN OUT OF WOOL TARIFF

Conferees Reach Accord on Entire Schedule

Growers and Manufacturers Get More Protection

Fight Over Eggs Settled; Cotton Row Ends

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)— After agreeing upon the Senate duty of 7 cents a pound on long staple cotton, now on the free list, the Congressional conferees on the tariff bill today reached an accord on the entire wool schedule providing increased protection for the growers and manufacturers.

While both Senate and House bills carried higher duties on raw and processed wool all down the line, including clothing, the Senate raised the House rates in many instances. In general the conferees accepted the Senate changes.

However, a new subsection was added to the clothing wool para- graph providing for lower duties than now in force on raw wool not finer than 44's. These are the coarser wools that go into the manufacture of cheap clothing and sometimes into carpets and rugs when the lower grades are scarce. Heretofore, coarse wools between 40's and 44's have taken the same rate as finer clothing wools.

WASTE AND RAGS

The 3-cent-a-pound increase in the existing 31-cents-a-pound tariff on raw clothing wool of the finer variety was not in dispute in con- ference, both houses having pro- vided for this rise.

One of the victories won by the House placed a rate of 40 cents a pound and 75 per cent on wool felt hat bodies and a 25-cents-an-article addition to these rates on blocked or trimmed bodies and finished felt hats. The Senate has made the rate on all 33 cents a pound and 50 per cent.

The principal Senate increases accepted were on wool waste of all kinds and wool rags. The latter commodity, chiefly the type im- ported from abroad, is used to a large extent in the manufacture of cheap-grade woolen articles, in- cluding clothing. It was given a rate of 18 cents a pound as against 8 cents in the House bill.

The Senate conferees receded and allowed House provisions to go in to permit importers of coarse wools to bring in up to 10 per cent of wools not finer than 44's in each bale or package of wools not finer than 40's, and up to 10 per cent of wools not finer than 47's in each bale or package of wools not finer than 44's.

BACK TO FARM QUESTION

The carpet wool section was broadened to provide refund of duties if within three years from date of importation proof is furn- ished that the wool has been used in the manufacture of carpets, press cloth, camel's hair belting and knit of felt boots or heavy fulled lumbermen's socks.

Another important dispute was settled with the placing of a duty of 20 cent a pound and 40 per cent on mixed fabrics containing 17 per cent or more in weight of wool. This is an increase. Under the present law such goods are dutiable at the rate on the article or chief value in the mixed cloth.

Before taking up the wool schedule the conferees returned to the agriculture section and cleared up two differences which failed of settlement yesterday. One was the Senate duty on long-staple cotton, which was accepted.

The cotton schedule itself, em- bracing rates on manufactured ar- ticles, was passed over today as was the tobacco schedule carrying higher House duties on wrapper tobacco.

EGG QUESTION SETTLED

The other farm tariff controversy was settled with the elimination of the Senate increases on frozen and dried eggs. The present and House rate of 18 cents a pound on dried whole eggs, dried egg yolk and dried egg albumen was ac- cepted in place of Senate duties of 36, 30 and 60 cents, respectively.

The House rate of 8 cents a pound on frozen eggs also was agreed to. The present duty of 6 cents was raised to 11 cents by the Senate.

Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee an- nounced the House tariff conferees had requested the Senate conferees to pass over the question of plac- ing a 30-cent tax per ounce on silver until the question can be studied further.

Hawley said the conferees do not have adequate information be- fore them and that the silver duty has been passed over until they can study it further. No time, he said, has been set for additional consideration.

Hawley added that it is estimated the duty will result in an increase of $30,000,000 to the government.

Volunteers Beaten Off in Attack on Police

BOMBAY (India) April 11. (AP)— Violations of the Indian govern- ment's salt monopoly by the Civil Disobedience Volunteers of Mahatma Gandhi were reported today from widely scattered points in India and were attended with an increas- ing number of arrests, injuries and severe sentences.

Despite prudent efforts by the government, the "nonviolent re- sistance" movement appears to be making headway, particularly in Bengal where the Mahatma him- self has not as yet personally cam- paigned.

The college students of Calcutta have enthusiastically come out for the Nationalist cause.

POLICE CHARGE CROWD

Ten thousand students demon- strated tonight in the College Square, Calcutta. A large number of arrests were made, including some officers of the militia. At one time the crowd became so unruly that the police charged, swinging their batons. Several persons were injured.

Twenty-two persons were injured here when a riot broke out near the courthouse as a number of volunteers, sentenced to various terms of imprisonment after of- fering passive resistance to a po- lice raid on the National Congress party headquarters, were removed by the police.

AFFRAYS WIDESPREAD

Friends and sympathizers tried to adorn the prisoners with gar- lands. When the police fought them off they temporarily forgot passive resistance and fought back with a shower of sandals and stones. Ten policemen, including three Europeans, were injured, as well as twelve volunteers.

All the way across the Indian Peninsula, in the neighborhood of Madras, important east coast city, various minor affrays occurred. At Kalikapur a struggle between po- lice and volunteers ended in the waters of a canal, into which the volunteers threw themselves in an unsuccessful attempt to evade ar- rest.

Mr. Gandhi, against whose liber- ty no attempt has been made, ar- rived in the Olpad District of Bom- bay Presidency to speed up in per- son the civil disobedience cam- paign.

Bombay had an exciting day, but the situation, which appeared at one time to be highly threatening, was well in hand tonight.

EXTORTION CASE TRIAL DRAMATIC

Olga Edwards Faints as Her Small Son Walks Into Courtroom

NEW YORK, April 11. (Exclu- sive)—Olga Elde Edwards, on trial on extortion charges brought by Nathan L. Amster, millionaire financier, who, she asserts, is the father of her child, screamed, be- came hysterical and fainted this afternoon when her little boy was taken into Judge Rosalsky's court- room. A recess had to be taken.

Miss Edwards had just seated herself in the box as the first wit- ness in her own defense when her attorney, James D. C. Murray, asked that Lee, her son, who has been in the care of the Children's Society since the trial began, be brought into court. An officer of the society, holding the child's hand, came through the rear doors and started up the aisle.

Miss Edwards sprang to her feet, cried "My boy, my boy!" and fainted.

Judge Rosalsky promptly ad- monished the jury "not to be im- pressed" by any emotional out- bursts and ordered the recess.

Later, the former actress resumed the stand and between sobs told how the financier had made "pas- sionate love" to her.

Her story was cut short by ad- journment until next Tuesday.

Miss Edwards is said to have re- ceived gifts and money amounting to $170,000 from the financier and utility executive.

Practically all air-mail carriers are affected, including the Western Air Express, T.A.T. and Aviation Company and subsidiaries.

American Group Opposed to Nationality Pact

THE HAGUE, April 11. (Exclu- sive)—A squabble between the male and female delegates to the con- ference for the codification of in- ternational law has been carried to President Hoover by Miss Doris Stevens of the National Women's Party of the United States.

She cabled the President last night that the American delega- tion is making no effective fight to prevent the adoption of sex dis- criminations at the nationality con- vention. She is opposing the or- der issued by Edohorus Heemskerk, president of the conference, bar- ring women from the peace palace during sessions of the conference.

At a plenary session the American delegation refused to accept a con- vention embodying regulations af- fecting the nationality of married women. The convention was adopted, nevertheless, by a vote of forty to one.

David Hunter Hiller, head of the American delegation, said it would be better to await a more progres- sive agreement, and in announcing that the American delegation will not sign the general nationality convention he added that the American delegates will recommend that the Washington government do not sign the convention at a later date.

City Council's Deadlock Ends

CENTRAL FALLS (R. I.) April 11. (AP)—The deadlock in the City Council which had virtually halted city business since last September ended today when six members of the City Council and two members of the Board of Aldermen, who had refused to attend meetings, an- nounced an end of their filibuster.

Restaurants have been closed since the 7th inst., because of in- ability of the city to renew li- censes. The absentee members, un- officially designated the "Franco- Polish block," announced they will continue to fight for what they re- gard as proper racial representa- tion in the local Republican party.

FOUR INDICTED AS GEM BUYERS

Bakersfield Men Accused as Stolen Jewel Purchasers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11. (AP)— Four Bakersfield men, Wiley C. Dorris, attorney; L. L. Bateman, Raymond Bateman, his son, and James Arp, were indicted by the grand jury here today in connection with the theft last June of jewels valued at $20,000 from the home of Lloyd Dinkelspiel, San Francisco lawyer. The indictment charges conspiracy to purchase and with actually purchasing the jewelry which, the indictment asserts, they knew was stolen.

Telegraphic warrants were sent to the authorities at Bakersfield to place the four men under arrest.

The case "broke," according to Asst. Dist.-Atty. Fourtner, when a woman "tool" of the group was taken into custody last January with $10,000 worth of jewels after approaching the insurance com- pany which had already paid the claim to Dinkelspiel, and offering to return them to the company for $3800.

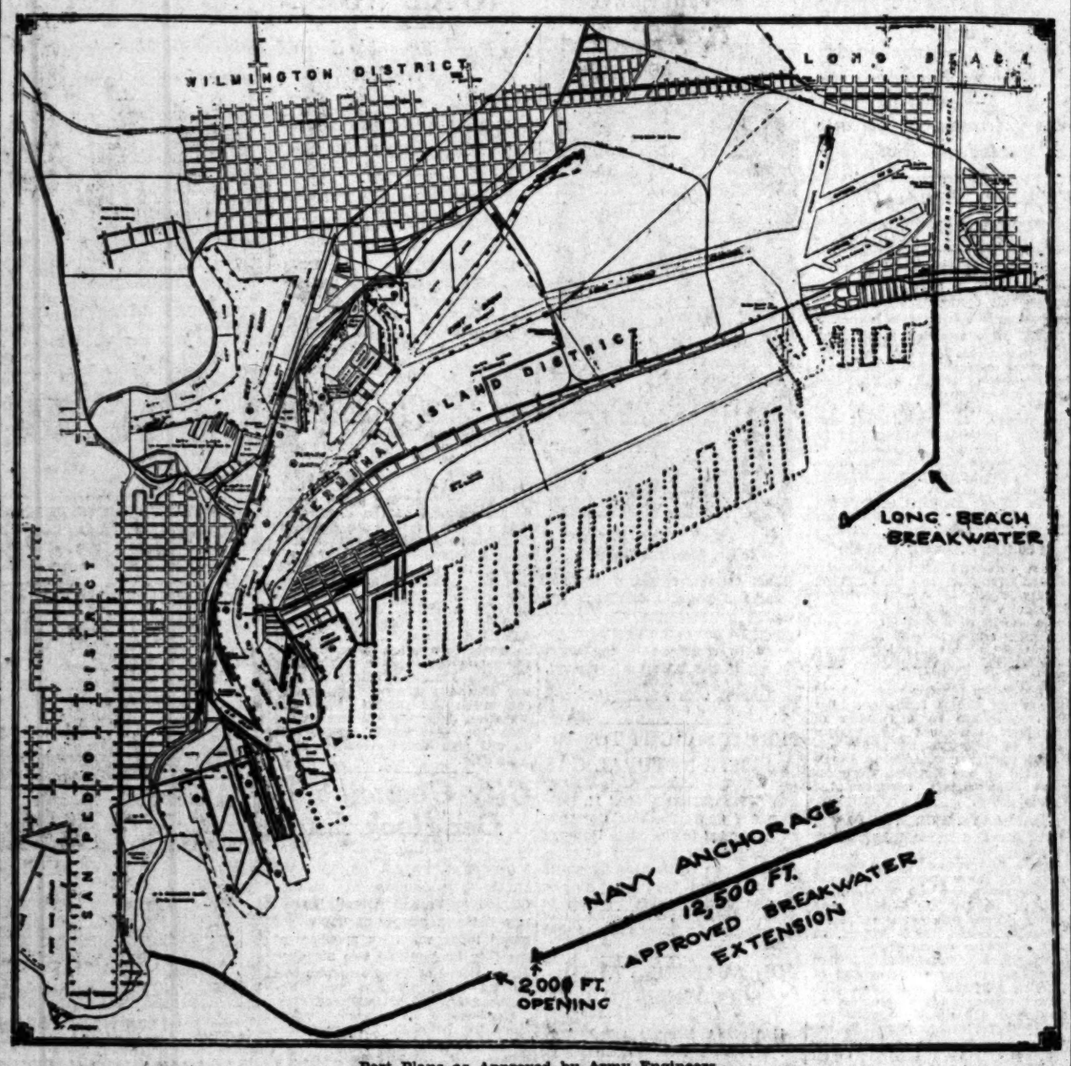
Victory Crowns Five-Year Fight for Unified Harbor



Port Plans as Approved by Army Engineers

Diagram shows location of proposed 12,500-foot breakwater, for which fund of $7,000,000 is provided in House omnibus bill, to be constructed and maintained entirely by the Federal government. An additional $1,000,000 is provided for dredging.

UNITED HARBOR PLAN APPROVED

Army Engineers Recommend Local Project

Restrictions Imposed Have Been Removed

Government to Bear Cost and Maintenance

Los Angeles, will be widened and deepened instead of being closed off. The Los Angeles Harbor dredging program, which, combined with Long Beach, will cost $1,346,000, received approval of the engineers with only two exceptions, the Fish Harbor channel and the West Basin dredging.

DREDGING WORK

While the engineers refused to approve the dredging of the West Basin, Gen Lyttle Brown, chief of the army engineers, recommended that work on channels on the northerly, easterly and parts of the westerly side should be continued. This work was authorized under the Rivers and Harbors Act of March 3, 1925, and will be carried to completion. Gen. Brown, however, recommended that on the completion of the channel dredging the maintenance of these channels be turned over to local interests.

The policy of the army board is to recommend only the dredging by the United States of main harbor channels. For that reason it did not include the dredging of the Fish Harbor channel in its list of approved projects. The city had requested that this channel be dredged to a depth of twenty-five feet.

Under the harbor program approved today the main entrance channel will be cleared of any new shoals to a depth of thirty-five feet and will be the turning basin.

The East Basin will be dredged to thirty-five feet, including the removal of an obstructing shoal, with a width of 650 feet for this depth. Cerritos Channel, opening off the East Basin and running to Long Beach inner harbor, is included in this operation. On the Long Beach side of the two cities' dividing line Cerritos Channel will be maintained to a depth of thirty-five feet but will narrow to 400 feet width.

SHOAL REMOVAL

In Long Beach Harbor the approved plans call for clearing the Long Beach turning basin at the end of Cerritos Channel to thirty-five feet. This basin is connected with the outer harbor by a channel which will be dredged to thirty-five feet deep by 300 to 500 feet wide.

Maintenance of the Long Beach breakwater south of the pier will be taken over by the United States. In the outer Los Angeles Harbor shoal will be removed from the western side of the fairway and dredged to a depth of thirty-five feet. This will entail the removal of 1,000,000 cubic yards from this section.

This debris will be used, as well as portions from other dredging operations, to form the base of the new breakwater, which will be capped with stone.

Provisions for maintenance were recommended at $125,000 annually for the dredging program and $50,000 annually for the new breakwater.

In making his recommendations for the breakwater Gen. Brown said:

BROWN RECOMMENDATIONS

"Los Angeles and Long Beach have developed a commerce which in 1929 exceeded 26,000,000 tons at Los Angeles and about 2,500,000 tons at Long Beach. The two cities have expended several millions of dollars for dredging and other works for the improvement of navigation and have made extensive terminal developments. The United States has expended large sums for the improvement of Los Angeles Harbor to meet the needs of commerce and navigation. Additional improvements have been requested by both localities.

"For the most part it appears that the conditions required to be fulfilled precedent to breakwater construction are impracticable of fulfillment. A belt-line railroad is assured, and the city of Long Beach has constructed a breakwater extending out from the shore in a manner to protect the harbors from silt brought down the diversion channel, and to provide a safe entrance to Long Beach inner harbor. The provisions of local co-operation already carried out may be considered sufficient to justify the United States in assuming the entire cost of the breakwater construction now proposed. It appears that the hard clay which can be dredged in the outer harbor is a satisfactory material for use in a breakwater of composite type. I, therefore, report that modification of the existing project is deemed advisable, so as to provide for the construction on the outer side of a detached breakwater 12,500 feet long, of composite type and of a design approved by the chief of engineers, at an estimated cost of $7,000,000, with $50,000 annually for maintenance, and for elimination from the project of the conditions of local co-operation."

FAVORABLE REPORT BRINGS JUBILATION

Harbor commissioners and officials, Councilmen and civic bodies, who have been working for years for the extension of the Los Angeles breakwater, were jubilant yesterday on receipt of the news that the chief of the board of engineers for rivers and harbors has recommended the breakwater extension and dredging program as submitted by Harbor Engineer Nicholson of this city.

Nicholson, who has been before the board of engineers for several weeks, sent the following telegram yesterday to General Manager Edwards of the harbor department:

"Chief of engineers submitted most satisfactory report on breakwater and dredging today. Recommended composite breakwater in outer location at cost of $7,000,000, at government expense. Also recommended elimination of all conditions.

"Regarding dredging, recommended outer fairway, east basin channel, Cerritos channel and Fish Harbor channel dredging at total cost of $1,346,000. Also recommended $50,000 for annual maintenance of breakwater and $125,000 annual maintenance for dredging."

PLAN DESCRIBED

The breakwater plan recommended provides for a 12,500-foot extension of the present San Pedro breakwater in a straight line until it is opposite the flood-control channel at Long Beach. The plan calls for the breakwater being on the forty-eight-foot contour, as desired by the Pacific Fleet, so that its ships may lay behind the extended breakwater for protection from seas and bad weather.

An opening of 2000 feet at the terminus of the present breakwater is provided for commercial craft and the east end of the extension is to remain open for Long Beach shipping and for the navy craft to arrive and depart.

The composite construction of the breakwater calls for a 200-foot base of hardpan and shale to be obtained from dredging operations in the outer harbor. It will be topped with granite in blocks of eight tons and over and this locked surface will cover the entire outer slope to the bottom. Beneath the fourteen-foot top the plans call for smaller-sized granite blocks for a depth of ten feet and beneath that eleven feet of quarry stone. The hard-pan base will be twenty-nine feet high at its peak and 196 feet wide.

GREAT VICTORY

President Allen of the harbor board stated that completion of this breakwater plan will enable the outer harbor and Terminal Island shores to be developed for shipping whenever expansion requires it.

Councilman Henning, of the Harbor district, declared it is a great victory for Los Angeles because all restrictions formerly asked by the government in exchange for the construction have been removed, and in addition the government is requested by the army engineers to pay for the whole breakwater, instead of half of it. The extension is as important as the construction of the original San Pedro breakwater, he said.

The dredging plans call for removal of all obstructions in the fairway to the inner harbor, widening and deepening the Cerritos channel opposite the California Yacht Club and removal of shoals and widening the channel in the East Basin, as well as a deeper entrance to Fish Harbor for the increased size of fishing craft.

The fact that the request for an appropriation for dredging in the West Basin was not approved is discounted on the ground that West Basin dredging may be accomplished at a later date, when the demand for wharf space increases.

Henning pointed out that completion of the breakwater will eliminate the necessity of asking the government for any more such work and will allow for construction of outer harbor slips, adding 239,000 lineal feet to the present 37,258 lineal feet of harbor wharves.

ADAM AND EVE TURN NEW LEAF

This Time Oft-Painted Pair Appear Sans Their Fig Suits, But First Lady Wears Hair-Ribbon, Which Raises Cain Among Able Critics

CHICAGO, April 11. (AP)—A painting of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden and nothing else except a hair ribbon has created quite an argument at the Illinois Women's Athletic Club.

The painting is by Miss Valentine Vogel of St. Louis and hangs in a special exhibit. The title is "Apres," which some one said means "after."

The purely technical criticism of Mrs. Minna Schmidt concerned the hair ribbon atop Eve's head. Mrs. Schmidt expressed serious doubt that there were hair ribbons in those days.

The picture shows the first man and the first woman in red silhouette against a green sky. Eve is facing the camera. Adam is peering toward the horizon.

It is the idea of Mrs. Charles Peterson, chairman of the club's art salon, that the picture represents the awakening of womanhood, or something of the sort. It is the opinion of Mrs. Bessie Bragg Pierce, president, that a hair ribbon is inadequate attire. She feels that as long as Eve was buying ribbon she might as well have bought some more.

The deep shade of red in which the silhouettes are painted also caused comment. It could hardly have been intended for sunburn, the ladies agree. Mrs. Emily Lundgreen thinks the artist's intent was that the pair were "blushing all over."

The club has been unable to decide whether to banish the work from the salon, much as Adam and Eve were banished from the garden. In the meantime, the artist, Miss Vogelfi who is 24 years of age, says that if her picture is ruled out then half the pictures in the Art Institute ought to be ruled out, too.

EVANSVILLE (Ind.) April 11. (Exclusive)—J. W. McMullin, alias J. C. Dillon, captured here recently by William Gilmore, who had trailed him more than 7000 miles to meet him by accident in a restaurant here, will be taken back to Moab, Utah, by a deputy sheriff to face charges of embezzlement growing out of his promoting an asserted fake gold mine. Gilmore, who was to have taken his quarry back to Utah, is ill at the home of relatives at Segler, Ill., and unable to make the trip.

Gilmore, who had been one of McMullen's asserted victims, was troubled because he had persuaded some of his friends to sink money in the wildcat scheme and sought to capture McMullen to vindicate his name, he told officers here.

Two Other Persons Shot as Seven Desperadoes Obtain $10,000 in Hold-up

PIQUA (O.) April 11. (AP)—Seven bank robbers armed with machine guns and repeating rifles killed, one man wounded and two others in a running fight through city streets today after they had robbed the Citizens' National Bank and Trust Company of $10,000.

While four robbers were looting the cages in the bank, an employee stepped on a burglar alarm and aroused the city. Alexander opened fire on the robbers as they left the bank. More than 100 rounds of shots were fired through the loan company windows.

Matthews was standing in front of his store when the robbers opened fire. A bullet struck him in the breast and he died in a hospital.

JEFFERSON PLAN AIDED BY HOOVER

Celebration of Tomorrow as Religious Freedom Day Gets President's Support

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—The Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation today announced receipt of a telegram from President Hoover indorsing its plan to observe Jefferson's birthday this year as religious freedom day.

"The noteworthy and most unusual coincidence," the message said, "that the religious holy days known as Palm Sunday and Passover both occur this year on the birthday of Thomas Jefferson makes it indeed appropriate that the anniversary on April 13 is to be observed educationally and patriotically with special emphasis on the founding of religious freedom.

"Jefferson's contribution together with that of the other fathers of the republic, to the famous statute for religious freedom, and his lifelong championship of that principle, decisively helped to fix it permanently in the national policy with results beneficient beyond calculation.

"It is useful to recall these benefits and to renew their sanctions in the general conscience of mankind."

TIGER'S VOLUME FLAYS OLD FOE

New Clemenceau Book Will be Out Today

Foch, Pershing and Wilson Get Berating

America Accused of Being Materially Greedy

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—George Clemenceau's last sharp retort to his late antagonist, Marshal Ferdinand Foch, will be published in book form here tomorrow under the title "Grandeur and Misery of Victory."

Writing beside his death-bed, the French Tiger has taken the ghost of the Allies' generalissimo to task for "recriminations and abuse" and accused America of greedy materialism.

The Treaty of Versailles, to the war-time Minister of France, who died only recently on completion of this final book, was mutilated by America's "separate peace."

President Wilson is seen as a visionary, with an insufficient knowledge of Europe to carry out his ideology.

And Gen. Pershing comes in for comment for what Clemenceau called a "fanatical determination to delay the arrival of the Star-Spangled Banner on the battlefield."

For this delay in the employment of the American forces, Clemenceau largely blamed Foch's "hesitancies and temperings of authority."

"The marshal," he wrote, "had the power to command. On his own admission he preferred to 'suggest.'"

PERSHING PERSISTENT

It was largely on the reputation Foch made at the battle of the Yser, which checked a German advance in 1914, that Clemenceau, as Minister of War, recommended the marshal in April, 1918, for the supreme command of the Allied armies. He took command April 14.

Then the "rather serious disagreement with Gen. Pershing" developed.

"The American troops," Clemenceau said, "in the first rank as far as bravery is concerned, were first and foremost excellent soldiers in a state of mere improvisation."

During the spring of 1918, Clemenceau said, he importuned Gen. Pershing to send into action in the French ranks "the first American contingents that they considered sufficiently trained so as to relieve us as much as possible at the sharpest pinch of such a crisis of man power as our armies had never known before."

But Pershing "owed it to the romantic side of America's intervention to form a self-contained American army, a duty I never failed to acknowledge.

PRESIDENT WILSON

"His government, his country, his army even, kept him in suspense, and the more I insisted the more the American general resisted."

As for President Wilson, "he acted to the very best of his abilities in circumstances the origins of which had escaped him and whose ulterior developments lay beyond his men."

Col. Edward House he saw as "a super-civilized person escaped from the wilds of Texas, who sees everything, who understands everything and, while never doing anything but what he thinks fit, knows how to gain the ear and respect of everybody," and "Mr. Hoover, who was conspicuous for the stiffness of the man whose nerves are at the end of their tether."

In France, Clemenceau concluded, "the vital spark is gone. Our Allies, dis-allied, have contributed largely to this result and we have never done anything to deter them. England in various guises has gone back to her old policy of strife on the continent, and America, prodigiously enriched by the war, is presenting us with a tradesman's account that does more honor to her greed than to her self-respect.

"At the same time she is a thorn in the side of England, who can no longer aspire to the dominion of the seas under the pretext of 'freedom.' All the new Central Europe is in a state of turmoil as a result of the recrudescence of violent activity on the part of a Germany, who, with the unwitting help of the English and Americans, is preparing to start on another criminal venture before she has expiated the last."

"Above all," he warns America, "do not be so ingenuous as to believe that you will disarm, by methods of persuasion, the powers who see you strengthening against every eventuality your means of defence, which might turn into means of aggression."

"'Grandeur and Misery of Victory,'" is published in this country by Harcourt, Brace & Co., and was carried in part by Collier's Weekly, which holds joint copyright for the United States."

WARNERS FORM GERMAN TIE-UP

Share in Tobis Klangfilm Patents Purchased

Connection Gives European Rights for "Talkies"

Concern Enjoys Monopoly of Sound Effects at Home

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—Arrangements have been concluded between Warner Brothers Pictures and the Tobis Klangfilm group, the dominant motion-picture interests in Germany, for the acquisition by Warner Brothers of a substantial interest in Tobis Klangfilm patents and licenses for talking pictures throughout the world, with the exception of the United States, Canada and Newfoundland.

The Tobis Klangfilm interests occupy an exclusive position in regard to the production and licensing of talking pictures in Germany and Switzerland and an important position in other European countries, including England, where the group is endeavoring to establish an exclusive position through litigation now pending.

This acquisition will facilitate expansion of Warner Brothers' European business, in Germany particularly, where the situation has been unsatisfactory to American film producers since Western Electric apparatus was excluded as infringing Tobis Klangfilm patents.

LEGION HEAD ASKS MORE HOSPITALS

Bodenhamer Says Jails Now Used for Housing Disabled Veterans

TUCSON (Ariz.) April 11. (AP)—National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer of the American Legion told Legionnaires at a public meeting here tonight that disabled World War veterans are being cared for in jails because there are no facilities for them in hospitals.

"The time element in the World War was paramount," Commander Bodenhamer said. "A week's delay there might have meant the loss of a battle, but weeks have lengthened into years for many of the men who laid their health on the altar of their country's defense. . . . Now the time element again plays a part. For these men a week's delay in securing proper treatment may mean the loss of another battle for them—the difference between restitution to their rightful places in society or the sinking into the gulf from which there is no return."

Seventy-one veterans, Mr. Bodenhamer estimated, die each day. "Seventy-one more have been added today," he said. "Those men died on the field of honor just as surely as did those who fell on Flanders field."

John Fox and Bride Reply to Bennett Suit

SEATTLE, April 11. (AP)—Separate answers to Joan Bennett's nonsupport suit against John Marion Fox and his bride, Polly Perkins Fox, were placed on file in Superior Court here today, both answers denying the Hollywood motion-picture actress' charges.

In her answer Mrs. Polly Perkins Fox reiterates her contention, recently denied in Superior Court, that she is not liable for promises of payment exacted from her husband prior to her marriage with him, and that the community estate of the two is no more liable to the debt than she alone.

Fox, in his answer denies the actress charges that he is indebted to Miss Bennett for the care of his daughter Adrienne. Miss Bennett also sought in her suit to assure the continued payment of support money for the child.

DOUBT CLOUDS LATEST PLANET

Yerkes Man Has New Theory on Unnamed Body

Believes it Not Same World Found by Lowell

Sphere May Have Density of Solid Platinum

WILLIAMS BAY (Wis.) April 11. (AP)—Dr. Edwin B. Frost, director of Yerkes Observatory, today said that unless the recently discovered and unnamed planet has a density approximating that of platinum, it is doubtful whether it is the one forecast twenty-five years ago by Prof. Percival Lowell.

Search for the planet began, he said, after Prof. Lowell predicted some unknown body or bodies exerted a gravity influence that pulled Uranus from its calculated orbit.

The Yerkes Observatory was one of the first to photograph and study the unnamed planet. While the body had not yet been measured accurately because of interfering atmospheric conditions, Dr. Frost said it is agreed the planet appears to be about the size of the earth. A body of earth size and density, he said, could not pull Uranus from its orbit to the extent of its present perturbation.

If the unnamed planet is responsible for the Uranus pull, he said, the body must have a heavy density, approaching that of platinum. Dr. Frost said it is possible this planet is merely one of a series of undiscovered bodies whose combined gravity-pull would account for the effect upon Uranus.

He said observations at Yerkes indicate the plane of the unnamed planet is tipped to about a fifteen-degree angle, differing from those of Uranus and Neptune, which are about the same as that of the earth. Until more perfect observation is possible, he said, positive statements are impossible.

NEW PLANET ABOUT 3,807,000,000 MILES AWAY

BERKELEY, April 11. (Exclusive)—Preliminary investigations of the orbit of the new planet reported by Lowell Observatory, completed at the students' observatory at the University of California here, give a distance for the object of approximately forty-one astronomical units or forty-one times the distance of the earth from the sun, which, expressed in miles would be about 3,807,000,000.

This announcement was made today by Prof. A. O. Leuschner, director of the students' observatory, following the completion of work by E. C. Bower and F. L. Whipple, fellows in astronomy, under Prof. Leuschner's direction.

DELAY FOR CAMPAIGN FUNDS QUIZ

Johnson Causes Hold-up Announcing He Cannot Accept Chairmanship

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—The Senate's inquiry into the campaign chests of Senatorial candidates was delayed today with the announcement by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, that his many other duties will forbid his acceptance of the chairmanship of the investigating committee.

Informed of Senator Johnson's decision, Vice-President Curtis deferred selection of a successor. Meanwhile, other members appointed by the Vice-President are marking time and some intimate their decision to serve will depend on the selection of a chairman.

Other members appointed to the committee are Senators Goldsborough, Maryland, and Patterson, Missouri, Republicans; and Pittman, Nevada, and Wagner, New York, Democrats.

Selection of a successor to Johnson is restricted by the limitation in the investigating resolution that no member shall serve on the committee in whose State a Senatorial election is to be held this year.

Denver Want Ad Holds Final Chapter on Mine

Famous Smuggler Gave Up $50,000,000 in Ore

Story of Blood and Death Linked to History

DENVER, April 11. (AP)—Between the lines of an inch or so of type appearing back in the want-ad section of Denver newspapers today there lies the story of blood spilled in a booming mining town, $50,000,000 in gold, and the activity of Harry Payne Whitney, famous sportsman, and his associates.

The unobtrusive advertisement gives official notice of the dissolution of the Smuggler-Union Mining Company, once a name to be conjured with in the State of Colorado.

SHREWD CLAIM FILED

Years ago one John Fallon wandered into the San Miguel country on the western slope of the Rockies and near where the declining town of Telluride now stands he staked out the mine in which he uncovered the famous Sheridan vein, reputed to have yielded $50,000,000 in gold. J. B. Ingram was among the prospectors who followed him. Ingram, a shrewd mining man, measured the claim of Fallon and the one next to it and found each was 500 feet longer than the law allowed. He promptly staked out his claim and called it the Smuggler.

History in the San Miguel country was made rapidly. Telluride was founded. Other miners came and other mines were opened. Men grew rich overnight and lost their wealth at the gaming tables.

EXTRACTED FORTUNE

It is not certain what became of Ingram, but he sold the famed Smuggler in 1883 after extracting a fortune from it. The new owners, a British syndicate, operated the mine for a number of years and then leased it.

The Smuggler-Union made its appearance then. It was owned by Whitney and H. W. Livermore of Boston, and the latter's son, Robert P. Livermore, became the company's chief engineer.

BLOOD AND DEATH

Ill-luck pursued the company. It paid only one dividend during the thirty years it operated, despite the fact that millions were reported to have been taken from the mine.

Labor troubles arose in 1901 and the Governor of the State threatened to mobilize the militia after a bloody encounter there. Arthur L. Collins, mine manager, was shot by an unidentified assassin in 1902.

For many years activity at the mine diminished and finally ceased altogether. The famous Smuggler-Union is now abandoned.

STEEL DEAL OPPONENTS PLAN FIGHT

Court Battle Promised as Youngstown Ratifies Merger With Bethlehem

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) April 11. (AP) The $1,000,000,000 battle of industrial giants reached a climax here late today when Youngstown Sheet and Tube stockholders ratified merger of their company with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

But opponents of the merger immediately announced that "the fight has just begun."

Announcement of the merger was made by inspectors at a stockholders' meeting, which a few minutes before had been thrown into a turmoil when J. M. Wolfe, Sheet and Tube safety director, ordered the doors closed, holding stockholders, attorneys, company officials and newspaper reporters prisoner.

The vote for the merger was 857,621 shares, 799,741 shares being necessary to assure it. The election inspectors did not indicate how many shares were protested or how many shares were voted against the merger.

Merger opponents will base their future court fights on a list of 91,000 shares, which, they announced, have been protested.

Under terms of the merger agreement, Bethlehem will begin taking over Sheet and Tube immediately.

La Esposa del Juez Tiene que Someterse al Reglamento del Juzgado

REDWOOD CITY, Abril 11.—El alguacil Meeks ha impuesto aquí la observancia de la disposición que obliga a todos los espectadores a quitarse el sombrero en el juzgado.

El juez superior Dooling, de Hollister, presidía el tribunal como visitador, y el alguacil Meeks atendía, como de costumbre, a su cometido, cuando una elegante señora entró en la sala del juzgado y se sentó. Como ignorara la disposición sobre sombreros, pronto atrajo las miradas de Meeks, quien se las dirigía muy severas, y le hacía señas de que se descubriera. Todo lo que consiguió fue una mirada glacial de la espectadora. Se dirigió de puntillas a donde ésta se encontraba y le hizo conocer la disposición.

"Pero si no voy a estar aquí más que unos minutos", arguyó ella.

"Quítese usted el sombrero, o abandone la sala", le dijo Meeks bruscamente. Y la visitante se salió indignada.

"Se levanta la audiencia por cinco minutos", dijo el juez Dooling, que había seguido con la vista el breve drama, y salió aprisa al corredor tras de la señora.

"Espéreme un minuto, querida mía", fueron las palabras del juez, que todos oyeron, y que revelaron al alguacil Meeks lo penoso de la situación.

"Bueno", dijo; "el reglamento es el reglamento . . ."

"There is not a word of truth in y statement made," Multer de- ared, "and sending out such mat- r over a fictitious name not only illegal but a low-down trick. Even I desired to answer such an at- k, there is not enough time left do it, and the letters did not pear until the last opportunity answer through the local press d passed. The cars were parked outside of the Saticoy schoolhouse, where the weekly session of the Ventura county chapter of the American Institute of Banking was being held.

WITNESSES FAIL TO SPEAK

Petition Asserting Baby Girl Not Receiving Proper Care from Parents, Denied by Ventura Court

VENTURA, April 11.—Petition asserting that the 8-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Taylor is neither receiving the proper care nor in the proper environment was denied in Juvenile Court by Judge Edward Henderson because of lack of evidence.

According to County Probation Officer Clay Claberg, witnesses summoned by the authorities, after giving the officers information which would probably lead to granting the petition, refused to so testify when put on the witness stand. There was nothing for the court to do but deny the petition, Claberg declared, and allow the parents to keep the child.

The dispute arose when the Taylor couple forcefully took the child last week from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shaw, where the child had been left by them several months ago.

Taylor said today that he will appeal a sentence of sixty days and $160, or six months in jail, which he received in City Court from Judge Mellandt this morning on the charge of stealing $60 worth of clothing from Miss Adah Anderson on the 6th inst., the morning he is said to have taken the child.

Redlands Squad Returns From Debating Tour

REDLANDS, April 11.—Prof. E. R. Nichols and the University of Redlands eastern debate squad are being warmly welcomed back to the university campus after a successful invasion of the East, having won high honors at the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta, held at Wichita, Kan.

PROF. E. R. NICHOLS

In the national debate tournament the Redlands team, composed of John Ackley and Roy McCall, received third place in competition with ninety-six picked schools of the United States. John King, representative in the National Oratorical Contest, was one of six students to reach the finals. Edwin Espey, extempore representative, and who holds the silver loving cup awarded the champion extempore speaker for the universities and colleges of Southern California, missed the finals by only one point.

On the return trip the Redlands men met Weber College at Ogden, Utah, and Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah, winning three-to-nothing decisions in both instances. Their record of victories on the trip to the convention illustrates why they were able to make such splendid showing at the actual conference. The University of Redlands has always ranked high at the Pi Kappa Delta convention, but Coach Nichols says of the present squad, "It is probably the best all-around team I have ever coached."

Executors Deposit Final Papers With County Clerk at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, April 11.—Final account of executors of the estate of John D. Spreckels was filed with the County Clerk today, showing a cash balance in the bank of $1,109,459.40 after distribution of the bulk.

The report, contained in fifty or more closely typed pages, details assets of the estate appraised at $16,-074,354.79, with total receipts of $10,-133,478.06 and it states that the Internal Revenue Bureau of the United States is demanding additional income taxes in the following amounts, respectively, for the years 1927, 1928 and 1929: $625,968.55, $91,227.90, $164,092.50, to a total of $881,288.95.

For this reason it will be necessary to make provision for payment of such additional taxes and interest thereon in event it is finally determined the taxes claimed are due and payable, the executors declare.

They express intention to retain control of $250,000 for the purpose. Claus Spreckels, son, and Lillie Wegeforth, daughter, each sold all claim and interest in the estate to the Crocker First Federal Trust Company, which received such shares of the heirs in 1928, the report states. The report is signed by Claus Spreckels, Grace Hamilton, Alexander Hamilton, Walter D. K. Gibson and William H. Hannam, as executors.

Man Sues City of Los Angeles for Large Sum

SANTA BARBARA, April 11.—Asserting that his home was destroyed and that he was severely injured when the St. Francis Dam in the Santa Clara River broke on March 13, 1928, Walter H. Coffer, a resident of Ventura county, filed an action in Superior Court here today asking $25,000 damages from the city of Los Angeles and the department of water and power of that city.

He asserts that he was swept down the stream with the flood from the broken reservoir, that he received in addition to bodily injuries severe head injuries which caused him to be sent to the Patton State Hospital from January to October of last year. He also adds that the shock of the experience in the water affected his mentality.

Coffer avers that he petitioned the city of Los Angeles for relief on July 21, 1928, but without avail, the claim having been rejected in toto.

MARICOPA ROAD FUNDS PROVIDED

Appropriation of $150,000 Additional Made

Federal Bureau of Public Roads Keeps Pledge

Work Rushed to Complete Northern Section

VENTURA, April 11.—Appropriation of an additional $150,000 for the Maricopa Highway by the United States Bureau of Public Roads has been made known by B. B. Meek, State Director of Public Works, it was learned here.

According to County Engineer Charles Petit, who is also chief engineer for the tricounty board in charge of the Maricopa project, the total sum represents the government's full promised share in the construction of the artery.

FUNDS TOTAL $250,000

At the outset, Petit said, it was asked that the Federal government pay an equal amount to that put up by the State. The State has set aside $250,000 for the road, and the $150,000 just appropriated by the Federal bureau brings its total to $250,000, with the $100,000 already appropriated.

Petit also declared that the proposed branch of the Maricopa Highway which is to connect Ojai and Carpinteria, probably will be asked as a State secondary highway at the June meeting of Supervisors of the thirteen Southern California counties. This strip, about fifteen miles long, will run either over the Casitas or Murietta passes, according to a decision to be made by the tricounty board. In either event, Petit asserted, the road will be asked to be included in the bill to go before the next session of the Legislature, asking that nearly 600 miles of road in the southern part of the State be declared secondary highways.

SECTION NEARS COMPLETION

The northern-most section, two and one-half miles long, of the Maricopa Road which connects it with the Santa Maria-Maricopa road, is being rushed to completion, according to word received here today from Ventucopa. This will give twenty-two miles of completed highway on that end of the project.

A check on cars, made Sunday, the 6th inst., showed 198 cars passed over the new highway at Ventucopa.

SWAIN GETS PEEVED AT "DITCHING"

Pasadena Youth Forces 'Other Man' to Curb When Girl Foresakes His Car

PASADENA, April 11.—When his girl companion tried to "ditch a date" with him by jumping into a rival's automobile Thomas J. Malley, 26 years of age, of 113 South Avenue 63, became so irate that he forced the other swain's automobile into the curb, Malley admitted to police who arrested him on a charge of disturbing the peace today.

Miss Florence Garfield, 21, of 1080 North Allen avenue, reported to police detectives yesterday that a strange man had jumped from an automobile and threatened her with bodily injury unless she entered his automobile.

According to Miss Garfield's report, Malley chased her while she was riding in a machine driven by Robert Lindsay, Jr., of 306 West Mountain street, and forced them against the curb at Oakland avenue and Colorado street.

Following his arrest, Malley is reported to have told Police Sergeant Joseph Nicoll that he had been riding with Miss Garfield for more than two hours when she suddenly jumped from his automobile and jumped into Lindsay's car.

Malley was released on his own recognizance and his case set for Monday in the local Police Court.

Inquest Fails to Learn How Man Met Death

SAN DIEGO, April 11.—Unable to solve the mystery surrounding the death one week ago of Henry Smithwick, 46-year-old tourist, a Coroner's jury today held that Smithwick came to his death from concussion of the brain and partial suffocation administered under circumstances unknown.

The official verdict brings the case no nearer to solution than it was one week ago, when Smithwick was dragged from the waters of San Diego Bay near the foot of Fifth avenue. Nine witnesses, including Dr. J. J. Shea, county autopsy surgeon; Jerry Lightner, police detective, and E. J. Anderson, a taxi driver who gave Smithwick his last ride, were called to testify. Dr. Shea told the jury that Smithwick had concussion of the brain and a condition of the lungs which indicated he had been suffocated. There were a number of abrasions on the face and forehead, the physician testified.

JUDGE GETS "CALLED" ON BOAST FROM BENCH

SANTA BARBARA, April 11. Judge Pat Parker, a cow country judge from Mono county, who tosses a "mean but accurate" horseshoe, has a caller. Not a visitor, but a "caller," and Justice of the Peace Thomas Poole doesn't mean maybe.

Judge Parker made a remark in the court today that he was a good horseshoe pitcher and not to be egotistic at all, but only to be assertive, the judge added the crack that he "Could trim any other judge in the State, including Justice Poole downstairs."

Now the justice of the peace may be on the first floor in the lower court when it comes to handing out justice in the Courthouse, but just because Judge Parker administers his law on the second floor in the higher court is no reason at all for arriving at such a conclusion about horseshoe pitching, Justice of Peace Poole believes.

So the two learned law administrators are to try their hand at horseshoe throwing. The date for the event has not been definitely set but, Justice of the Peace Poole has dared Judge Parker to prove his statements and Judge Parker says he is going to.

The trip was made to further cement friendships between local business men and those of the cities visited.

Factories Shun Valley Because of Sewer Needs

VAN NUYS, April 11.—It is stated here today that work on the extension of the main sewer line across San Fernando Valley from east to west is to start sooner than expected, and with funds from the 1922 bond issue instead of the original plan of carrying out the improvement by means of assessing property. There is now available for the work about $1,000,000 remaining from the old fund.

The Board of Public Works, which will have jurisdiction over the improvement, will have the final and definite say when the work will start. Edgar A. Elkins, who is a member of the board and a Van Nuys resident, is anxious that the sewer line work begin and probably will have much to do to start quick action. The establishment of sewers in various sections of San Fernando Valley is of vital importance.

Time and again prospective industry officials have come into the valley for the purpose of establishing factories and plants of various sorts. Most of them have departed after casual investigation with the statement that they could do nothing, indicating that factories would soon become a nuisance to health without the proper means of sewage disposal.

Destruction of the old institution will not be carried out until the new edifice is finished, Superintendent of School Melrowe Martin said today, in giving an account of the changes in the elementary grades set-up, which will follow the new building plan.

Next September the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be moved from the Plaza School to Lincoln School, where they will be taught, in addition to their present studies, "cooking and shop," for which there is no room at the Plaza building.

Man Leaves Car; Picked Up Later Dazed and Hurt

LAGUNA BEACH, April 11.—Returning from San Diego last night in a car driven by J. F. Patterson, salesman of the J. A. Cornelius organization, 802 Beach street, Los Angeles, E. J. Doyle, about 65 years of age, wealthy easterner, and Patterson got out of the machine on the Coast Highway near Emerald Bay. In the darkness Doyle wandered away and was picked up an hour later by a passing motorist one and a half miles north of the place where the car stopped. He was unconscious and cut and bruised about the face and head as though he had been struck by a machine and thrown forward on the pavement as he was walking on the highway.

G. S. Tallmandge of 342½ Elizabeth avenue, Glendale, found Doyle and called to Paul Noonan of this city for help. Noonan went for Chief of Police Johnson who took the injured man to the Laguna Hospital. When he came to he was dazed and seemed to know nothing of what had happened. He is still in the hospital in a stupid condition.

That day Doyle had purchased avocado land valued at $8500 in San Diego county and was on his way to Los Angeles where he is stopping at 5165 St. Andrews Place in that city. Two women were riding in the car, one was a client of Patterson's, the other was the owner of the apartment-house where Doyle was stopping.

Officers are investigating the case to find out what happened to Doyle and who is responsible, or whether he lost his way and wandered on the highway and was accidentally struck by a passing motorist.

Twenty-four Hours' Inquiry Fails to Elicit Clew

VENTURA, April 11.—Twenty-four hours of investigation by failed to produce the slightest clu to the cause of injuries suffered last night by George C. Bouthinon, 48 years of age, wealthy retired Minneapolis auto parts manufacturer. Bouthinon was found about 10:30 p.m. near a Southern Pacific railroad crossing at Oxnard by a railroad employee. Three fingers had been severed from one of his hands and two from the other. He was removed to the County Hospital here.

Deputy sheriffs have not been able to get anything from the man, except that he was walking along the road when a train hit him and kept on going. Officers and hospital attaches cast doubt upon the story, however, as his clothing was said to have been in normal condition and nothing but his injured hands indicated an accident.

His wife was notified late today at their home, 853-A Seventh street, Santa Monica, and was expected here tonight. She is said to have told Santa Monica officers that her husband recently was a patient in an eastern sanatorium as the result of a nervous breakdown and had seemed melancholy.

Bouthinon had been reported missing from Los Angeles since Monday when his disappearance was disclosed by J. V. Douglas of Hollywood. Douglas informed police that Bouthinon had left his automobile at 2986 Wilshire Boulevard to be cleaned and polished, but vanished.

Sharp Curves in Topanga Canyon to Lose Danger

GIRARD, April 11.—County surveyor B. P. Sewell today reported that the improvement now being made in Topanga Canyon will reduce the number of curves in the famous scenic roadway from 30 to 69 and cut the mileage in the canyon under the direction of the county from 12.02 to 9.90 miles. The mileage under the city's jurisdiction also will be reduced in the improvements made by the city.

On the San Fernando Valley side of the mountain range forty curves will be eliminated. The county and the city are working together in the repaving and widening of the highway, and when all work is completed the distance between the valley and the ocean will be materially shortened, and many hazardous turns in the road done away with.

The Topanga Canyon highway is one of the most beautiful in Southern California. Thousands of motorists use it on week days and Sundays for quick transit between inland sections and the sea.

Oil Worker Says He Landed 383-Pound Sea Bass With Iron Pipe; Wharf Angler Gets 200-Pounder, and Now Two Guys Will Walk on Water. Next!

SANTA BARBARA, April 11. A. Morton, oil-well worker, claims the world's title for bare-handed heavyweight fishing since he battled a 383-pound sea bass in the surf near El Capitan, thirty miles west of here, and landed it with the aid of only an iron bar.

According to this biggest fish story, Morton was inspecting a tideland well when he discerned a huge fish floundering in the breakers just off shore. He grabbed a small iron pipe and went into a tussle with the finny monster. He battered and he hammered and he pulled. He went back after a longer piece of iron bar, and with more tusseling, jabbing and pulling, landed the 383-pound sea bass high and dry on the beach.

Then to top off the day's fish stories, Fred Ober caught a 200-pound sea bass from Stearn's wharf in the harbor, and A. N. Sheldon and William Leal, both of Ventura, announced they would walk on the water in the harbor this Sunday. Both men have the newly designed water skiis and will give an exhibition here.

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 11. (AP)—The University of Washington triumphed over the University of California here today in one on the most thrilling regattas ever held here by winning all three races in the twenty-second annual renewal of the aquatic feud between the two schools.

COACH AL ULBRICKSON

Winning in the last few yards, the Washington varsity climaxed the day by defeating its California rival which had come north to repeat victories of the past three years.

The Washington lead was only five feet in this race.

Previously the Washington javee crew had outclassed the California second crew by 9 1-4 lengths, and the Husky freshmen had defeated the Bear babes by 4 1-2 to 5 lengths.

Times of all three races were slow due to head wind which also ruffled the water.

The varsity time was 17m. 46s., almost two minutes slower than the course record. The javee time was 18m. 37s. and the freshman time over a two-mile course was 12m. 17.4s.

The Washington victories were somewhat of an upset. Russ Nagler, California freshman coach, intimated that his charges would win without doubt. The other California coaches did not openly predict victory, but were plainly optimistic.

The varsity race was a thriller from the start. California got off to a better beginning and at one time during the race had a lead of half a boat length, or about thirty feet. It was not until the final spurt that the race was won. Washington seemed to have more power in reserve as the shells shot into the last half-mile. Both shells increased their strokes, but the Washington boat forged gradually ahead and emerged a winner.

Perfect weather except for the wind, had attracted about 100,000 spectators, who lined the shores of Lake Washington.

ORSATTI ON HOSPITAL LIST

ST. LOUIS, April 11. (AP)—Ernest Orsatti, St. Louis Cardinal right fielder, suffered a fracture of the fibula when he was injured sliding into third base in a game with Rochester at Bradenton, Fla., Dr. Robert F. Hyland revealed today upon return home of the Cardinals from spring training. Dr. Hyland said Orsatti would not be available for duty for several weeks.

BEARS MEET OLYMPIC CLUB ON BERKELEY TRACK TODAY

BERKELEY, April 11.—The University of California track team meets the Olympic Club today, their chances of victory still further diminished by injuries developed last week at Seattle—injuries which stubbornly refuse to yield to treatment.

Three Bears, a shot putter, a hurdler and a broad jumper, are definitely out of the meet and may not even be in shape to compete against Stanford on April 19. They are Fred DeBerry, with a broken blood vessel in his shot-putting hand; Garland Smith, with a leg strained from jumping, and Tom Werdel, who has an ankle injury, bane of all hurdlers.

Coach Walter Christie, "Old Master," after holding high hopes for his team in the early season, now says that he is able to give his men but 45 points at the outside tomorrow. And that figure, he avers, is reached only by giving them all the breaks. First places he awards to "Spud" Moesman in the mile, Capt. Al Pogolotti in the hurdles—perhaps—and possibly also to either Curtice or Churchill in the javelin. The rest will have to subsist on a meager diet of seconds and thirds—mostly thirds, at that.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA FAVORED OVER CARDS

Cromwell's Team Given Margin of Anywhere From 10 to 20 Points; Hec Dyer May Win Furlong

BY BRAVEN DYER

The track classic of the Pacific Coast comes off at Patterson Field, Eagle Rock, this afternoon when Stanford and Southern California, the nation's greatest dual meet teams, clash in their Hostilities commence at 2:30 o'clock and before the afternoon's program is completed there should be plenty of surprises for no competition between Dink Templeton and Dean Cromwell, two of the outstanding coaches in the country, could be anything else but.

DEAN CROMWELL

Southern California has had rather poor success beating Templeton's teams during the last ten years. In fact, Troy's lone victory during that period was scored four seasons back and ever since then S.C. followers have been clamoring long and loudly for a track triumph.

S.C. FAVORED

It is this writer's opinion that Cromwell's squad will win by a margin of between 10 and 20 points, but that Templeton, true to his past reputation, will uncork a few surprises.

Certain it is that if the Trojans don't win today they might as well give up trying. The stage was never more appropriately set for an S.C. triumph, and any postponement of victory until "next year" is apt to be disastrous, for Stanford is counting heavily on the present frosh team, rated the greatest first-year aggregation in Cardinal history.

"What will the score be tomorrow?" the writer asked Templeton yesterday.

"My dope sheet shows 84 to 47," was Dink's reply. He did not state which team would win, but it was taken for granted that Templeton, while hoping for the best, does not look for a Stanford triumph. Eighty-four points is practically Troy's maximum; 47 Stanford's minimum.

I rather judge that Dink will

BRUINS IN TRACKFEST HERE TODAY

Fresno State Teachers' College to Perform Against U.C.L.A.

Slightly favored for victory in the advance dope, Coach Harry Trotter's U.C.L.A. tracksters will attempt to maintain its undefeated record this afternoon against the potent Fresno State Teachers' College squad. The meet will be held on the Westwood oval, and is slated to start at 2 o'clock.

HARRY TROTTER

Second and third-place strength is expected to pull the Bruins through to victory this afternoon, since the first-place material seems to be quite evenly divided. Several outstanding men are among those present on each team, and the public is promised a number of spectacular duels on the oval.

"Chuck" Smith, stellar sophomore sprinter, is undefeated in both the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash so far this year, but he will be hard pressed to collect a double vic-

ANGELS AGAIN DEFEAT DUCKS

Statz's Hit in Ninth Gives Seraphs 6-5 Victory

Ken Williams Wallops Pair of Portland Homers

Peters' Relief Mound Work Stops Beaver Attack

BY BOB RAY

With the undertakers' slogan of "We'll get you in the end" as their battle cry, Jack Lelivelt's ambling Angels made it four straight over Portland by nosing out the Beavers, 6 to 5, in the ninth inning of yesterday's Wrigley Field thriller.

BILL PETERS

Jigger Statz, the fleet-footed Seraph center fielder, provided the wallop that broke up the ball game and punctured some high-powered Portland strategy when he clouted out a long one to deep left field and sent Frank Sigafoos scampering home with the winning run. Sigafoos had tripled with one away in the ninth and Skipper Larry Woodall decided that the best thing Leo Chesterfield could do was to walk Harper and Jacobs, filling the bases, and take a chance on Statz's hitting into a double play or at least force Siggy at the plate. But Statz had other plans and his drive over Williams's head would have been good for two bases and three runs had the occasion demanded.

The Ducks scored all five of their runs in the first two innings, thanks to a couple of home run pokes by Ken Williams, the Grants Pass apple knocker, and looked for all the world as though they were going to break into the win column. But Sheriff Bill Peters, the blushing Seraph southpaw, stopped the Ducks right in their web-footed tracks after the second and cashed in on a well-earned victory. Peters replaced Augie Walsh in the first round and responded with a noble exhibition of relief hurling that probably will win him a chance to start regularly.

GREAT MAILS CHASED

Walsh wasn't the only hurler to falter, "The Great" Mails being batted shower-ward by Cherub war clubs in the fifth when the Home Guards came from behind to knot the count. Chesterfield replaced the great one and pitched shutout ball until the ninth when Sigafoos and Statz ganged on him to nullify his previous fine efforts.

Yesterday's victory cinched the opening series for the Seraphs and left them unbeaten and unbowed, while all the other teams have lost at least two games.

In an effort to bring the Ducks out of the wilderness of defeat, Carl Mays, the celebrated submariner who pitched and lost Tuesday's opener, has

DEFEATS MISS LAWSON IN THRILLING FINAL, 4 AND 3

Battling Southern California Co-ed Extends Champion; Leads, 2 Up, After First Eighteen Holes

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

A truly great champion under any standard, Mrs. Leona Pressler of the San Gabriel Country Club yesterday won the California State women's golf championship for the second consecutive year.

But out of the seething crucible of a bitterly fought thirty-six hole final match was born a new "noblest Trojan of them all"—Miss Helen Lawson of the Wilshire Country Club—who proved the metal of both her courage and her game before admitting honorable defeat on the thirty-third green of her home club, 4 and 3.

MRS LEONA PRESSLER

Had the final been eighteen holes, the 23-year-old University of Southern California co-ed would today be the California women's champion

Battling her more experienced opponent to a standstill, Miss Lawson surprised a critical gallery by smashing through Mrs. Pressler's meticulous game in the morning round to win the last four holes consecutively and go into the lead, 2 up, as they took time out for lunch.

GREAT IRON PLAY

Miss Lawson lost yesterday to America's second ranking woman golfer, and an even bet to be national women's champion before very long. She matched Mrs Pressler stroke for stroke off the tee, and putted superbly, but she

Southpaw's False Move With Bases Full Breaks Up Game in Eleventh

OAKLAND, April 11. (Exclusive) Emil Yde, former Pittsburgh Pirate, did not pitch a single ball this afternoon but he was charged with the 9-to-8 defeat the Oaks handed the Hollywood Stars in eleven innings.

EMIL YDE

With the score knotted at 8-all in the eleventh, Louie Martin started for the Oaks with a double to left off Johnny Page. Buzz Arlett was walked purposely and Johnny Vergez sacrificed the runners along. Manager Oscar Vitt of the Stars ordered Page to issue another walk to Griffin and fill the bags.

In the meantime, Yde, a southpaw, was being warmed up

STANFORD FROSH TRACK TEAM BEATS CALIFORNIA BY VICTORY IN RELAY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The boys that will cavort on the cinder path in future years for Stanford and California demonstrated their prowess this afternoon on the Berkeley oval with the Card babes winning their seventh straight victory over the Bear babes, 67 1-2 to 63 1-2. The yearlings from California made a valiant effort to stop the winning streak of the embryo Red Shirts, but the superior Cardinal relay quartet settled the issue in winning the final event by twenty yards.

Three freshmen records were excelled. Capt. Ben Eastman, the easy-striding blond quarter-miler from the "farm," set a new mark of 49 2-5s., in the 440, breaking the record of 50 2-5s. set last year by Ike Hables.

Jack Kearney, a strong muscled javelin prospect from California, bettered Kenny Churchill's mark of 187ft. 11in., by throwing the spear for a new mark of 188ft. 11 1-4in. Charles Van Tress showed that he will be a favorable asset to the Bear varsity next year, by winning the pole vault at 12ft. 6 3-8in., which bettered the old mark of 12ft. 4in., made last season by Johns of Stanford.

Manual Arts Runners Win Major City League Track and Field Championship

ROMANS FINISH CLOSE BEHIND

Poly Mechanics Take Strong Third Place

Don Carter Sets Record in Shot Put

he had cut in on some unknown runners on the third lap. Claude Lindsey of Manual, who finished third was given Gentry's points, while another Toiler galloper, Butterworth, was moved up from fifth to fourth, giving Manual a total of 9 points. Moon of L.A. High finished sixth and should have been given fifth-place points, but as no one of official rank saw him nose out Curtis of Poly for the sixth, the Romans lost this half-point.

To red-haired Norman Blatherwick of Manual goes most of the glory for the Toiler first place in the relay. Manual was trailing L.A. High until the slim youngster, who was running sixth, took the baton from his team-mate Davidson. He proceeded to pass Greenbaum of L.A. High like nobody's business, and gave Dejan a three-yard lead over the Roman galloper. Dejan held his lead and Osburn, who ran the anchor lap for Manual, won by four yards over Bray of L.A. High. Blatherwick ran his lap in the sensational time of 22s. flat.

Blatherwick was a Class B athlete until last Thursday, when Sid Foster moved him up into the A division.

CARTER SETS RECORD

Only one new city record was made, Don Carter shattering the 49ft. 4-in. shot put mark made by Dick Lesslie of L.A. High last year.

Carter on his first heave put the iron ball out 52ft. 6¼in. From then on he was trying too hard and tied up badly, although most of his puts were over 50ft.

Upsets were plentiful with the most outstanding one being in the 440, when LaValle of Poly won over Satterfield of Manual and Lott of the Mechanics. LaValle came from behind on the last stretch to nose out Satterfield, while Lott was shaded by Logue of Jefferson for third.

Reed of Lincoln hit a hurdle and failed to place in the high sticks. He was a yard ahead of the field at the time, Potter of L. A. High beat Glenn Mack of Poly for first.

Little Joe Danniger of Hollywood won the 100, after Sid Bray of L. A. High and "Bones" Houston of Manual had been set back a yard. In the 220 Danniger was leading at the 150-yard mark but faded from then on. Jobe of Franklin gave the dope sheet a blow by winning the furiong in 22 4-5.

Sam Geitys, Franklin broad jumper, won his event, defeating the favorite, Marvy Crawford of L. A. by three inches.

Jefferson won the Class B division with 28 points, L. A. High being second with 20¼. The rest of the teams finished as follows: Poly, 16 1-4; Manual Arts, 12 7-12; Hollywood, 11½; Lincoln, 5; Franklin, 1¼.

The Toilers took the Class C title with 25 points. Lincoln finished second with 20, while L. A. High trailed in third place with 15. The rest of the scores were Poly, 14; Hollywood, 5, and Franklin, 2. Jefferson failed to score in the "C" class.

Featured by the work of Henderson who won the sprints in sensational time, the Class B meet in the Marine League held yesterday at Gardena was won by the Jacob Riis squad which piled up 33 1-4 points to nose out Jordan by 2 digits. The meet itself was a dual between the Jordan and Riis squads, the other teams finishing far to the rear. A GREAT CLIMAX

A GREAT week in local sports culminates today with the Stanford-S.C. track meet on the Occidental oval. We have had in turn the opening of the baseball season, the Carnera exhibition and the women's State golf championship. The contest between the two best college cinderpath teams in the United States is a fitting climax.

There isn't the slightest doubt in the world that the Trojans and Cards will finish one-two one way or the other in the I.C.A.A.A.A. championships in the East's own back yard next month so the fans who trek to Eagle Rock after lunch today can see the best without going East.

Stanford has won the last three I.C.A.A.A.A. meets, and Mr. Dink Templeton, coach of the visiting track artists, has been quoted as saying he doesn't care whether his team wins the dual meet today or not. He's saving up for the fourth I.C.A.A.A.A. title.

However, that doesn't sound like Mr. Templeton at all, who a year ago, and even more recently, permitted himself to go on record with the prediction he would beat Dean Cromwell again and then retire. Dink has only won about nine out of the last ten meets from Dean, but still has no mercy in his heart at all for the Trojan mentor. It's a safe bet that if the choice were left to him—beating the Trojans or winning the I.C.A.A.A.A.—Mr. Temple

Tickets Left for S.C.-Card Meet Today

Two thousand tickets to the University of Southern California - Stanford track meet this afternoon at Patterson Field will be placed on sale at the field boxoffices at noon before the meet, it was announced last night by Arnold Eddy, assistant general manager of the Trojans. The tickets are all priced at $1. Persons holding tickets to the east side stands at the meet are advised by Eddy to enter the Occidental campus and use the entrance designated for east side tickets. Those holding west side tickets should not enter the campus but should use the west entrance to the field at the edge of the campus. Trojan and Cardinal rooting sections are located at the east side of the field.

TROJANS FACE STANFORD TEAM

Rival Track Squads Meet at Occidental Today

count the afternoon well spent if among other things, Hec Dyer should beat Frank Wykoff in the 220-yard dash and Stanford's relay team should win the baton-passing event. It is also assumed that Templeton expects to see Johnny Morrison trot home a winner in the 440 and to watch Podge Smith win either the high or low hurdles.

WOULD BE SATISFIED

Naturally the Stanford coach knows that his two weight aces, Capt. Krenz and Harlow Rothert, will take care of the shot and discus. And could Nunes or Parker win the two-mile and Dowell come through in the broad jump Dink would have eight first places and that would probably satisfy him for the afternoon.

When asked if he expected Dyer to beat Wykoff in the furlong Templeton replied: "I hope he will." Dyer has been timed in 21s. flat in the north, which means a great race today.

"You can say for me that the Occidental track is a darned fine track," commented Dink. "Today was my first look at it, and all this chatter you fellows stirred up about my objecting to it was a bit shy of the mark. It's all right with me, and I really think it's faster than the Coliseum oval."

Bob Brown, who has been looked upon as Stanford's best bet in the two-mile, has a pulled muscle, according to Templeton, and what he will do remains to be seen. "Just brought him along for the trip," declared Dink.

It is no secret that Templeton hopes to surprise S.C. in the distances. How he will do it is more than I know, but the races will be watched with more than usual interest.

HOWELL IN RELAY

There is a strong possibility that Howell, former Inglewood boy, will be Stanford's fourth man on the relay team instead of either McDermott or Dyer. From those close to Templeton I learn that there is very little likelihood of Dyer carrying a baton today. One thing worth remembering is that Stanford hasn't lost an outdoor relay race on the Coast in five years.

Sunday the writer printed a dope sheet which showed a 71-to-55 score for S.C. without the relay. Here it is, with one or two minor changes in names of Stanford men:

100—Wykoff (S.C.) Dyer (S.) Maurer (S.C.)
220—Wykoff (S.C.) Dyer (S.) Morrison (S.)
440—Morrison (S.) Williams (S.C.) Shove (S.)
880—McGeagh (S.C.) Burke (S.C.) Atkinson (S.)
Mile—Halstead (S.C.) Hanson (S.C.) Cooper (S.)
Two mile—Parker (S.) Fitzmaurice (S.C.) Shrub (S.C.)
High hurdles—Smith (S.) Welsh (S.C.) Nesbit (S.)
Low hurdles—Payne (S.C.) Smith (S.) Carle (S.C.)
Shot put—Rothert (S.) Krenz (S.) Hall (S.C.)
Discus—Krenz (S.) Rothert (S.) Hall (S.C.)
Javelin—Mortensen (S.C.) Snider (S.C.) Rothert (S.)
High jump—Van Osdel (S.C.) Allen (S.) Stewart (S.C.)
Broad jump—Dowell (S.) Barber (S.C.) Butler (S.)
Pole vault—Hubbard (S.C.) Livingston (S.C.) De Groot (S.)
Final score, without relay—Southern California, 71; Stanford, 55.

Shove is given third in the 440 over Al Hables, because he has shown better form and more speed lately. Of course, either Pearson or Woessner may slip in for the place or beat out Williams for second.

Brown being laid up, it looks as if Parker will be shifted to the two-mile, in which case, I have a hunch he may beat the Trojans. Cooper will then take Parker's spot in the mile and should be good enough for third.

These changes make no difference in the first score as printed Sunday.

MORRISON OUT OF 220

Morrison may not run the furlong for Stanford, in which case Red Guyer ought to take third for S.C. In the half-mile, Clif Halstead is apt to make it a clean sweep for the Trojans. In fact, he may beat Burke for second and Burke may have trouble outfinishing Stanford's best bets, Atkinson, and possibly Cooper.

The hurdles, featuring Smith and Troy's champions, Jeddy Welsh, Ernie Payne and Bill Carls, ought to be classics. Time in each instance is likely to better even figures, perhaps, 14 3-5s. for the highs and 23 4-5s. for the lows. Where it is so easy to knock over a barrier, anything may happen.

In the discus, Gray may help Krenz and Rothert score a clean sweep for Stanford, although I like Bob Hall for third, because of his ability to come through in a pinch. Particularly when it is recalled that Templeton made some reference last fall about Hall "being a fine piece of statuary as a football tackle."

The javelin defies doping. Nobody at Stanford has bettered 185ft. this year. Capt. Mortensen of the Trojans has a bad shoulder and may throw his arm away rather than the javelin. Snider, with a toss of 197ft. against California, may win, although Mortensen, because he's captain and a great competitor, is this writer's choice.

Anyway, it ought to be a great meet. And if you don't like the accompanying estimate, make up your own dope sheet. It will probably serve the purpose just as well.

BRUINS FACE FRESNO TEAM

tory today. Wilson and Robinson, Bulldog stars, have both been clocked in 9.8s. this season, which also happens to be the Bruin's best time, but Smith appears to be a safe bet in the furlong dash.

TROJANS AND CARDS TO TANGLE TONIGHT

Water polo teams of the University of Southern California and Stanford last night won preliminary games from their competitors in the California intercollegiate sports carnival and will meet tonight for the championship.

FREMONT WINS LAURELS IN MINOR CITY LEAGUE

pulled an upset when they nosed out Roosevelt for third place with 19 7-8 points. The Roughriders scored 17½, while Garfield tallied 9 points in finishing fifth.

Every man on the Fremont team seemed to run as though his very life depended upon his taking a place, the result being that the remaining teams had a tough time snatching an occasional first place, with a few seconds and thirds sandwiched in. The Pathfinders won seven first places, and tied for first in two others.

Walt Clark was the hero of the meet. Clark upset the dope in the 100 when he came from behind to nose out McCarthy, the Fairfax flash, and then proved that it wasn't a fluke when he again came from behind to beat out the Colonial sprinter in record time in the relay team, the speedy Fremont 220. Running anchor man on the runner ate up a three-yard handicap and led McCarthy to the tape by two yards to give his team another victory.

Three league records were broken and one was equalled during the festivities. In each case the record maker proved to be a Fremont man. Collier broke the 880 record by three seconds, despite the fact that he was not very closely pressed. Williams pulled a surprise when he beat out Bolles and McCartney in the pole vault, and set a new league record in the process. The Pathfinder relay team was forced to set a new mark in order to beat Fairfax.

After a hard battle with Christlieb, Ramona, of Roosevelt, managed to nose out the Garfield runner by inches in the high hurdles. In the low sticks Ramona was enjoying a five-yard lead over the field when he fell over a hurdle, but managed to recover in time to check in with a fourth place. Stockton took advantage of the "break" and won the race.

SHEIKS BEATEN BY ACORNS, 9-8

to pitch to Tony Governor. Yde stepped on the mound and just as he was winding up a couple of Oaks near the dugout directed a chorus of yells at Yde, who hesitated in his delivery and Umpire Louie Kolls called a balk. The decision allowed Martin to score from third base with the winning run. It was a grim joke on a veteran like Yde.

The Oaks won the ball game by staging an uphill fight. They were trailing 8 to 2 when they entered the sixth frame. In the sixth they hammered Augustus Johns from the box and pushed over five runs. Timely wallops by Ricci, Jeffcoat and Brubaker did the work. The Oaks tied the count in the eighth when Brubaker doubled and Arlett singled.

The Stars hopped on Ivy Andrews, the new Oak hurler from the New York Yanks, for five runs and six hits in the third. Pearson went to Andrews's relief in the third inning, and was touched for the other three Hollywood runs in the fifth when Carlyle got a double.

Charley Kasich and Jim Edwards held the Stars for the rest of the way. Jack Fenton, who has been holding out persistently since last fall, finally came to terms today and appeared for the Oaks as a pinch hitter. He popped out. Score:

Joe Andrade pitched and hit his way for a 2-1 victory for Montebello over Citrus in the opening game of the San Gabriel Valley League yesterday. Rouse, first man up for Citrus, hit a home run, but Andrade held the enemy runless thereafter. RIDERS AWAIT LEGION EVENT

Motorcycle Pilots Here for Races Tomorrow

The spotlight of the motorcycle racing world will be focused upon Los Angeles today. For the boys who manipulate the two-wheelers and the sidecars are streaming into this city from all sections of the country and by tomorrow afternoon more than 250 riders are expected to be prepared for the mammoth program of eight races at the American Legion Speedway on Alhambra Boulevard.

P. A. Bigsby, who is promoting the motorbike affair, declared yesterday that he was confident he will have more than 100 riders ready for the Targo Florio, the headlining event on tomorrow's schedule. The race over the hills is open for every type and size of machine and, therefore, the novices as well as champions will be enabled to compete.

TIGER NET TEAM DEFEATS LA VERNE

ANDERSON IN GOOD SHAPE

Kentucky Battler Believes He Has Hit Best Stride in Several Years

Joe Anderson weighed 163 pounds after his workout yesterday at the Main-street gymnasium. He boxed less than a week ago in Cincinnati, defeating Isaak Hanson, so is in splendid shape.

The Kentuckian has had three fights since the first of the year and believes he is right back in the form he showed when he defeated Ace Hudkins, nearly two years ago. He boxed Jimmy Mahoney and Vincent Forgione besides Hanson, winning all of them. The three fights were staged in Cincinnati.

Dave Shade boxed six rounds at the Manhatian gym and is down close to 160 pounds. He put on one of the greatest exhibitions of weaving and bobbing ever seen in the place.

Both Shade and Anderson will taper off today and tomorrow for their ten-round bout at the Olympic Tuesday night. They rank among the first four middleweights in the country.

DIVODI KNOCKS OUT DIX IN FIFTH ROUND

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11. (AP) Andy Divodi, sturdy welterweight from New York City, knocked out Madison Dix of Bellingham, Wash., in the fifth round of their ten-round bout at Dreamland Auditorium tonight.

Les Kennedy, highly touted heavyweight from Los Angeles, had a hard time beating Bud Doyle, practically unknown youngster from San Jose, in the ten-round semi-wind-up. Kennedy, who has been boomed up to meet Frankie Campbell in Los Angeles, edged out a decision in the closing rounds after Doyle had given him a stiff battle all the way.

SOUTH PASADENA DEFEATS BURBANK

South Pasadena defeated Burbank, 6 to 1, yesterday in the opening game of the Foothill League baseball schedule. Pomerlin and Listerley sparkled for the winners at the plate, the former hitting a home run over the center-field bleachers. Score:

Lou Daro Completes Card for Marshall, Lewis Show

The supporting card to the Everett Marshall-Ed (Strangler) Lewis battle at the Olympic Wednesday night was completed by Promoter Lou Daro yesterday.

Nick Latso, the backward body slam exponent, was signed to appear in the special event of this card against Rex Smith, a 215-pounder from Flint, Mich., who has just arrived in Los Angeles from the Northwest following matches with Marin Plestina, Howard Cantonwine, Ira Dern, and about a dozen other top-notchers. He is built along the same lines as Dr. Karl Sarpolis, and is much the same type of wrestler.

Steve Strelich, the "Terrible Swede," and Ad Herman, the "Wild Dutchman," from St. Louis, will tangle in the opener. Herman has just returned from Salt Lake City where he had about eight matches, with but a single defeat.

The GIANTS of the AIR* use Richfield

WESTERN AIR EXPRESS places in service the two largest land planes in the world! And chooses Richfield—the Gasoline of Power—to fuel them!

It is significant that this famous air line, whose paramount consideration is safety to passengers, chose Richfield gasoline for these mammoth four-motored planes on their maiden voyage from New York to Los Angeles—a flight that marks a new epoch in aviation.

Since its inception, Western Air Express has used Richfield gasoline exclusively and its unparalleled record of more than 4,000,000 miles without a fatality to any passenger is a tribute to the efficient management and flying personnel of this great transport company.

Other important air transport lines using Richfield Gasoline exclusively include T. A. T.-Maddux, Standard Air Lines and Mid-Continent Air Express.

Use Richfield in your own car and learn why it is the choice of the country's leading air lines, pilots and motor designers —why it has won more speedway victories and world's records than all other gasolines combined! Fill up today—at any station with the blue and gold Richfield shield.

★ These two luxurious 30-passenger Fokker planes, measuring 99 feet from tip to tip, were delivered to Western Air Express on April 8 and will be placed in service between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

ANGELS AGAIN DEFEAT DUCKS

Statz's Hit in Ninth Gives Seraphs 6-5 Victory

Peters' Relief Mound Work Stops Beaver Attack

ashed for today's hurling assignment. Win Ballou, the boy from Brooklyn, will hurl for Los Angeles and attempt to curve the Ducks into submission for the fifth straight day.

The Portlanders greeted Walsh like a long-lost cousin in the opening inning and had three runs over the plate before Peters came to Augie's rescue. Chatham, who had three hits to his credit in the first three innings, led off with a single to center and stole second. Chatham took third and French reached second when Schulmerich muffed the latter's line drive. While Sigafoos was tossing out Orwoll, Chatham scored and French reached third. Whereupon, Williams walloped the first of his homers over the right-field wall and trotted over the plate behind French. When Hillis doubled and Johnson singled, Lelivelt derricked Walsh and sent Peters to the mound. Peters personally threw out Cronin, purposely walked Woodall to fill the bases and then fanned Mails to end the round.

SERAPHS GIVEN RUN

The Angels were given a run in their half of the first when Haney walked, took second when Schulmerich also drew a pass and scored when Sigafoos forced Schulmerich and Chatham threw the ball away in an effort to complete a double play.

Chatham singled infield to Dittmar to start the second, and after getting as far as third on a couple of infield outs came home leisurely when Williams rammed another circuit clout over the right-field screen. From then on, though, Sheriff Peters kept the handcuffs on the boys from the great Northwest.

Los Angeles crawled up on the Ducks in the third by punching across two runs. With one away Haney singled but was hit by Schulmerich's batted ball to automatically retire himself. Sigafoos singled and Harper walked to fill the sacks, and then Ray Jacobs came through with a clout to center that brought Schulmerich and Sigafoos home.

ANGELS TIE SCORE

Mails was pounced upon for two more runs in the fifth when the Angels tied the score and drove the southpaw to the showers. After Haney had gone out Schulmerich got a life on Chatham's low throw. Sigafoos obligingly singled once more, but Harper popped out. Jacobs again delivered in the pinch, his single to left scoring Schulmerich and putting Sigafoos on third. Statz followed with another hit to tally Sigafoos, and that was all for Mails. Chesterfield satisfied for the moment by retiring Dittmar for the third out.

A great throw by Harper prevented a Portland run in the seventh when Orwoll was thrown out trying to take third on Williams's hit to right. There was none out at the time.

Peters tried to win his own game in the eighth when, with two away, he walked and tried to score from first on Haney's double to left, but Cronin relayed Williams's throw-in to the plate in time to retire the Seraph southpaw. That run took most of Pete's breath supply, but some expert stalling by the rest of the Cherubs enabled the hurler to regain his wind and blank the Ducks in one-two-three order in the ninth. The score:

ROSY FORECAST FOR SOUTHLAND

Boston Financial Editor in Optimistic View

Arrives from Hawaii on Leg of World Survey

Sees Los Angeles as Due for Continued Growth

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Los Angeles' vigor is being felt beyond her confines, but her potentialities for the future are boundless, in the opinion of Arthur Bean, making a world survey for the Boston Post, of which he is financial editor. He returned to Los Angeles from Hawaii yesterday on the Lassco liner City of Honolulu.

"Strong economic elements are here," he said, "and I can see no reason why Southern California should not continue its unparalleled stride.

"You have great wealth of production; abundance of oil and other prime requisites; sound and sustained land production the year around, as contrasted to Florida's three months, and your tax laws are enticing outside capital and brains. Don't overlook the fact that your attraction for brains is perhaps your biggest asset.

TAX LAW PRAISED

"Back in Massachusetts we impose a 6 per cent tax on incomes from securities, which on top of national taxes is quite an onerous proposition. California has removed such impositions and it is causing an influx of outside capital."

Bean envisioned important trade beyond the seas for Los Angeles, but advocated Southland industries to go ahead and produce without limit. "You have vast powers for absorption. Your industries are young, yes, but they are developing amazing vitality. One example is rubber. I wish New England had your aggressive spirit."

HAWAII PROSPEROUS

He reported Hawaii's pineapple industry highly favorable, with an outlook for greater output this year even than last year's record pack of 9,500,000 cases. In two years, he said, Mr. Dole's company alone expects to increase production from its present 3,250,000 cases to 6,000,000.

Another passenger disembarking was J. Merle Davis, secretary of the Institute of Pacific Relations, which from headquarters at Honolulu, is developing better business relations between the nations of the Pacific.

"We feel we are on the threshold of great development on the Pacific and that the market in the Orient for American goods will attain a magnitude of which few now dream."

He will call on Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, an active member of the institute. In the East he will visit Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, and John D. Rockefeller.

YACHT AND TANKER COLLIDE AT HARBOR

Joseph Schenck's 136-foot schooner-yacht Invader was yesterday in collision with the Texas Company oil tanker California at the junction of the Cerritos and East Basin channels. Damage was confined to a broken discharge pipe and dented stern on the tanker and broken fore rigging on the yacht.

The Invader coming down channel from Long Beach attempted to squeeze through the narrow opening afforded by the California, on her port hand and the freighter Charles R. McCormick, to starboard. She was being repaired yesterday at the yards of the Long Beach Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation.

An unnamed purchaser, already en route here from England to take her over, has bought the little Mexican steamer Chiapas, it was announced yesterday by Williams, Dimond & Co. Kenneth McLain, general manager for her previous owner the Mexican States Line, left Mazatlan yesterday for this port to complete the deal. The Chiapas, now laid up in the West Basin, is being thoroughly reconditioned.

Associated Oil Company tankers during 1929 carried 22,000,000 barrels of petroleum products to South America, North Atlantic, Hawaii and Pacific Coast ports in 355 voyages, according to a report just issued by H. T. Earl, transportation chief of the company.

Not one of these voyages was attended by a serious casualty, the Associated fleet thereby moving up from third to second place in the safety contest of the National Safety Council.

R. N. Chapman, entomologist at the University of Minnesota, crossed the country by train to arrive here yesterday just twenty minutes too late to greet his wife and family, returning from Hawaii on the Lassco liner City of Honolulu. Contrary to eastern custom he left for home with his family immediately. The liner disembarked 334 passengers, including Miss Edna Coulter, Long Beach aviatrix; Dudley Dorham, president of California Dairies; the Misses Lorraine and Carmen Noble, rhyme and prose writers of Beverly Hills, and Eddie Caballero, flyweight boxer from the Philippines.

Reports are K. D. Dawson of Portland and associates are the secret backers of the move for a passenger, freight and mail line between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and on to the Orient. Hearing on the application for government aid is scheduled for the 22nd inst., at Washington. The line pre-

"Well, it is a good name. I will keep it. But I do not know you. I did not come hither for you. Why I came I do not know; neither do I know from whence I came. Can you tell me?"

Pacific Indemnity Shows Gains for Quarter

Earnings at Annual Rate of $4.98 a Share

Loss and Expense Ratios Lower for Period

Pacific Indemnity Company for the first quarter of the current year showed earnings which, converted to an annual basis, were at the rate of $4.98 a share on the outstanding stock as against $2.46 a share on the same basis for last year, according to a statement issued yesterday by M. R. Johnson, vice-president and general manager.

Gross writings for the three months' period before reinsurance totaled $1,813,261, against $1,755,543 for the corresponding period of 1929. Net writings after deducting reinsurance amounted to $1,214,777, as compared with $1,140,664, an increase of $74,113, or 6.5 per cent over the corresponding period of 1929.

LOSS RATIO LOWER

"The company enjoyed an unusually favorable loss ratio during the past quarter," Mr. Johnson said. "The percentage of loses incurred to premiums earned was 45.74 per cent, against 57.30 per cent for the first three months of last year. Likewise underwriting expenses incurred to premiums earned showed a reduction from 46.75 per cent for the first quarter of 1929 to 45.14 per cent in 1930."

The executive committee of the company at its March 4 meeting had voted to create out of earnings during 1930 a voluntary contingent reserve of $100,000 over and above all other reserves and the first quarter earnings were such as to warrant the setting up of the entire $100,000, the report stated.

SURPLUS INCREASES

After creating this special reserve, earnings for the period were at the annual rate of $2.30 a share against $2.46 for the corresponding period last year, a period during which no similar provision for voluntary contingent reserve was made. After allowance of $52,500 for dividends declared during the quarter and paid the 1st inst., and after the $100,000 voluntary contingent reserve, $53,641 was credited to surplus account, thereby increasing the surplus from $1,984,603 on December 31, last, to $2,038,244, as of March 31, last. Admitted assets now total $7,427,909.74 with a surplus to policy holders of $3,538,244.04, according to the report.

Curtiss-Wright Interests Win Proxy Battle

WILMINGTON, April 11. (Exclusive)—The management of the National Air Transport, Inc., succeeded in retaining control of the annual meeting, it was announced today, where a proxy fight was staged between the Curtiss-Wright group and the United Air and Transport interests in which the latter sought to take the management out of the hands of the former.

Four new directors were elected, including J. Cheever Cowdin, Thomas B. Doe, Richard S. Hoyt and D. M. Sheaffer. These succeed Messrs. Talbot, Metzger, Glore and Evans.

It was indicated by the United Air and Transport interests that the controversial meeting will be contested in court action on the ground that it was illegally conducted.

REVIEW OF BANK AREA TRADE OUT

March Survey Reports Pacific Coast Showing Best in Nation

SAN FRANCISCO April 11. (AP)—March department store business held up better in the Pacific Coast States during March than in any other part of the nation. Even so, there was a 4 per cent decline compared to March of last year, as measured by sales value. The first quarter decline was 3 per cent.

These facts, and numerous others found in today's report of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, revealed that the low point of the year's business was attained in March. In that month sales were down 12 per cent on the average throughout the nation, dragging the year's average 6 per cent below the 1929 first quarter.

In the Twelfth District, the heaviest slump was recorded in Arizona, where the first quarter was slightly more than 20 per cent below 1929. Spokane was down 12.4 per cent. Northern Utah and Southern Idaho were off 12.9 per cent. Salt Lake City's decline was 10.9 per cent.

More favorable showings were made by Oakland, where the March gain was 19 per cent with the aid of a report from one store not in business a year ago, and by Portland, where the upturn was 9.2 per cent. First-quarter gains in these cities were: Oakland, 17.1; Portland, 10.8.

Los Angeles was little affected, the decline being 1.5 both for the month and for the quarter. San Francisco lost 7.7 per cent in March and 6.5 in the first quarter, and Seattle 10.6 and 5.4, respectively.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—A somewhat less active demand for near months, combined with relatively easy Liverpool cables, rather unfavorable trade advices from Manchester, and a favorable interpretation of the weather news from the South, was reflected by moderate declines in cotton here today. Spurts of covering and some trade buying caused more or less irregularity, but bulges were not maintained and the midafternoon market was within 4 or 5 points of the lowest at net declines of 7 to 12 points.

OIL CLOUDS AFFECT STOCKS

Threats at Curtailment Depress Prices Slightly; Second Crude Advance Expected

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Easing tendencies in the oil shares during the last two days are directly traceable to the new threats against the nation-wide curtailment program. No considerable amount of importance is attached as yet to these unfavorable possibilities, except that the stock market has indicated its knowledge of the situation by a slight recession in prices.

Apprehension is particularly directed at the action of the Wilshire group in Santa Fe Springs in obtaining a writ of prohibition designed to prevent the enforcement of the gas-wastage law. If this action should result in permanent restraint, obviously the whole program of curtailment under the gas law would collapse.

SPONSORS CONFIDENT

Sponsors of curtailment are confident the law will stand up under all attacks, but during the present difficulties it is likely that production at Santa Fe Springs will reverse its trend. This prospect probably accounts for some of the selling of oil shares in the last two days and the hesitancy of the professional groups working in the oil list.

While the decision handed down in Washington relative to the legality of the government's conservative program is not of immediate importance, it does contribute to the tone of uneasiness in the oil-share market. If the higher court decides the Secretary of the Interior has no authority to refuse drilling permits on public lands, a year or more would elapse before the opening of these lands would bring new oil into the market.

Until the new threat at Santa Fe Springs, the production in California has been steadily declining to within striking distance of the new allowable of 603,000 barrels. Figures for the last week, according to one estimate, will probably show total production of about 610,000 barrels, compared with 620,000 for the previous week. But since enforcement will be delayed under the present legal developments, the figures for next week are expected to show an increase.

PRICES HIGHER

Aside from these current uncertainties, the nation-wide curtailment program has worked such an economic improvement in the industry that bulls on the oils are still sure of higher prices for stocks. They point to the notable improvement in the California price structure, and the advances in the last two days in the price for Mid-Continent and other eastern crudes. If maintained, these prices should insure higher profits this year than in 1929.

California crude, for example, is now selling at a higher average price than at any time since April, 1927. But oil of 32 deg. gravity at Santa Fe Springs, now selling at $1.55 a barrel, is still below the 1926 level when the price was $1.72. A good many people in the industry believe if curtailment proceeds satisfactorily an advance of 20 or 25 cents will be made to adjust the structure to the 1926 level.

CALIFORNIA COTTON DUE IN NEW YORK

Cargo of Staple from State First in History for Tender There

Activities of the Federal Farm Board agencies in the New York cotton market are cited as the reason for plans to ship substantial quantities of California cotton for delivery in the New York market. Los Angeles cotton merchants yesterday reported 12,000 bales ready for shipment by water, which will be followed immediately by other shipments the first time in history that California cotton in any quantity will have been tendered on the New York market.

Ordinarily, California cotton commands a premium over New York prices because of its staple and quality. Local cotton merchants state, however, that this advantage has been lost through the market methods of the Federal Farm Board agencies in stimulating an artificial price in May and July future contracts. The New York futures price is now the highest in the world, which accounts for the trend of California cotton for tender in New York.

Cotton merchants and cotton mills, according to local cotton authorities, find their plans disorganized by the Farm Board agencies' activities in the futures market. Merchants who sold May and July contracts against old crop cotton as a hedge are being compelled to tender the commodity in New York. This practice, it is explained, interferes with the orderly marketing of the carryover and disturbs the balance between supply and demand.

BOND MARKET EASING AGAIN

Strength During Early Part of Year Weakened by Heavy Offerings and Activity of Stocks

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, April 11.—The bond market has softened. January started out strong. February and the first half of March were pretty good, too. But the market petered out the last two weeks of March.

That's why, since March 15, there has been a steady accumulation in dealers' hands of undistributed bonds.

During the first three months of the year, $1,414,000,000 in domestic, and $292,000,000 in foreign bonds were offered. In March, about $550,000,000 were issued.

The bond averages indicate that the top of the bond market so far in 1930 was reached around March 20. Prices for railroad, industrial and public utility issues dropped during the last week of March, and during the past week the prices have eased off and the sale of new issues diminished.

But investment banking houses feel confident that, with low interest rates and growing idle funds for investment purposes, rising prices and increased volume of activity will soon be seen.

The officers of the Proctor & Gamble Company proudly call the attention of other business leaders to the plan they have worked out for guaranteeing employment to their 10,000 employees on the basis of forty-eight weeks of steady work a year.

"It has paid us big in dollars and cents, but bigger still in human happiness," says R. R. Deupree, vice-president and general manager.

The plan, formulated by the sales executives a year in advance, calls for manufacture of only as much as is necessary to meet a normal public demand. So the production is divided into weekly units and the schedule is strictly adhered to.

Mr. Deupree states that in the seven years the plan has been operated, the variation between production and shipments has been less than one-sixteenth of 1 per cent.

Let other business men try it out, suggests this Cincinnati business man, and thus permit other groups of workers to enjoy the guaranteed employment idea.

Whether such a plan is the most practicable for others to follow, or not, the present wide-spread discussion of unemployment is excellent foundational work.

Julius H. Barnes, head of the national business survey conference, thinks unemployment can be made much less severe by a more orderly set-up in industry.

"Technological unemployment is inherent in a fluid economic and social structure," says Mr. Barnes. "Unemployment which results incidentally from the substitution of science and invention, by which the productivity of every single pair of hands is greatly increased, is not of itself a social evil.

"However, it may contribute to the process of aggregate national progress and add to the aggregate national wealth, but such technological displacement bears great distress for the afflicted individual. Here lies the challenge and stimulus to modern industrial leadership."

True—but what is to be done about it?

WOOL MART SITUATION UNCHANGED

Weekly Survey Reports Demand Still Light at Shade Easier Prices

BOSTON, April 11. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

Demand for wool in the market still is sluggish and prices are rather easier, although the foreign markets are fairly active and very steady. Yorkshire faces a strike Monday in the mills due to wage reductions, although this is not expected to be serious.

In the West, there is sporadic buying with little change in prices in the territory sections. Prices for Ohio and similar wools seem to be crystallizing around 18 cents for fine, and 20 cents for medium clips to the growers.

The piece goods market developed very slowly with no general buying movement apparent in any direction.

Mohair is dull and prices merely nominal.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to April 10, 1930, inclusive, were 39,767,000 pounds, against 53,127,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to April 10, 1930, inclusive, were 53,064,500 pounds, against 62,659,300 pounds for the same period last year.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—Irregular price movements developed in today's curb market, but the main tendency again appeared upward. The market was strong at the opening, but heavy week-end profit-taking and the flurry of selling created by the closing of the Tokyo Stock Exchange, impeded operations for the advance, although there was a brisk rally in some sections of the list in the final hour. Total sales of 1,652,800 shares only have been exceeded a few times this year.

American Light and Traction was again the spectacular feature in the public utility group, soaring 21½ points to a new high at 339½ on top of a gain of 38 points yesterday. American Superpower crossed 36 to a new 1930 high. Electric Bond and Share closed 1½ points lower at 109¾, after having sold as high as 112½. Northern States Power "A" and Standard Power and Light (new) jumped 6 points and the United Light and Power issues moved into new high ground.

Oils ran into some profit-taking. Gulf dropping nearly 3 points, but losses in most of the other active issues were held to fractions. Penn Mex Fuel touched a new high at 32. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana and other companies announced an increase in gasoline prices in middle-western territory.

Aluminum Company of America and Aluminum Limited moved into new high ground. Dorsal Texas Sugar, ran up 4 points to a new high at 21. Deere & Co. issues made further recovery, the old stock jumping 10 points. American Colortype, National Ribbon Machinery, Oscar Nebel, and Schulte-United preferred also moved into new high ground.

The choice price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

"LIAR," CRIES DUCHESS IN COURTROOM

Former May Etheridge Challenges Testimony of Admitted Sweetheart

LONDON, April 11. (AP)—The Duchess of Leinster, the former May Etheridge, one-time musical-comedy star, dramatically interrupted the testimony of Stanley Williams during her trial today on a charge of attempted suicide.

The testimony presented at today's hearing was to the effect that she was living with Williams in Brixton when she was found unconscious a week ago near the gas oven.

Williams testified that he and the Duchess had a quarrel and that he left the flat for five minutes. When he returned he found the Duchess on the kitchen floor and the gas turned on.

"I put her on the bed," he said. "She lay quiet for half an hour and then started like a lunatic. She raved about on the bed trying to strangle herself."

The Duchess jumped from her chair and shouted: "Liar! I did not and he knows I did not."

When reprimanded by the magistrate, she subsided meekly and apologized.

Williams told the court he was a chef and had been occupying a furnished room with the Duchess for several weeks.

The magistrate remanded the Duchess until Monday, but he refused to grant bail until he is satisfied it will be safe.

BANK GROUP FIGHTS POSTAL SAVINGS BILL

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—Opposition to the Buckbee bill to increase the maximum postal savings deposit from $2500 to $5000 was expressed by a delegation of bankers headed by Thomas B. Patton, general counsel of the American Bankers' Association, at a hearing today before a House postoffice subcommittee. The bankers argued that if the postoffices take more savings it will deprive them of personal contact with many prospective customers.

VISITOR SAYS ODORS SHOULD MATCH HAIR

Titled Frenchwoman
Mme. Emilienne del Marquis de Pescara.

SHE SCENTS MANY CENTS IN PERFUME

Parisienne, Member of Old European Family, Finds Business Fascinating

Los Angeles became host yesterday to a member of one of Europe's oldest families.

"One 'undred, two 'undred years, the name goes back, oh, so far," said the visitor, Mme. Emilienne del Marquis de Pescara of Paris, with a helpless movement of her hands at the Biltmore yesterday.

In fact, the titled Parisienne commented with a bubbling laugh that her "'oosban's" family, on the mother's side, is related distantly to the King of Italy. The name is Italian, although many of the members of the family are now making their homes in France.

And, however old the name may be, the visitor indicated that those who bear it are keeping up with the times; for the husband is a noted inventor, working for the French government, particularly well known for experiments with explosives, and Raoul del Marquis de Pescara, her brother-in-law, is an authority on aeronautics, also working in a governmental capacity.

What remained, therefore, for the pretty wife to do but go into trade? The petite visitor revealed that she is here as the representative of a Parisian perfume concern—and that she finds business "fascinating."

American women, she said, are beautiful and intelligent, but they have neglected, to a considerable extent, the influence which perfume may play in emphasizing their personalities. Complexions should dictate the kind of perfume to be used, she said, with blondes needing a light perfume and brunettes a heavy, exotic scent.

Cosgrave Will Take Oath of Office Today

George Cosgrave of Fresno, whose nomination for the position of judge of the Southern Federal District of California recently was confirmed by the Senate, will take the oath of office today at Fresno, it was stated yesterday at the Federal Building.

Cosgrave will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow morning and begin holding court here on Monday.

DISTRICTS HOLD ORATORY FINALS

Fifty Contests Conducted on Coast Last Night

Interest and Enthusiasm Reach Top Mark

Winners Receive Cash Prizes Given by "Times"

With an intensity of interest and enthusiasm surpassing even interscholastic athletic events, and with a significance far deeper to the body politic, the district finals in the Pacific Southwest zone of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution were completed last night in the fifty districts into which the zone is subdivided. Reports from all over the territory embraced indicate that the contests were keener, the school spirit higher and the attendance larger than characterized the contest on the Constitution held in any of the six years since it was started.

The contests held last night were participated in by the prize-winning orators from the various schools represented. They had been picked through previous school eliminations and went to the district jousts with the hearty backing of their fellow-students. Every effort was made by the contest director of The Times, to insure that the various contests would be fair in every respect, so far as their organization and conduct were concerned.

JUDGES LOYAL

The Times contest bureau grouped the schools into districts, picked the host school where the contest was to be held and also chose the district managers. The contest director also chose the judges for last night's contests, where requested, and in most instances, the judges were selected from territory outside of the district confines. The orations were judged by a jury of unbiased men and women, chosen by reason of their peculiar fitness and qualifications, and representing a cross-section of the highest in professional business and educational life. It was a loyal and disinterested service they rendered and in some cases, at considerable expense and inconvenience, as their assignments took them a distance into other counties. But the service was rendered cheerfully as they considered it their bit in behalf of what they conceived to be a high civic duty in support of a movement that has proved to be the most effective Americanizing influence at work among the youth of the land.

MANY PRIZES GIVEN

Most of the district contests were scheduled to be held last night, although a few had been held during the past week, and reported in these columns. District managers had been instructed to send the results of last night's events promptly by telegraph, as soon as the orations were completed and the judges reported, that the thousands of interested school children and school patrons might have the news at the earliest possible moment.

The winners of last night's contests were given substantial cash prizes of $15 to the first and $10 to the second, or a total for the fifty districts of $1250, offered by The Times. This was in addition to the prizes given by The Times to the local schools of $10 to the first and $5 to the second, or about $4500, making a grand total of approximately $6000. But the monetary prizes are considered by the contestant as only secondary to the honor of representing his school and carrying its pennant to victory in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution. The winners of these district contests advance to the next higher bracket, known as The Times semifinals and from there to The Times finals, where the rewards in cash are very substantial, being $500 for the first prize, with other honors and emoluments.

DISTRICT RESULTS

District results received last night were as follows:

District 1: Anaheim, Brea-Olinda, Capistrano, Excelsior Union, Garden Grove, Huntington Beach, Orange and Tustin Union schools. Held at Huntington Beach. First, Ronald Hill, Excelsior Union, Norwalk; second, Tom Moses, Garden Grove; third, Velma Wentzell, Huntington Beach. Judges, Seymour Stone, assistant superintendent of schools Long Beach; Emil Lange, director of curricula, Long Beach schools; Judge F. Cook, Long

WATER BOND VOTE URGED BY PORTER

Issue to be Voted on Based on Own Recommendations, Mayor Tells Brotherhood

Urging every citizen to support the $38,800,000 water bond issue on May 20 Mayor Porter, in an address before the United Brotherhood of the Christian Church last night, declared that the bonds are needed to prevent a serious water shortage.

Mayor Porter, in his address in the South Park Christian Church, made it clear that the bond issue as it will appear on the ballot is based directly upon his own recommendations. He said he had made several personal inspections of the entire Owens River water supply system and that the amount of bonds being submitted is the minimum needed to meet the city's water requirements.

The declaration that large additional supplies of water must be made available without delay also was made last night by E. M. Scofield of the Water and Power Board in addressing a meeting of the Initiative, Referendum and Recall League in a downtown cafeteria.

Janet Gaynor Refutes Break With Husband

Reports of a rift between Janet Gaynor and her lawyer-writer husband, Lydell Peck, were refuted yesterday. The little film star, just returned from Hawaii on the Lassco liner City of Honolulu, swept down the gangplank and into the arms of Peck waiting on the dock to receive her.

JANET GAYNOR

"The reports are all a terrible mistake, and I'd rather not talk about it," she explained aboard ship en route to the dock.

She and her mother, Mrs. Laura Gaynor, returned after a month in Hawaii. She doesn't know what picture she will be featured in next.

William Goetz, motion-picture producer, and his bride, nee Edith Mayer, returned on the same ship.

FIESTA WILL BE COLORFUL

Romance of Early California Days to be Brought Back at Mission Play Event Tonight

With gallant caballeros, flashing-eyed senoritas and prancing steeds trained to the minute and colorful costumes and burnished equipage reflecting the brilliance of the occasion, everything is in readiness for the Old California Fiesta which will be held at the San Gabriel Mission Play tonight.

The program of merry-making will include a reception and general jollification in connection with the regular performance of the Mission Play in addition to a picturesque pageant depicting the romantic and adventurous spirit of the days of '49. Blooded horses worth more than $250,000, three sixty-piece bands and hundreds of gay riders and marchers will parade over a course which will be specially lighted and decorated for the gala event.

Los Angeles and Orange counties will be represented in the spectacle and thousands of old residents and pioneers have signified their intention to be present as a tribute to the producer and members of the cast of the Mission Play and the memory of the courageous and enterprising men and women who made early California history. The Orange county delegation will be directed by J. E. Seale and D. Eyman Huff under the colors of the El Rodeo Club.

The Los Angeles committee is comprised of Sam Behrendt, Norman Chandler, Harry Chandler, C. M. Cooper, Marco H. Hellman, W. I. Hollingsworth, William Lacy, J. E. Wagner, John S. McGroarty, Joseph Mesmer, John Mott, D. W. Pontius, S. K. Rindge and Joseph Scott. Marco Hellman will officiate as grand marshal and Walter Fagan will be marshal of the day.

Traeger Will Sail Today on Trip to Hawaii

Sheriff Traeger is scheduled to leave Los Angeles Harbor aboard the steamship Calawaii today at noon for a three-week trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

The Sheriff will serve during the trip as custodian of Albert Aguilar, 17 years of age, wanted by Hawaiian authorities on a statutory charge.

Decision of the Sheriff to take the ocean voyage was made after he had been advised to do so by his physician, he stated. The official returned to his office last Monday after more than two weeks' absence due to illness. He expects to return on May 3, next.

Denials Voiced by Candidates

Opposition to any movement having as its purpose annexation of the city of Beverly Hills to Los Angeles was voiced yesterday by the three candidates seeking the post of City Councilman in that city at next Tuesday's election.

Prior to injection of the annexation rumor into the Councilmanic campaign, it is said, the contest had proceeded without unusual interest. A report that one of the three candidates secretly favored merging Beverly Hills with Los Angeles led to a denial by all contestants, however. The candidates are M. J. Kavanaugh, Paul Schwab and Fred Shelton.

M'COMB SENDS BERMAN TO JAIL

Old Indictment Rejuvenated, $250,000 Bail Set

Altercation Between Judge and Fitts Renewed

Prosecutor and Grand Jury Issue Statements

The controversy between Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Superior Judge McComb over the fate of Jacob Berman, chief witness in the investigation of the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse, which had its inception several weeks ago, broke out again yesterday with added vigor. Charges and counter-charges were hurled and by nightfall the grand jury had joined the list of combatants by backing up the District Attorney in the new altercation with Judge McComb.

The events of the day in chronological order follow:

(1.) Judge McComb, who recently had another set-to with Fitts over the dismissal of a bribery charge against Berman, put back on the court calendar an old indictment against Berman, charging fraud and embezzlement, set trial on the charge for the 23rd inst., and remanded the defendant to jail in lieu of $250,000 bail.

FITTS CRITICISED

(2.) While he was directing this activity from the bench, Judge McComb took occasion to criticise Fitts, whom he accused of trying to perpetrate fraud upon the court and of other actions considered reprehensible by the judge.

(3.) Fitts arrived in court too late to return a verbal barrage, but later in the day put his remarks in the form of a written statement in which he said, among other things, that Judge McComb's action had nullified the work of his office and that of the grand jury for the past two months and that he (Judge McComb) should be "held strictly responsible by the people of this State for the consequences of his ruling."

(4.) The grand jury issued a statement also taking Judge McComb to task.

"POLITICAL FOOTBALL"

(5.) Berman said: "I'm being made a political football of."

(6.) The District Attorney and the grand jury aided Berman's lawyer, Otto Christensen, in an attempt to have the prisoner's bail revoked before another judge, but their efforts were unsuccessful and last night saw Berman in jail with excellent chances of remaining there until next Monday at least.

The latest outburst in the Julian case took shape shortly after 11 a.m. yesterday when the bailiff from Judge McComb's court put in an appearance in the corridors of the District Attorney's office, and, seeing Berman seated on a bench, announced that he was under arrest.

TAKEN TO COURT

In custody, Berman was taken at once to the courtroom, where he was confined in the prisoners' room until there was a recess in the trial, then in progress before the court. With the appearance of Attorney Christensen, Judge McComb stopped the other proceedings and announced that he had put the old case back on the calendar.

The court had just finished his remarks, most of them directed at the District Attorney, when Fitts and his chief deputy, Robert Stewart, hurried in and demanded to know what it was all about. Judge McComb replied briefly. Fitts asked permission to make a statement. McComb said he didn't want to hear it. Fitts declared that it was the right of any American citizen. McComb repeated that he had heard all he wanted to and when the District Attorney showed signs of talking anyway, the court directed him to step outside the courtroom.

RESETTING ASKED

Although he brought the old indictment back to life and set the trial date, Judge McComb declared that he thought it better that it be tried before some other judge and sent the case back to Judge Wood, presiding over the criminal calendar for resetting in another division.

Action on the resetting was expected from Judge Wood when that jurist convened court at 2 p.m., but after disposing of some other matters, the court adjourned without taking any action on Berman. In the meantime rumors were afloat that the grand jury would issue a statement and make an appear-

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IT is astonishing to see the change in the Mexican army during the past year—since the revolution.

The officers are beautifully uniformed and are snappy, soldierly young fellows, mostly from Chapultepec and San Jacinto. As we drive down the west coast we are guarded by one detachment after another. Their discipline is perfect. Our last detachment consisted of about twenty troopers from the Nineteenth Cavalry, and every one wore the insignia of a sharpshooter.

BANDIT WAR

After this Bristow affair is over the Mexican army is going on a bandit hunt of proportions. They will thereby follow the record of my old friend, Emilio Kosterlitzky, whose rurales made Northern Mexico as safe as a church. The colonel trained his crack troopers to shoot first and arrest them afterward. To commit a highway robbery in Sonora was the short route to a suicide's grave.

SCOTCH SHOPPING

This is the place for one of Scotch descent.

In the market place at Tepic this morning I saw a huge basket that suggested Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves. It was tall as a man and could have held a whole family. With nervous twitching I asked the price, and with some hesitation was told that it was two pesos—obviously a price that the owner expected me to knock down. One dollar! But how could one get the darn thing home?

LIKE JOAQUIN

When you come in close contact with the Joaquin Murrietas of real life they are not so attractive. When you get into Mexico all you want to see of the Don Q's is their tombstones.

There are several famous bandits in the State of Nayarit just like California's famous bandit over whom we have sentimentalized. They rob the rich and give to the poor.

Two of them were the famous Avena brothers. Like Murrietta, they eluded the officers for years in the hills. Finally they were invited to an innocent-sounding fiesta. Shooting commenced with the second waltz and they had a tasty funeral next day.

One of the bandits now at large is said to be a marahuana smoker—compared with which ordinary dope is a mild cough drop. His finish is as good as written.

MYSTERIOUS MOUNTAINS

The conditions in Nayarit are much the same as in California in the old days. The bandits come out of the hills; pounce down upon some unsuspecting rancher and gallop back again in a country so inaccessible that an army might hunt them for years. The only effective way to catch them is by spies.

SHOE SOLES

There is no problem as to what becomes of old automobile tires in Mexico. They become the soles of Indian sandals. Every time a peon turns up his foot you see a rubber tread that has become famous in the United States. They make better soles than the ancient cowhide, and are a lot cheaper.

MUSIC OF THE SOIL

The two most popular songs in Mexico now are "Show Me the Way to Go Home" and "That's

HERO OF FRONTIER DAYS REACHES END OF TRAIL

Col. Homer T. Wheeler, one of the best-known Regular Army officers on the retired list, a veteran of the Indian wars of the '70's and the Spanish-American War, died yesterday morning at the residence of E. A. Brininstool, 1428 Norton avenue, following a heart attack. Col. Wheeler was the author of two books dealing with his life on the western plains, "The Frontier Trail" and "Buffalo Days."

When a lad of 20 years, in 1868, Col. Wheeler journeyed to Fort Wallace, then the outskirts of civilization in Western Kansas, to enter the post trader's store as a clerk. Two years later he succeeded to the position of post trader, which he held until 1875, when he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Regular Army as the result of his skill and daring in guiding a detachment of United States troops to a hostile Indian village on Sappa Creek, Kan. The camp was attacked with heavy losses, both among the troops and the Indians.

FORMER CATTLEMAN

Before joining the army Col. Wheeler engaged in the cattle business, bringing the first herd of cattle into Western Kansas. He was at one time the owner of the famous Rose Creek Ranch, said to be one of the finest properties in Western Kansas.

CENSUS SHOWS FEW JOBLESS

Unemployment in Los Angeles Area Not Serious, Federal Questionnaire Discloses

Unemployment, at least hereabouts, is not nearly as large as some declare, according to the preliminary returns from United States census enumerators in this territory, it was revealed yesterday.

Although the census officials are prohibited from giving out specific information as to the official canvass that is of a confidential nature, census supervisors covering this area are unanimous in stating that the unemployment returns, based upon preliminary indications, are not going to show nearly as many men out of work as some pessimistic talk had inferred.

The complete and final figures on employment will not be available for some time after the count is made. According to unofficial reports, a sample district in the Los Angeles area showed that out of about 1100 persons counted in the district only twenty-six wage-earners were reported as not working. Of the twenty-six, thirteen were out on the day they were counted for personal reasons such as illness. And for the remaining thirteen about half were only temporarily laid off. The situation in this particular district thus appears actually better than normal.

At a meeting of the five district supervisors with the Citizens' Committee yesterday at luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, the need for the active co-operation of everyone was stressed if a 100 per cent count is to be obtained. Early returns from the district indicate that unless all individuals and groups get down to the business of seeing that everyone in Los Angeles is officially counted the city is going to fall below the population estimates that have been usually quoted by the various agencies for Los Angeles.

As Guy Marion of the Chamber of Commerce research department put it, the time to get the work done is right now—not after the books have been closed. When the census is completed and it is found that the enumeration has not been thorough because of the failure of people to co-operate with the enumerators, it will be too late to do anything about it.

Assurance was given again yes-

PRISON SITE WATER AMPLE

City Board Engineers Certify Bouquet Canyon; King Obdurate and Board Defers Action

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday deferred action on a resolution setting forth their position on the controversy over water resources at the proposed Bouquet Canyon site for a junior felon prison. It will be taken up at the next meeting.

The resolution was prepared following the board's consideration of a report on the site's water resources submitted by Olmsted & Gillelen, engineers, and presented to the board by Senator Rochester, secretary of the legislative committee designated to select the prison site.

The engineers' report, which asserts the water resources of the site are ample for the maximum needs of the prison, was given the approval of H. A. Van Norman, chief engineer of the Water Bureau, who described Olmsted & Gillelen as reliable experts on the matter. It is hoped by the sponsors of the Bouquet Canyon site that incorporation of this concurrence in the engineers' report in the resolution which the Water Board has under consideration may induce State Director of Finance King to withdraw his opposition to the site.

The latter, however, has asserted his positive belief that the water resources of the site are inadequate, but is himself reported as being favorable to a site in the Victor Valley region of the Mohave Desert. He has stated that he will approve the Bouquet Canyon site only if the Los Angeles Water Board can guarantee to supply 100 miners' inches from the aqueduct excess.

During the discussion at the Water Board meeting yesterday it was brought out that the board cannot legally make a promise to that effect even if it were practicable. It was also stated that it would be obviously ridiculous to make a definite promise of excess aqueduct water, in view of the fact that there is no manner of predicting that the aqueduct supply will be in the years to come.

Berman Jailed on Old Indictment by Judge McComb Who Criticises Dist.-Atty. Fi

ance before Judge Wood, who is also in charge of the grand jury, where they would recommend that Berman be released on his own recognizance.

RELEASE PLEA MADE

The grand jury duly appeared in Judge Wood's court some time later, but when the jurors arrived it was discovered that the judge had left his chambers and could not be found. As the jurors had returned an indictment in another case, Superior Judge Schauer was prevailed upon to take Judge Wood's place temporarily and his appearance was the signal for Attorney Christensen to make a motion that Berman's bail be revoked and that he be released.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart said that that was satisfactory with the District Attorney's office and Foreman Morris of the grand jury arose and announced that such a recommendation was also favorable to the body he represented.

"FRIEND OF COURT"

At this juncture, however, Attorney John Cooper injected himself into the scene by declaring that he appeared as a "friend of the court, a lawyer, a citizen and a taxpayer," and declared that he believed it would be advisable for Judge Schauer to read the transcript of the earlier proceedings before Judge McComb before rendering any decision.

"What's your interest in the matter?" demanded Pitts, who was also present.

"I want to advise the court that Attorney Cooper represents the complaining witness in the indictment against Berman as well as three defendants who were indicted as a result of Berman's testimony before the grand jury," added Stewart.

Cooper denied he represented the complaining witness.

NO BAIL ACTION

Judge Schauer called for order and then read the transcript of proceedings before Judge McComb, after which he declared that, in view of the fact that since the court had already ruled on the matter of Berman's bail, he did not feel that it was within his jurisdiction to change it.

"I am not considering the motion on its merits and I am denying it without prejudice, so that it can be reviewed at any time," said the court.

After Schauer had ruled, Attorney Christensen declared that if another ples to have the bail reduced is denied by Judge Wood a writ of habeas corpus will probably be sought in the Appellate Court. With no court scheduled today or tomorrow, however, it seemed likely that Berman will remain in jail over the week-end.

WILL MEET MONDAY

After making its recommendation in the bail matter, the grand jury adjourned, but will reconvene, it was stated, next Monday instead of Tuesday, its regular day to meet. This was taken as an indication that the jurors wish to remain on the scene of action to observe future events.

The indictment which Judge McComb restored to activity in the Berman case was returned by the 1927 grand jury on May 27, 1927, and was one of the first official charges forthcoming as a result of the crash of the Julian corporation. It lists one count of embezzlement and four of forgery.

Berman was arraigned on the indictment on September 12, 1927, and at that time bail was reduced from $250,000 to $10,000. Records show that since that date trial of the case was postponed six times by former Dist.-Atty. Keyes and eight times since Fitts became District Attorney. It was marked off calendar at the request of Fitts and Berman on September 10, 1929. Outside of the courtroom little was heard of the case, except that during the Keyes trial one of the assertions made against the defendants was that Berman gave Ben Getzoff $2000 to give to Keyes so that the indictment would be dismissed.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

The main charge contained in the indictment is that of embezzlement and is based largely upon the testimony Daniel Barnes of Long Beach. In brief, Barnes told the 1927 grand jury that on April 30, 1927, he went to the offices of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and gave Jacob Berman a check for $10,000, for which he was to receive shares of Julian stock. Berman at that time, according to Barnes, said that it would be several days before the stock could be transferred, but gave him a paper to show his investment, the paper being exhibited before the grand jury by Barnes. Barnes further testified that he was never able to get a share of stock and later found that Berman, after cashing his (Barnes's check) hurriedly, had left the city.

The forgery counts are based on assertedly fictitious names that appeared on overissued Julian stock.

Ten defendants, indicted for conspiracy to violate the Corporate Securities Act, also appeared in Judge Wood's court yesterday for plea, but the matter was postponed by mutual agreement until the 22nd inst.

SUIT ON BERMAN NOTES WILL NOT BE PRESSED

When called for a hearing yesterday the suit of Denis S. Dimond against Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, on two promissory notes, one for $40,000 and the other $16,800, was taken off calendar by Superior Judge Gould when the plaintiff asserted he will not prosecute the action at present. According to the complaint the full amount of the $40,000 note is due. Bennett had paid $3000 on the $16,800 note.

The notes were made out to H. D. Gilbert in 1927 just before the Julian Petroleum Company stock crash. They were secured with Julian stock as collateral. Later the notes were assigned by Gilbert to Dimond, who was represented in court by Attorney W. W. Wallace.

LEWIS CHECKED IN AT PRISON

Convicted Liquor Baron Handles Federal Mail Frauds Prisoner

TACOMA, April 11. (AP)—S. C. Lewis, convicted Julian Petroleum Corporation executive, arrived at the United States penitentiary on McNeil Island at 1:54 p.m. today. He was checked in by Roy Olmsted, former Pacific Northwest liquor baron, who is serving a Federal prison term for violation of the prohibition law. Olmsted's duty at the McNeil Island penitentiary includes checking in all new prisoners.

The former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation is under sentence of seven years at McNeil for using the mails to defraud in connection with the failure of a Los Angeles oil company.

He seemed in good spirits when he reached the prison and in no wise depressed by the long term that confronts him. Lewis, in company with twenty other Federal prisoners, made the trip from Los Angeles to Steilacoom by special car. They were taken to McNeil from Steilacoom in the prison launch.

SIGNAL HILL MEN ATTACK STATE LAW

Conservation Statutes Assailed by Attorney of Producing Interests

An attack on the State oil and gas law was pending yesterday in behalf of the Independent Petroleum Association as the result of permission of Superior Judge Crawford alloting ten days to Attorney Woolley in which to file a brief in cases involving enforcement of the law at Signal Hill.

Woolley, representing the organization of independent oil operators, asserted the State law to be confiscatory in principal because its enforcement threatened extinction of a large number of oil wells and violated private property rights. His brief will seek permission for conservative production above that which he declares the State law permits.

Hines Arrives Tomorrow on Inspection Visit

Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines, commanding the Ninth Corps Area, accompanied by Col. Singleton, training officer for the corps, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow afternoon by motor for the purpose of completing his annual inspection tour.

From 8:30 to 10 a.m. Monday he will inspect the R.O.T.C. units at the University of California at Los Angeles and from 10:30 to 11:30, the Harvard Military School. At noon he will address the Army Officers' Mess at Leighton's Cafeteria, 542 South Broadway. On this occasion, Lieut.-Col. William J. Cross of the Three Hundred and Sixty-third Infantry will preside and Brig.-Gen. Walter P. Story of the National Guard, will act as officer of the day. All army officers are invited to attend.

Inspection of the local army headquarters is scheduled from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., and the recruiting station from 3 to 4. Dinner with the National Guard at the Armory is slated for 6 o'clock, with inspection to follow.

Thousands See Students Open Westwood Fete

Students of the University of California at Los Angeles last night formally opened the first annual Westwood Village carnival with 30,000 visitors on hand to participate in the festivities. The carnival is in celebration of the opening of Westwood Village, which came into existence one year ago. The affair will conclude at 11:30 o'clock tonight.

A special feature of tonight's event will be a gigantic electrical spectacle with sun-arc lamps. Additional features on today's program include a children's carnival and parade to start at 3:30 p.m.

More than fifty booths are being operated by members of the various fraternity and sorority houses. It is expected that in excess of 60,000 persons will attend the affair.

CITY GRANTS COUNTY AID FUNDS ON ROAD

Permission was granted to the County Board of Supervisors by the City Council yesterday to proceed with the improvement of One Hundred and Sixteenth street between Alameda street and Central avenue. At the same time the Supervisors were instructed to withdraw $10,000 from the city's share of the County Good Roads Fund and apply it toward the cost of this improvement. The county had previously agreed to appropriate $14,000 to the project.

RECORD AND STATEMENTS ON JAILING OF BERMAN

The highlights of the investigation of the Julian Petroleum Corporation debacle yesterday were the proceedings in Superior Judge McComb's court, the statement of Dist.-Atty. Fitts censuring the jurist for his action, and the statement signed by Frederic I. Morris, foreman of the grand jury, backing the actions of Fitts and also censuring McComb. Transcript of the court proceedings and the statements of Fitts and the grand jury foreman follow:

JUDGE McCOMB

The proceedings in Judge McComb's court follow in part:

The Court: People vs. Jacob Berman, indictment No. 30,741. Mr. Richardson, will you represent the District Attorney for the purpose of this, please?

The Court: Let the record show the presence of the defendant with counsel. Gentlemen, I have before me the indictment returned by the 1927 grand jury, No. 30,741, wherein Jacob Berman, alias Jacob Berman and Jacob Bennett, is charged with having committed the crimes of forgery and embezzlement, both felonies. This is the case that was here previously, Mr. Christensen, and I think you represented the defendant as counsel in this case.

INDICTMENT MARKED OFF

I find that some time ago the trial of this indictment was marked off the calendar in this department at the request and upon the stipulation of both the District Attorney and the defendant; also that the bail was exonerated upon the representation that the defendant was under bond in other cases.

At the time this court endeavored to fix a date for the trial of the defendant on this indictment the court was assured by the District Attorney that the defendant would be prosecuted upon another indictment charging him with bribery, and that, therefore, this indictment could be placed off calendar.

The court was not told by the District Attorney that a promise of immunity had been made by him to the defendant on the bribery charge, as subsequently was disclosed. The court believes that it has been imposed upon in this matter.

Therefore, the court, of its own motion, and in the interest of justice and because of the fraud practiced upon it, now restores this case No. 30,741 to the calendar for trial Wednesday, April 23, 1930. Now, this case went off calendar with the provision that it could be restored on ten days' notice. This indictment bears an indorsement by the 1927 grand jury recommending that bail be fixed at the sum of $250,000.

JUDICIAL NOTICE

This court will take judicial notice of the fact that the District Attorney has promised this defendant immunity from punishment for committing several major crimes, including the crime of bribery of jurors, which crime strikes directly at the very heart of our institutions; yet we have in this county the shocking spectacle of the District Attorney promising immunity to a criminal so brazen as to almost boast of his corruption of the fountains of justice.

The court is of the opinion that if the defendant realizes that he will actually have to stand trial before a court and jury upon this indictment, he might flee from the United States. Therefore, this court will follow the 1927 grand jury's recommendation and does now fix defendant's bail upon this indictment at $250,000. The defendant is remanded to the custody of the Sheriff until such time as he shall post this bail.

In passing, this court calls attention to the fact that apparently this case was overlooked by the District Attorney and evidently the defendant has not as yet been promised immunity by the District Attorney from punishment for the crimes of forgery and embezzlement alleged in this indictment.

CASE TRANSFERRED

Because Mr. Fitts has seen fit to assail this court in political speeches made by him in this county during the last few weeks, the formal proof of which is being prepared, and because of the extraordinary concessions and indulgences bestowed upon this defendant by the District Attorney in other criminal cases now pending, this court does not care to preside at the trial of this indictment, but does now transfer the case to Department 27 for transfer to another department.

[At this point in the proceedings Dist.-Atty. Fitts with Chief Deputy Stewart arrived in the courtroom and joined in the discussion.]

Mr. Stewart: I am here.

Mr. Fitts: What is the proceeding, may we find out?

The Court: You can find out in the master calendar department.

Mr. Fitts: Has the case been set for trial?

The Court: It has been set for trial and transferred to the master calendar for retransfer to another department.

Mr. Fitts: What case is it, if your Honor please?

The Court: People vs. Berman, No. 30741.

Mr. Fitts: May we ask in open court at whose request this warrant was served?

ON COURT'S MOTION

The Court: It was served upon the Court's own motion.

Mr. Fitts: Your Honor was aware, I take it, then, that Mr. Bennett was a witness in the conspiracy cases to comm.. usury?

The Court: Mr. Fitts, I don't care to discuss this case any further. It has been transferred to Department 27.

Mr. Fitts: I desire to make a statement.

The Court: I don't care to hear anything further.

Mr. Stewart: Will you hear an objection, if the Court please?

The Court: There is nothing before this court to object to. It has been transferred to Department 27.

Mr. Fitts: If Your Honor please—

The Court: I don't care to discuss the matter any further. People vs. Effie Reynolds.

"YOU MAY STEP OUT"

Mr. Fitts: I am just informed that there were certain remarks made by the bench—

The Court: Mr. Fitts, I am now trying another case, and I don't care to discuss this case with you.

Mr. Fitts: Will Your Honor be fair enough to permit the reporter to read Your Honor's remarks to our office in order that I may have the privilege, as any American citi-

DIST.-ATTY. FITTS

The statement of Dist.-Atty Fitts follows:

The action of Judge Marshall F. McComb in causing the arrest and imprisonment of Jacob Berman at this juncture, places in serious jeopardy, if it does not actually destroy, all hope of convicting any guilty person in any way connected with the gigantic Julian Petroleum Corporation crash.

Judge McComb's incomprehensible action, which he took apparently of his own volition without consultation with this office, or, so far as I am informed, with the grand jury of this county, or defense counsel, not only virtually nullifies the efforts of this office and the grand jury to convict those guilty of the overissue of Julian stock, those guilty of jury bribing, and other crimes, but brings Berman to trial on a case which was a legal subterfuge of three years ago to get him within the jurisdiction of the courts through extradition process. This case is unimportant as compared with any and all of the other cases growing out of the Julian investigation. No one connected with the District Attorney's office has felt that a conviction could be obtained in this particular case, and the public should know that Judge McComb had ample opportunity to inform himself in every respect regarding the fact that the case was merely a legal maneuver to return Berman to California.

UNDER SENTENCE

Berman, now under sentence of seven years in the Federal penitentiary, was at liberty on bail exceeding $50,000. Judge McComb's experience should have informed him that Berman has at all times been in the custody of deputy sheriffs. Berman has shown himself willing at all times to appear when called, and Judge McComb's action in placing him under additional bond of $250,000 merely adds to the incongruity of this whole proceeding.

It can be readily understood that my natural reaction to the conduct of Judge McComb in wrecking the work of the grand jury and this office would inspire me to make some personal reference to what I consider an inexcusable abuse of judicial power, but the importance of these cases to the people of this State is so great that I feel that only the exercise of the calmest judgment and reason will enable me, with the help of the grand jury and my assistants, to overcome what really amounts to the tragic consequences of this unexplainable act of judicial interference.

UNIQUE ACTION

By his unique action today, constituting deliberate harassment of a State's witness, Judge McComb has taken unto himself powers of a public prosecutor and usurped the functions of the District Attorney's office under circumstances which cannot be justified by the facts, as he could have learned by consultation with this office exactly what Berman has stated to the District Attorney, the effect of which is that his testimony is not made for the purpose of gaining immunity and that he is willing, along with other guilty persons, to take the consequences of his actions in the Julian crash.

The effect of this judicial action is obviously injurious, not only to matters already taken up by the grand jury, but to the pending investigation respecting the same subject matter now before the grand jury.

I cannot reach any logical explanation of Judge McComb's action, but regardless of his motives, whether they were dictated by personal dislike for the District Attorney or by any consideration of political allegiance to my political foes, I feel that he should be held strictly responsible by the people of this State for the consequences of his ruling.

GRAND JURY

The statement of the grand jury follows:

To the people of Los Angeles county:

The action of Judge Marshall F. McComb in causing the arrest and imprisonment of Jacob Berman and placing him under a bond of $250,000, in addition to a bond of $50,000 under which Berman now is and has been for some time, threatens to destroy the work of this grand jury during the past two months, which has had for its object the punishment of those guilty of the gigantic and rascally frauds in connection with the looting of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, and we wish the people of Los Angeles county and, in fact, of the State of California, to be fully informed by us on this subject.

Berman appeared before this grand jury for days, giving testimony on the question of where the stockholders' money of the Julian Petroleum Corporation went to, as well as those guilty of the robbery.

Our action in returning indictments was based on our best judgment and on the law, and the action taken by Judge McComb is absolutely incomprehensible to us.

Let no one be misled. The said action of Judge McComb threatens one of the most serious miscarriages of justice on record and should be deeply resented by citizens of this county and State.

[Signed.]—The 1930 grand jury of Los Angeles county. Frederick I. Morris, foreman; A. N. Townsend, secretary.

DIRECTING INQUIRY IN WEIRD MURDER

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello

CHARGE AIMED AT 'ATTIC MAN'

part sat listless and silent with head bowed over his long white hands.

Man and wife met in the morning just outside the jury room and she with Defense Attorney Earl S. Wakeman implored Sanhuber to tell "all the truth."

"If you've anything wrong on your mind, Walter, you should tell all the truth, for the truth will not harm you," she said.

FEAR RECOUNTED

During the day Attorney Wakeman received a telegram from Milwaukee, former home of Sanhuber and the Oesterreichs, where he first began his career as an "attic man" in the Oesterreich home, saying that Sanhuber feared for his life because of Oesterreich long before the latter was slain in Los Angeles.

Wakeman said the telegram is from a Carl Gunderson, who professed to know Sanhuber in Milwaukee and knew of his fear of Oesterreich. The attorney says he will investigate the telegram by questioning Sanhuber as to his knowledge of a Carl Gunderson.

The defense attorney also turned over to Costello a packet of anonymous letters received by his client, apparently from a woman, who spoke of "the burden on my mind" and that the "mills of the gods are grinding." The writer and reasons for the cryptic letters are sought by Costello.

FULL QUIZ WANTED

Wakeman is persistent in his requests for a supplementary grand jury investigation of the Oesterreich case. He asserts that he has reasons to believe—and bits of evidence to back his statement—that a startling story of intrigue and double dealing lie in the wake of the killing of Oesterreich.

Thus it is that a local attorney, whose name is withheld, is due, according to the District Attorney's office, to be questioned in relation to some of the assertions of Wakeman, with probable grand jury action.

Scores Scared by Oil Blast; No Harm Done

Audible for blocks, a terrific explosion of fuel oil in a basement furnace late yesterday sent the fire department and a large crowd of citizens scurrying to Barker Brothers' Hollywood store at 6834 Hollywood Boulevard, only to learn the blast had expended its force through a safety chimney and caused neither damage nor injury. As the detonation rocked the neighborhood somebody turned in a fire alarm and scores of persons phoned the police for details of a supposed earthquake.

Unaware the explosion had caused such excitement C. H. Wasen, night watchman, and Arthur Clarke, engineer, emerged from the basement to find firemen clamoring for admittance and crowds milling about behind them. They explained the explosion had dissipated itself up the furnace chimney. Similar explosions, they stated, have occurred in the past, the chimney being provided as a precaution against backfiring.

Drunk-Driving Charges Filed

Two men are charged with driving their automobiles while intoxicated, in complaints issued by the District Attorney yesterday.

It is charged that William M. Button drove his automobile into a Los Angeles Railway street car at the northern terminus on Central avenue on the 10th inst. The other complaint names Louis Frites, who was picked up by police for driving in an erratic fashion.

LEACH WILL RETAIN POST FOR HARBOR

Assistant City Attorney Slated for Helper, Not Successor, Says Allen

Assistant City Attorney Leach is to remain on the Harbor Department's legal staff, with which he has been connected for seventeen years, it was announced yesterday by City Attorney Werner, who stated that the plan to replace him on May 1 was due to a misconception that the Harbor Commission wanted to replace him with another attorney to prosecute a number of important cases now in the courts.

Leach will be retained as law office executive for the Harbor Department and H. H. Harris, appointed assistant City Attorney for the Harbor Department, effective May 1, will be retained to handle the court cases, Werner said.

President Allen and members of the Harbor Department said yesterday that Leach is too valuable a man to lose, but that the increase in litigation, due to the tremendous expansion of the port, requires the services of a skilled attorney who will have time to handle court cases.

King will be notified at once of this fact, it was said yesterday, and asked to defer any action on the prison site until the board has acted on the resolution and he has received a copy of it.

At yesterday's meeting Deputy City Attorney Fox suggested to Senator Rochester that in order to convince King that he has done everything possible to comply with the latter's request for a guarantee of aqueduct water, he should apply to the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District for a guaranteed water supply from the Boulder Canyon aqueduct. Rochester said that he will discuss the idea with his committee and that they will probably make such a request at the next meeting of the Metropolitan board.

WRITER'S LOVE MUSINGS HELP WIFE GET DIVOR

Philosophic musings of Ronald Mackey Caldwell, English writer and philosopher, were read in court yesterday from a long letter, written to his wife, Mrs. Flora Stenhouse Caldwell, former opera star, in trial of her divorce suit before Superior Judge Archbald. A decree was granted.

The letter was offered by the wife's attorney, E. Marion Crawford. The writer with all his artistic skill defined in unmistakable terms his feelings for his wife. She had testified that Caldwell had deserted her in Munich, Germany, while they were on a world tour. Also, that the writer has another living wife, Jessie M. Caldwell, living in Los Angeles. Caldwell, she said, is now living in London.

Mrs. Caldwell is asserted to be a member of a former wealthy San Francisco family. Her address here is 601 South Coronado street. She and Caldwell were married at Santa Ana on May 13, 1926, and separated on October 1, 1927.

"You seemed to offer me at best but bondage," the philosopher wrote to Mrs. Caldwell after he left her in Germany.

"My work crumbled under my fingers. Life with you looked to me but a grey, colorless thing, in which the only part I had was one of humiliating servitude.

"Finally—and I neither blush nor hesitate to write this—I met one whom it seemed could yield me a little of what I longed for, youth, beauty (not mere prettiness,) vivacity, and if not a measure of wit and intellect, at least amusement.

"A man of my age cannot expect to be entertained by a vivacious woman in her middle twenties for nothing. At best it costs money, if not in an exchange of actual cash, at least in one's ability to house and provide for. Call this dishonorable on my part if you will; an infatuation does not weight the niceties of these human ethics.

GIRL FRIGHTENS ROBBER AWAY

She Hurls Alarm Clock At Marauder Despite His Threat to Shoot

Frightened away by Miss Lois Perry, daughter of Mrs. L. D. Perry, 825 South Downey Road, who threw the family alarm clock at him, a heavily armed burglar who Thursday night attempted to burglarize the house was sought yesterday by deputy sheriffs.

Miss Perry, according to a Sheriff's report, was alone in the house when she heard a noise and discovered the burglar, described as about 17 years of age, hiding in a closet. Disregarding his threat to shoot, the young woman picked up the alarm clock and threw it. The burglar leaped through a window and fled without taking anything.

PIONEERS IN BANK FIELD BANQUETED

Veteran Security Pair Given Watches in Honor of Their Long Service

In honor of their completion yesterday of forty and thirty-five years, respectively, as Los Angeles bankers, Tracy Q. Hall, vice-president and director, and John H. Griffin, trust officer, Security-First National Bank, last evening were tendered a joint testimonial dinner at the Jonathan Club by lifelong associates. A wrist watch was presented to each, with W. D. Longyear, pioneer banker, presiding over the affair.

It was as messengers that both Mr. Hall and Mr. Griffin started their banking careers. They next became stenographers for women had but begun their invasion of the business world at that time.

As a youth, Mr. Hall enjoyed wide fame as a champion bicycle rider. He was the captain of one of the racing teams and its members, now prominent business and professional men, still remain his closest friends.

Mr. Griffin went into the employ of the Security Bank just two years before the horse cars on Main street were displaced by electric cars. He remembers the city when a Saturday night promenade to hear the band play on the entrance balcony of the Nadeau Hotel was the thing to do. Los Angeles then had 70,000 people. As a youth he was an amateur horticulturist and geologist, and has followed these two subjects as hobbies since. He has ranching interests and is a vice-president and director of the Ojai Oil Company.

Health Board Places Ban on Doubtful Milk

On recommendation of Health Officer Parrish, the Health Commission yesterday passed an order prohibiting any milk being brought into Los Angeles from outside counties which may be from tubercular cows. The order is similar to one enforced by county health authorities.

Enforcement of the order depends on the inspectors employed to test milk in outside counties.

The Health Commission now has an ordinance before the City Council asking for authority to charge a fee of eight-tenths of 1 cent for each 100 pounds of milk brought in from outside counties, so that milk inspection may be carried out at the receiving end.

Delay Marks Noonan Case

The probation hearing of Jack Noonan, brother of Mollie O'Day and Sally O'Neill, motion-picture actresses, yesterday was continued until the 18th inst. by Superior Judge Schauer to permit a more thorough investigation. Noonan recently pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving property stolen from the home of Ted Lewis, vaudeville artist. Originally Noonan was charged with burglarizing the Lewis home.

BOULEVARD SETBACK LINES CONSIDERED

Inasmuch as it is planned to make Burbank Boulevard 100 feet wide from Ventura Boulevard to the east city boundary, a resolution introduced in the City Council by Councilman Randall yesterday pointed out, provision should be made for the establishment of setback lines along Burbank Boulevard on that basis. The resolution was referred to the City Planning Commission and the Council's City Planning Committee.

CHERRY TREE LANE GETS START

Westwood University Adds to Beauty

Madalyn Pugh and Florrie Witkowski

THROUGH the generosity of K. Mutow of Los Angeles the University of California at Los Angeles now has a cherry-tree lane. Twenty Japanese cherry trees were planted with appropriate ceremonies yesterday along one of the walks on the Westwood campus.

According to a letter received by Director Ernest C. Moore, Mr. Mutow took this means to express his appreciation to the country of his adoption and particularly to the university, a monument of culture. The cherry tree, said Mr. Mutow, stands as a symbol of eternal friendship and the kindly spirit of Japan.

Two other gifts of trees have recently been received. Mrs. Frederick Bentel gave a California live oak and Andrew Jackson IV, great-grandson of President Jackson, donated a large hickory tree which once grew on the old Jackson estate in Tennessee. The tree will be planted Tuesday at 3 p.m.

CONVENTION HAS HOT FINISH

Club Women's Federation Winds Up Assembly With Series of Hectic Sessions

BY MYRA NYE

A strenuous day marked the finale of the convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday in Glendale. Sharp clashes between those on the platform and delegates on the floor, the interruption of speakers in conferences and the final denouement of discussions served to make the convention a lively one.

James E. Davis, ex-Chief of Police, in the first session of the day was interrupted by a white-haired delegate from Los Angeles Ebell. She told him flatly he was misstating facts as to women drivers.

"Women's wiles, such as employed in attempting to talk or vamp officers out of tickets for violation of laws, might be a vital factor in lessening accident if used to back up police, courts and prosecutors," said Mr. Davis, who now is head of the traffic division of the Los Angeles Police Department, and his challenger told him he must take back his words as to women's wild driving and their evasion of the law. The speaker, however, held to his contention, which he said he is prepared to back up with facts.

Dr. Elizabeth Mason-Hohl presided at this session, a joint conference of the division of public health and child welfare. "Conservation of Life Through Safety in Traffic" was a topic. Dr. Alice Barker Ellsworth was cochairman, as head of the child welfare division.

GREATEST CLASH

The greatest clash of the convention came in the next session when resolutions were presented by Mrs. Georgia Parsons, chairman of resolutions and president of the Los Angeles Teachers' Club.

"You commend President Hoover in your resolutions and he draws a salary. I can't see why you shouldn't commend Mrs. Winter when she draws a salary," said Mrs. Charles Van De Water of Long Beach and her remark terminated a long and heated discussion on the resolution to condemn the practice of showing "charming and attractive women smoking on the screen and thus awakening in young girls a desire to emulate them in an expensive and unhealthy habit." The resolution also contained clauses regarding the showing of pictures where intoxicating liquors are served.

The resolution passed unanimously and the same aproval was given one to uphold and commend Mrs. Thomas G. Winter in her work as representative of organized women in the Motion Picture Producers' Association.

PRODUCERS RAPPED

Mrs. J. F. Burdge of Huntington Park Ebell, attacked the good faith of the producers, aiming her remarks at what she called the failure of Will Hays. When she was asked to withdraw the resolution she said they would have to walk over her dead body and several others before she would withdraw it. She carried her point with the passage.

When Mrs. Walter F. Malone, president of the Montebello Women's Clubs, expressed the idea that Mrs. Winter's viewpoint might be a different one as a woman receiving a salary from the producers. Mrs. Daniel Baptiste, president of one of the county federations, answered with a defense of any woman's privilege and right to accept a salary the same as a man might without having his integrity impeached.

WORLD COURT FAVORED

Among other resolutions passed was the one urging entry of the United States in the World Court, another giving the federation's backing to President Hoover's plans for naval disarmament, and a third urging return of living music to theaters.

A constructive portion of the program was the last symposium late yesterday, when the subject was "Looking Forward." The viewpoint of the physician was given by Dr. Belle Wood-Comstock; that of the nurse, by Miss Mary K. West; the lawyer by Miss Vere Radir Norton, the osteopathic physician by Dr. Lillian Whiting; the business woman by Miss Grace Stoermer; the teacher by Miss Georgia Carson, and the musician by Mrs. Frances Arnold Greenwood.

The convention closed last night with a banquet in the Masonic Temple of Glendale with more than 500 women attending and Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood presiding for the last time this year. An address was given by Dr. Ernest C. Moore of the University of California at Los Angeles and a musical recital by Miss Mary Jane Mayhew, harpist; Dr. W. Park Richardson, baritone, and Ivadell Brown.

In the morning Frederick Vercoe, public defender of Los Angeles county, addressed the delegates.

Art Students Give Pageant of Springtime

Art students of Southland high schools joined yesterday in producing a pageant, "Symbols of Spring," at the Washington High School to inaugurate an art fellowship which will enable outstanding pupils to attend some more advanced art academy.

Forty art students appeared in the pageant, which was conceived and produced by the Washington High art faculty, headed by Miss Helen Scheck. Music for the pageant was provided by the Washington High music department.

The pageant, an Easter spectacle, was in four parts; man and growth of the soil; daytime—elements of earth and sky; night—elements of earth and sky; joy and new life.

Gorgeous costumes were designed and worn by representatives of various high school art departments. Some of the more striking designs and their schools were "Spring," Washington High; "Dawn," Fairfax; "Zodiac," Pasadena Junior College; "Moon," Gardena; "Congo," Hoover, Glendale; "Moods of Night," Otis Art Institute; "Comet" and "Nature," Washington, and "Rain," Pasadena Junior College.

Following the pageant Douglas Shearer, chief sound engineer of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, explained how "talkies" are made.

RECALL MOVE GIVEN SETBACK

Writ Denied in Culver City Removal Efforts

New Attempt Will be Made to Oust Officials

Mayor and One Councilman at End of Terms

Culver City's protracted recall election fight reached a climax yesterday with a decision by the District Court of Appeal denying a petition for a writ of mandate to compel the City Clerk to call an election to recall Mayor Houck and Councilmen Earl E. Bobier, Dave A. Clark, Dan F. Coombs and Harvey W. Kinkead.

Separate petitions for the removal of individual Councilmen fell far short of meeting legal requirements, none of them having more than forty-five names, the court found, whereas 398 signatures are needed to meet the requirements of a statute specifying that voters to the number of 25 per cent of the entire vote cast for the office in question at the last election are essential.

A joint petition for the recall of all the Councilmen was four names short of the required total.

Attorney Frank J. Lavan, who represented Charles M. Lynn, the petitioner for the mandate writ, said the decision means that a new recall move will be started. A rehearing by the Appellate Court will not be asked, he said.

At the same time Lavan said Houck's and Bobier's terms expire Monday, when a new election will be held. Lavan said that the outcome of the balloting will be awaited before a new recall move is inaugurated.

SUSPECT IN GIRL CASE ARRESTED

Howard Durbin Accused of Aiding in Her Delinquency as Inquiry Continues

Accused of representing Ella La Nenander, 17 years of age, as his wife, Howard S. Durbin, 50, of 808 South San Pedro street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The girl was picked up by police Thursday on a complaint by Los Angeles High School authorities that she had stolen a coat belonging to a pupil. She is held at Juvenile Bureau for identification.

Detective Lieutenants Whaley and Craig of Wilshire division, who arrested Durbin, report that he admits having lived with the girl as Mr. and Mrs. Hal Coe but denies bringing her in an automobile to Los Angeles. Police say he asserts he picked her up on the streets here.

When taken in charge, the girl said a man brought her here in a car from Oakland and that her stepfather is Howard M. Smith of Tracy. She said she left the man after mistreatment.

Juvenile authorities and the Sheriff's staff yesterday continued attempts to learn her identity. Detective Captain McCaleb had expressed belief that she is Hazel Midland, who is reported to have left Port Orchard, Wash., with a man last July.

LIFE TERM FOR SLAYER OF HUSBAND

Mrs. Reynolds Ordered to San Quentin as Sequel of Hearing on Sanity

Mrs. Effie Reynolds, convicted of slaying her husband with a butcher knife while he slept in their home at 1009 West Eighth Place on February 14, last, must go to San Quentin prison to serve a life sentence, Superior Judge McComb ruled yesterday.

The ruling was made at the close of a hearing to determine the woman's sanity. Mrs. Reynolds was convicted Thursday of first-degree murder, but the jury recommended life imprisonment.

It was charged that Mrs. Reynolds quarreled with her husband when he threatened to leave her for another woman and then killed him with a butcher knife while he slept.

Defense Attorneys Moses Davis and George Stoddard sought to prove that Mrs. Reynolds was insane at the time of the crime.

The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson.

Mexican Held at Tia Juana for Harbor Slaying

Rafael Zamudio, 42-year-old Mexican lumber worker of Wilmington, was arrested at Tia Juana yesterday on request of Captain of Detectives A. L. Gentry for the murder at Wilmington on March 6, last, of Francisco Pacheco.

Armed with extradition papers, Dep. Dist.-Atty. W. A. Brayton left Long Beach by airplane late yesterday to bring the prisoner to this city.

WOMAN STRUCK DOWN BY PURSE-SNATCHER

Struck on the head and knocked to the ground by a purse-snatcher Thursday night, Mrs. Alice L. Patriquin, 65 years of age, of 1165 East Seventy-sixth street, yesterday was reported recovering at her home. The woman, according to a Sheriff's report, was hit on the head from the rear by an unseen person who grabbed her purse and ran. She was given assistance by a near-by resident and pronounced not seriously hurt by a police surgeon.

The following news will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. Fowler Sturgis, late photographer with Witzels. Mr. Sturgis is opening the most beautiful portrait studio at 5655 Wilshire Boulevard on Tuesday, April the 15th. The studio occupies the entire second floor of the building, and mere adjectives fail to do justice to its loveliness! All the friends and patrons of Mr. Sturgis are invited to the open house he will observe from 10 in the morning until 10 at night, at which time they may see how utterly attractive and complete his studio is. You know it's a mark of distinction to have your portrait made by Mr. Sturgis, so go up and arrange for a sitting soon, won't you? The phone number is WHitney 4500.

To clean an oil painting, rub the surface with a pared white potato, cutting away the soiled potato as it picks up the dirt; this is harmless and the picture will look like new. A woolen cloth moistened with olive oil is also good. To restore brightness to an oil painting, carefully apply to the surface some fresh milk on a soft cloth.

It is not often that people become so enthusiastic over a product that they voluntarily want to aid the manufacturer of that product in getting the world acquainted with it. However, the following letter from Mrs. S. M. Swordling, 6605 Esplanade, Playa Del Rey, Cal., is an instance of this kind:

"Since time immemorial educators in all lines have been given praise by the world, and now after so many years of imperfect coffee making, the Joannes Corporation of Los Angeles are educating the public how to make perfect coffee by the use of their original Ben-Hur Drip Coffee, and Ben-Hur Healthful coffee maker.

"You who have never enjoyed coffee, or have felt you have had to give it up on account of your doctor's advice, or because you, yourself, knew it disagreed with you, just buy a can of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee and one of the Ben-Hur Drip Coffee making appliances, drink a cup or two for breakfast, for it will not give you indigestion or acid condition of the stomach. Drink it at your evening meal for it will not keep you awake.

"I have found it the easiest to make and the finest flavored coffee on the market, clear as amber and healthful. Do not make the mistake I did and try other so-called drip coffees in the Ben-Hur Healthful coffee maker, nor allow your grocer to regrind other brands, for I find they do not compare with the specially processed original Ben-Hur Drip Coffee.

"The coffee-drinking public should recognize the wonderful work of Joannes Corporation and thank them for introducing, through their educational campaign, a blend of coffee so deliciously good, and also for introducing a method that now makes coffee drinking healthful, rather than injurious. I feel that I can truthfully say that anyone using Ben-Hur Drip Coffee, made with the Ben-Hur Drip Coffee maker, for one week, will never use any other brand.

"Yours for the Original Ben-Hur Drip, that Deliciously Good, Healthful coffee.

"MRS. S. M. SWORDLING."

So many inquiries have come to me asking me where artists' colors may be purchased and so it is with no little enthusiasm that I hasten to tell my readers that at Mathews Paint Company's three stores you will find them in the most alluring variety of shades! Every hue and color, in fact—and such splendid quality. Brushes of every kind may be bought as well at Mathews, indeed, it is the home or artists' materials of every kind. I might say in passing that the new "modern" picture frames I have been speaking of have arrived, and may be purchased any time now, so go in soon and make your selection. Here are the three addresses: 1245 S. Hill at Pico, 1559 N. Vine in Hollywood, and 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

It won't be long now before the shelves of every pantry in every Los Angeles home will be stocked with Guasti Wine Jellies. Nor is it hard to understand why, for never will you be able to buy any finer jellies, nor ones that are made of purer ingredients! You see, unusually great care has been taken by the makers—who are no other than the Italian Vineyard Company, with fifty years of reputation to uphold, to give us the finest product on the market, and to prove their success you need but take one taste of their wine jellies to be convinced. The wine used in the making of Guasti Jellies comes from the best of famous old vintages of the largest vineyard in the world. Don't you see for yourself that such care employed by a concern whose reputation for giving us the best is never questioned, results in a product which is a world beater? Where may you buy these Guasti Jellies, do you ask? From your grocer, and if he hasn't them as yet call the order department of the Italian Vineyard Co., 1248 Palmetto st. INFANT VICTIM OF CRASH

Two Men Seriously Hurt in Auto-Train Smash; Motorcyclist Succumbs to Injuries

Marion, 8-months-old daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Smith of 1151 West Thirty-eighth street, probably will die, surgeons report, from injuries received yesterday when her mother's automobile collided with another car at Ninth street and Oxford avenue. The child is in the Children's Hospital with a fractured skull. The other machine, according to police, was driven by Mrs. Virginia Edwards of 316 North Bixel street. Both she and Mrs. Smith escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Seriously injured when the auto of the Sheriff's homicide detail and mobile which he was driving crashed into a Santa Fe train in Bandini early yesterday morning, R. L. Reddish, 24 years of age, of 7111 Cedar street, Huntington Park, is in the General Hospital prison ward. Both Reddish and his companion, Albert Lewis, 24, of the same address, who escaped injury, were accused under the county ordinance against drunkenness, Lewis being booked in the County Jail.

The automobile driven by Reddish, according to investigating officers, crashed broadside into the thirty-fifth car of the train as it was passing near the Simon brickyard. At the hospital, it was stated the injured man had a possible skull fracture.

Perry E. Litch, 21, 511 South Raymond street, Alhambra, died yesterday morning at the General Hospital as the result of injuries sustained Thursday night when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile on Atlantic Boulevard north of Whittier Boulevard.

Litch, according to a Sheriff's office report, crashed into an automobile driven by W. S. Pitts, 960 Lowell street. Chief Deputy Coroner Macdonald referred investigation of the accident to Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide detail and ordered an inquest for Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Coroner's office.

Walter Chappell, 70 years of age, 331 West Fortieth street, died in General Hospital last night from injuries received in traffic March 15. He was struck at Plymouth street and Wilshire Boulevard by Mrs. A. L. Megerage, of Olive View, Cal. The body was taken to the county morgue.

Mrs. Dickinson Wins Alimony

Justin W. Dickinson, realty operator, must pay his wife, Mrs. Josephine Dickinson, $750 a month, for support of herself and her 11-year-old son, according to a decision of Superior Judge Guerin yesterday.

Dickinson testified that he was worth only $282,000, and not $500,000, as asserted by Attorney Joseph Scott, for Mrs. Dickinson.

Attorney R. R. Woolley, for Dickinson, argued that $200 a month was enough alimony for the defendant to pay. The couple separated in 1926, after twenty-two years of married life.

THE SPRINGS AND THE CANYON

Palm Springs represents culture, luxury, the white man's most spectacular improvement of desert wilds with all the comforts and conveniences of the city.

Palm Canyon, just six miles away, is on the Agua Caliente reservation, still in the primeval state, the home of the Indian, "vacant of our glorious gains."

The inhabitants of the canyon ought to be able to learn something from the visitors to the springs. The white man blessed with so many advantages ought to be willing to share them with his humble red brother.

He is.

Delegates from the Palm Canyon reservation have just complained to United States Attorney McNabb that sightseeing hordes of whites are littering up their reserve with tin cans, banana skins, empty bottles, picnic boxes and other accessories of our superior civilization.

They said plaintively, "Our beautiful canyon is being ruined."

Can it be possible that after all these years of contact with the ways of the white man, the Indian still considers the canyon more desirable without his esthetic touch?

Is it not rather presumptuous for the man of the hills to set his idea of what constitutes beauty against the more highly developed tastes of the man in the city?

The ingratitude of the primitive is incomprehensible.

CENSUS DIFFICULTIES

Census takers report a regrettable lack of co-operation on the part of some Los Angeles residents. Enumerators are insulted, flouted and refused information in some cases; in others they fail to find anyone at home on repeated calls; at times apartment and hotel managers make difficulties. If enumerators exercise their full powers—and they have all the authority of the United States government behind them—they can make serious trouble for obstructors. It should not be necessary to take drastic action, such as has been started against one public official. If the charges against this man are correct, his was a flagrant case since public officials, of all people, should realize the proper attitude of citizens to their government.

While similar difficulties are no doubt being met with all over the country, the population of Los Angeles has so many recent arrivals who are not assimilated civically that trouble is proportionately greater here than in most places. Unless the attitude of a part of the public is changed, there is danger that Los Angeles will fall short of its true count.

This would be an extremely unfortunate result, since a good deal depends on a correct enumeration. Neither at Washington nor at Sacramento will Los Angeles be able to speak with its due weight unless the census is complete and correct; but this is only the more obvious, official aspect of the situation; there are dozens of ways in which the count affects the city and will make a difference, for ten years at least, in the prosperity of every resident. There is a good deal more than civic pride involved.

No harm can come to anyone from complete frankness with the census enumerator. The information is completely confidential and cannot be used, with respect to any individual, to his detriment. The faith of the United States government is pledged to that. The information will never appear except in the shape of general averages, in which no one can possibly trace the statistics of any person. It will not be made the basis for any taxation or assessment, nor can it be made evidence in any court. In other words, there is no "comeback" of any nature.

The census, therefore, deserves the hearty co-operation of every citizen and resident; it can only affect him in beneficial ways.

Everyone has a certain stake in the community, no matter how slight—and this stake will be increased by a correct census count. It cannot possibly be diminished. It is not only a duty, it is an advantage, to be listed in this great enrollment.

Only a few days remain for the enumerators to complete their work. It is not too late, however, for a change in attitude, for giving the workers full co-operation, for passing the word among neighbors and friends that the questions the enumerators ask are legitimate, necessary, and that there is every reason for answering them promptly and no reason for not doing so. Householders who are necessarily absent or who believe they have been missed should notify census headquarters by letter or telephone so that they may be taken care of. The list of district headquarters and telephone numbers is printed daily in The Times.

If Los Angeles should fall short by 200,000 or 300,000 of the total which the census should show, the adverse consequences will fall upon everyone.

COOLIDGE ON PROHIBITION

The utterances of Calvin Coolidge on prohibition, during his tenure of the Presidency and since, have been few, and more than ordinary interest, therefore, attaches to his views as set forth in a current magazine article. While his economy of words on the subject may have led to misunderstanding in some circles (more or less willful) few students of Coolidge and his ways of thinking and expressing himself will be surprised to learn that the former President believes that enforcement of the law as law is more important than the question of whether or not men want to drink.

Acknowledging that there remains a difference of opinion, Mr. Coolidge says, in the only words that the publishers of the magazine, Hearst's Cosmopolitan, have given permission for direct quotation, "Considering that people have differed most radically on the best method of regulating the sale of liquor for generations, it is not likely to be settled for a long time to come." Set by itself, this might be taken to indicate that Mr. Coolidge considers prohibition still debatable. In another place, however, he declares that the Eighteenth Amendment will unquestionably remain in the Constitution indefinitely and that the only attitude the government can take is to continue its best efforts for its enforcement.

Enforcement is necessary, and will in itself contribute to settling the question, Mr. Coolidge thinks. Recalling the attitude of Lincoln toward slavery and the fugitive slave law, Mr. Coolidge points out that the Great Emancipator never counseled resistance to or violation of the law, but instead held that, until changed, it should be maintained and obeyed. The only alternative to observance of the law by the people, and its enforcement by the sworn officers, is a condition of anarchy, is Mr. Coolidge's emphatic opinion.

Such views can give no comfort to the wets, and should encourage the drys to renewed efforts. No one can successfully challenge the contention of Lincoln, which Mr. Coolidge adopts by citing it with approval, that not even human slavery was so great an abuse as to warrant violating the law to overcome it.

The liquor question has been debated for generations, and no solution has been found which satisfies everybody. Prohibition as a solution may not be perfect; there are objections to it on both theoretical and practical grounds; like many other penal statutes it has proven difficult of application and enforcement. But it has reduced drinking very materially, to a greater degree than any other plan that has ever been tried, and there are indications that it is becoming increasingly effective. In the areas where prohibition has been longest in force, such as Maine and Kansas, it has the largest proportionate number of supporters—and no one can contend that Maine or Kansas has not had sufficient experience with it for a fair test.

Mr. Coolidge, it is well known, does not speak lightly, or give baseless opinions, and his indorsement of prohibition, unqualified for him, is strong evidence that the prohibition solution of the liquor problem is the correct one.

PUTTING UP A FENCE

Chicago and Detroit hijackers probably won't care to vault the barrier put up by the Appellate Court, which has declared that even illegal liquor has a value, in that it can be stolen. The decision may keep out of Los Angeles some of the Midwest racketeers who are being led a merry chase just now.

ACCORDING TO REPORTS

A German court wants to get hold of the alleged spicy memoirs of the world's best-dressed woman, which are said to be in Los Angeles, through diplomatic circles. If they find their way into the Senate, during the exchanges, it's hard to tell when they might reach Berlin.

ADVENTURE

By James J. Montague

I have followed the wake of the spouting whale
As he sped through the foaming seas,
I have watched the nautilus hoist his sail
In the face of a singing breeze,
I have seen the wallowing dolphin play
When he woke from a noontide sleep
And lashed to a silvery gleaming spray
The breast of the restless deep.

I have looked in the eyes of the polar bear
As he faced me across a floe,
I have gazed at the wolf in his winter lair—
A cave in the wind-blown snow.
I have seen the ponderous walrus lie
By the billowy ocean side,
And stare with a keen and a hungry eye
On the cod in the hurrying tide.

I have seen, on the shore of the far blue Nile,
Where the hot sirocco blows,
The lumbering form of the crocodile
As he lay in a dreaming doze.
I have followed the Bengal tiger's track
In the palm-shaded jungle runs,
And watched him face the combined attack
Of a hundred men and guns.
And yet I never have crossed the seas
That the rude gales toss to foam;
I have lived a life of sheltered ease
In my little suburban home;
But when a thirst for the wild delights
Of adventurous life I feel,
I view these wildly exciting sights
On a motion-picture reel.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

THIS column, we are happy to say, is not ever expected to preach, scold or reform anything; but only to hold up the mirror to the changing life of one of the most interesting cities in the world. So it is purely as a matter of news interest that we mention the fact that Los Angeles is becoming internationally famous for scandalous charges for medical, surgical and dental treatment and for hospital service.

Mark Lee Luther, the author, recently went to a highly-recommended dentist and asked for an estimate on some work wished done. The dentist demurred at giving an estimate, but assured him the charge would be reasonable. Luther insisted on an estimate and finally got one—$5000! He went elsewhere and got the work done for $250.

Montague Glass had a very similar experience.

W. J. Locke, famous English novelist, refused to pay a bill and was sued.

There is a court record of a case in which an eastern woman, who had paid $1500 for dental work done while she was here on a three-months visit, was sued for $1300 additional.

On the other hand, the only time we ever had to see a dentist in Los Angeles we had to see him in a hurry, with a split and aching tooth. We just dashed into an office building, asked the elevator man where we'd find a good dentist and burst in on him. Our three visits to that dentist cost us a grand total of $6 and the work he did is giving satisfaction yet—after ten years.

We have plenty of both kinds, but it is a fact that many of the tourists who visit our city are taking home reports of exorbitant prices.

Not Like Public Libraries

It is an odd thing that in this country, in most cities, only those who pay no taxes get full benefit of city and county hospitals paid for by all the taxpayers. The other day a man showing us Los Angeles from an airplane pointed to the some-day-to-be-completed county hospital and said: "There you see what is to be the greatest Mexican hospital in the world." That was far-fetched, as people of all nationalities will use the institution, but it is probable that comparatively few people of long-established American stock will be among them. In most European countries, that hospital would be at the service of the middle class as well as of the poor. Any wage-earner could go there with self-respect, paying a reasonable price for his accommodations. We know a man in France who had to undergo a very serious and delicate operation. He owned his home and the little shop on which his family depended, but had only about enough cash to carry on. He went to a government hospital, paid for a private room and nurse, was operated on by government surgeons he could not have afforded to employ, and after three weeks there his total expense was about $150.

On the other hand, a friend of ours whose every cent is in the small business which provides for his wife and children, recently was at the point of death. Two consultations of prominent doctors were held—and his bill was $700. His room and nurses cost him $30 a day.

"I never could have recovered from a blow like that," he told us, "if it hadn't been a case of desperation. I knew if I dared die the funeral directors would soak my wife so that there wouldn't be anything left to feed the babies."

Something to Consider

But if all our public hospitals were thrown wide open to wage-earners and others of limited means, most of us wouldn't patronize them—and the reason why is worth thinking about. Quite generally, people are afraid to go to public hospitals for fear they will be experimented on. If that fear is utterly unjustified the people who manage public hospitals ought to dissipate it.

Majority Have Hearts

Fortunately, there are doctors, dentists and hospitals here to fit any purse, and we're not talking of quacks, either. Quacks are always the most expensive in the long run. But the new Cedars of Lebanon, for instance, announces that it will have accommodations for people who "will pay what they can" and all the doctors will assure you that they do a great deal of charity practice—though it's hard to see where some of them find time for it, between their highly paid practice and their golf. And we cannot quite get the logic of those who think it all right to charge us double to make up for some one else who doesn't pay at all. We doubt that even they would like it if a footpad held them up, on the ground that some one else had robbed him. But the realization is growing that something must be done to keep the average wage-earner from being wiped out financially—shorn of all he has accumulated in his old age, perhaps—when a serious illness comes along:

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

TAXING AND LIMITING BILLBOARDS

[New York Times]

A proposal to tax billboards which has the approval of the Governor of New Jersey, and a counterpart of which has been introduced in the New York Legislature, has the merit of being specific. It enlarges the power of the State to regulate and control, but it is doubtful whether, as planned in either State, it will eliminate unsightly roadside signs which mar the landscape. The New Jersey suggestion is that a tax of 3 cents per square foot be placed on billboards. The Albany plan calls for a lower tax, but also proposes a limit of 900 square feet on the size of billboards. This limitation may be more effective than the tax.

Gov. Roosevelt, without committing himself to any particular project, has come out flatly in favor of the regulation of billboards. He believes that many of the unsightly ones should be removed. For the present he confines himself to the study of proposed methods of control. Obviously, he can help in checking the evil by directing public attention to the necessity of remedying it. State after State is taking up the practical problem. Each act of State Legislatures, each pronouncement of State Governors and other high officials, adds to the forces of those who believe that the roadsides should be kept unspoiled.

The outdoor advertisers may be able, by quirks of the law, to postpone the day of triumph of the antibillboard campaign. But they are fighting against a movement that is nation-wide and that has gathered momentum month by month to an extent which its original proponents never dreamed would be possible. New York State has been slow in taking drastic measures, although here the campaign was cradled. But if the Governor and the more enlightened among the legislators have their way, New York will soon be in the van again.

HARD ON THE NAVAJOS

[Baltimore Sun]

Former bartenders have to look out for themselves, like other people who lose their jobs, but a western go-getter shows lamentable lack of business ideals in his choice of occupation. Joining hands with a professional gambler of Denver, he is flooding the market with bogus "Indian jewelry" and is threatening to destroy one of the few indigenous arts of America—Navajo silver craftsmanship.

For a period which antedates the discovery of America, the Indians of Arizona have shown a high degree of skill and workmanship in making designs in silver, rich in beauty and symbolism. Taking advantage of the market they have made the promoters are turning out machine-made copies not approaching the original in artistic merit but which, nevertheless, sell. The Navajos have appeared for protection, but the best the Federal government or the State can do is to forbid misrepresentation and the labeling of the imitation as made by Indians. Nothing can be done to prevent the public from buying the counterfeit, however much it lacks in taste and refinement.

The Navajos are not alone in suffering from a machine age. But having taken pretty much everything else away from the aborigines, it seems a pity that fancy for the tawdry and spurious should threaten to put an end to one of their few remaining crafts.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Under the Direction of Dean Rockwell Hunt

XV

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

BY ACTING-DEAN PHILIP S. BIEGLER, E.E.

Southern California has long been known for its leadership in water-power development, high-voltage transmission, water supply and irrigation work and, more recently, for its industrial development, particularly in the petroleum industry, which has been so extensive that there has been an ever-increasing opportunity for service in the community for engineers in all branches of the profession.

In the University of Southern California, engineering work had its beginning in the academic year 1905-1906, when five courses in electrical engineering were taught in the department of physics and electrical engineering by Prof. George S. Beane. This work was assumed by Prof. Arthur W. Nye, present chairman of the department of physics, in 1906 and in the following year Prof. J. B. Johnson came to the university to start the work in civil engineering, the degrees bachelor of science in civil and in electrical engineering being established at that time. A two-year course in mining and chemical engineering was established by Prof. Laird J. Stabler, now dean of the college of pharmacy, in 1908.

These courses were carried on without change by Prof. Charles W. Lawrence in civil, Prof. Nye in electrical and Prof. Stabler in mining and chemical engineering until the time of the World War in 1917-1918, when Prof. J. F. Wilson assumed control of electrical engineering and a full four-year course in industrial chemistry was offered. In 1919 on Prof. Wilson's recommendation the degree of bachelor of science in mechanical engineering was established. Thus it came about that there were being given in 1923 degrees in civil, electrical and mechanical engineering, the first two years of a mining course and a four-year course in engineering chemistry. During these years of development, the principal interest appeared to be centered in civil and electrical engineering, and for that reason mechanical engineering was dropped in 1923 and was not resumed until Prof. Thomas T. Eyre came to the university four years later.

In 1925-26 the degree of bachelor of science in petroleum engineering was offered under Prof. Allan E. Sedgwick of the geology department, who administered this work until the fall of 1929, when Prof. John F. Dodge was employed to give full time to this important work. When the course in engineering chemistry was changed to a definite four-year course in chemical engineering, Dr. Wilfred W. Scott was made chairman of the division.

Prof. Robert M. Fox, present chairman of the division of civil engineering, is a graduate of the University of Michigan and for many years was a consulting structural engineer in Arizona. He assumed the chairmanship of civil engineering upon the death of Prof. Lawrence in 1923. Prof. Eyre, who is the author of a text-book on engines and boilers, taught for years at Purdue University and was for some time dean of engineering at the University of New Mexico. Dr. Scott spent a number of years as research chemist for the General Chemical Company and was professor of chemistry in Morningside College and the Colorado School of Mines before coming to Southern California. Prof. Dodge, a graduate of the University of California, college of mines, has been a petroleum engineer for the Standard Oil Company of California for some years and a lecturer at Stanford University on oil land valuation. He is regarded as a national authority on the subject of gas conservation and has come to Southern California with excellent professional and academic background. The division of electrical engineering has been under the direction of Prof. Philip S. Biegler since 1923. Prof. Biegler is a fellow in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and has served on national committees of that organization.

In recent years the demands of high school graduates for engineering education and the calls from the industries for trained engineers have increased to such an extent that the college of engineering in the University of Southern California was organized in 1927, including the five divisions named and with Prof. Biegler as acting dean. In addition to the bachelor of science degrees in the five divisions of engineering, the master of science degree may now be earned in each division by the completion of a year of graduate work in residence, under the general regulations of graduate school. Recently there has been added the professional degree (such as civil engineer) in each division. This degree is awarded after five years of successful engineering work in which the candidate has distinguished himself in some measure and upon the submitting of a thesis covering his contribution to his field of engineering. Under this regulation two candidates were awarded the degree of electrical engineer in June, 1929.

During the first fifteen years that engineering courses were given in the university, it was the common experience to have the students take their first two years here and go elsewhere for the last two years. Of late, however, it has become increasingly the experience that many students take the first two years in junior colleges or other institutions and come to the university for the upper division work, which is given principally by the engineering faculty. It has been necessary, therefore, to increase the staff until at the present time there are three men in civil engineering, two in electrical, two in mechanical, one in petroleum and four who divide their time between chemical engineering and chemistry.

Although for many years the chief interest in engineering at this university seemed to be in civil and electrical engineering, there has been a decided trend toward mechanical engineering of late, partly on account of the interest in aeronautical engineering and toward petroleum engineering, relating to the leading industry of Southern California. The interest in the field of chemical engineering has also been steadily increasing, due undoubtedly to the growing usefulness of the chemical engineer in the refining of oil, the manufacture of rubber products and in many other manufacturing processes.

All activities of the engineering students are under the supervision of the engineering student body. Legislative functions are vested in the engineer's council which, with the student body officers, supervises and co-operates with the organizations of the various divisions in the college. Branches of the leading professional societies have been established, the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers having been established in 1921, and branches of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers having been organized since that time. In addition to the national honor societies for which engineering students are eligible, there are two strictly engineering honorary societies: Chi Epsilon, national civil engineering honorary, established here in 1924, and Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honorary, established here in 1925. The presence of these honorary groups undoubtedly has a very definite influence in promoting a high order of scholarship. Each year the students in electrical engineering join with those at the California Institute of Technology in providing a program for the Los Angeles section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and also present papers each year at the Pacific Coast convention of the same organization.

In order that the students in the college of engineering may take full advantage of the position of the university in the midst of a great industrial development, a course has been established in which the students have lectures by leading engineers of Southern California on the various phases of engineering work in this vicinity and make inspection trips to points of interest where they may actually see engineering works in operation. A full year of work of this kind is required of all engineering students, and the program is varied from year to year so that a student may attend the lectures and trips even after he has completed the requirement. It is believed that in the course of four years the student should have at least a good bird's-eye view of the industries of this vicinity and may more intelligently choose the field with which he wishes to associate himself.

The faculty and students of the college of engineering take this opportunity to thank the leading engineers of the community for their great interest and co-operation in this work. The friends of the university have most willingly come to the campus to lecture to the students and have gone to any extent necessary to make it possible for large groups of students to visit their plants and to provide guides to make the trips of real educational value.

The alumni of the university are taking more and more a leading part in the vast program of engineering construction work in the vicinity of Los Angeles. We may better understand the importance of the work of the engineers when we realize that, while the bankers are chiefly responsible for raising the funds for building the community, the engineers are in large measure responsible for the expenditure of these funds.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Fumigation Theory?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

It takes from three to five years to learn fumigating. This work is done at night. The pay is from 80 cents to $1.05 and $1.10 an hour, depending on the number and size of the trees. In the intermediate class at the San Fernando grammar school, corner Mott and Mission streets, there is careful drill in the methods of fumigating, with a stressing of the danger to people and animals.

Men and women of all ages may attend without any charge. They may enter at any time during the year. There are two months of this school year still left and those interested should enroll now so as to get a good start before next winter. The class meets on Monday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9.

EINSTEIN'S WEAKNESS

Don't be discouraged if there are some things you don't know, some things you aren't good at. Dr. Einstein has amazed mathematical experts of the world by his scientific findings. Now comes Mrs. Einstein, who tells Mrs. Wise, wife of Rabbi Stephen Wise of New York, that Dr. Einstein knows nothing about ordinary household arithmetic. He can't even keep his check book balance straight, according to the wife. Nobody is smart in everything.

RIGHT OR WRONG

"Be sure you're right," Davy Crockett said, "and then fearlessly go ahead;" and many a time you push along, will be convinced that you are wrong. You can be certain he is right or he engages in a fight or cause for some great reform will vent voice and courage will. When you are sure you're right you say that men who differ another way, who don't agree your clarion call, are off their bases, one and all. When I was young I used to hold that my views were good as gold; I was quite sure that I was right, which attitude was not polite; men who differed much from me, on any scheme or project was so sure that I was right everything that was in sight; and with such vim I went about so confident my plans and views that no one had much use for me, and wise men shunned my company. For people of the like the wight who is sure he's always right. They find more friendship for the man who is inclined to hesitate, who will admit, in any case, doubtless he is off his base. now I gaze with pleasure on all the problems that arise; I do not take defiant stand on any problem in the land; ever side I may applaud, I find there are great men on both wise lads who have more than horse sense than I can muster; evidence, whose views are not in sits to mine, who think I'm sure take in my stride, and so find me loath to say that I'm pleasant, balmy day the skies are blue and birds are singing by the way. Some men, entitled to their views may say such weather suits them sore, and who am I to say they're wrong, and those men where they belong?

SIX DISMISSED IN FRAUD CASE

Action Involved Land Sale to Mrs. Fleckenstein

Plaintiff Asserted Property Was Misrepresented

Court Frees Defendants for Lack of Evidence

Grand-theft charges against six persons accused of bilking Mrs. A. J. Fleckenstein, wealthy widow, out of approximately $12,000 on an Arizona land deal were dismissed yesterday by Superior Judge Fricke for lack of evidence, upon the motion of defense attorneys, Nathan Freedman and A. K. Lucas.

As a result of the court's action, Gerard Remington, Los Angeles attorney; Bruno DuBain, Elaine DuBain, Grace Remington, George W. Densley and Dr. Maurice Zimmerman were released from court and their bonds exonerated.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBain have been on trial before Judge Fricke since the 4th inst., charged with two counts of grand theft. The other defendants were awaiting separate trials.

The motion for dismissal came at the close of the prosecution's case, presented by Grant Cooper and E. J. Dennison of the District Attorney's office. At that time the defense attorneys moved that the case be dismissed, and the motion was granted. The court then granted a motion to dismiss the additional charges when the prosecution stated the evidence against the other defendants was virtually identical with that already introduced.

It was charged the defendants sold Mrs. Fleckenstein a large section of Arizona land promising to exchange it for valuable Los Angeles business property. The Arizona land was found to be worthless, the woman charged.

FASHION SHOW OFFERED

An elaborate spring fashion show will be presented at the Uptown Theater tonight and tomorrow night, with twelve models participating. "Seven Keys to Baldpate," Richard Dix's latest R.-K.-O. starring vehicle, is the current Uptown screen attraction and will continue until tomorrow night.

DEMISE OF DR. GUY LAID TO DISEASE

Autopsy Reveals Heart Spasm Caused Physician's Death in Parked Auto

After an autopsy, performed yesterday, following a chemical analysis of vital organs, it was announced that Dr. Walter Perry Guy died of a form of heart disease on the 3rd inst. His body was found in an automobile at Acton, and on it were found notes the physician made of his sensations as he felt death creeping upon him. References in these notes to hypodermics resulted in the ordering of a chemical analysis.

County Chemist Abernathy reported that the analysis failed to detect any poison. County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner then performed an autopsy. He reported that the cause of death was coronary sclerosis and thrombosis with myocardial degeneration and acute dilatation of the left ventricle. Dr. Guy lived at 943 South Magnolia street.

Details Given in Arson Case

An electric iron placed on top of a pile of kerosene-saturated straw was discovered in a small frame bungalow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schuster by fire department investigators after a fire had been put out in the dwelling, the investigators testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Turney's court, where the couple are undergoing preliminary hearing on arson charges.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman contends that they planned to burn the dwelling for $1900 insurance, which he contends is more than its value. A $700 mortgage also has been obtained on the place, the prosecutor asserts. The hearing, unfinished yesterday, will be resumed Monday morning.

BRIDGE EXPERT TO TALK

At the meeting of the Los Angeles section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena tonight, Ralph Modjeski of New York, noted bridge engineer, will present a paper dealing with the Philadelphia-Camden bridge.

JAMES RENNIE SIGNS CONTRACT

First National Studio Secures Actor for Long Term; Ex-Follies Girl Cast in Pathe Film; Amos and Andy With R.-K.-O.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

James Rennie, husband of Dorothy Gish, has signed a long-term contract with First National. And we do hear that there is a likelihood that Miss Gish also may sign with First National, or with another company which has made her an offer. The actress is now in Philadelphia, where she will play a role in "Holiday" for a week. She will be in Los Angeles in approximately two weeks.

James Rennie has been playing leads in First National pictures and has decided that he would like to make his home here. Rennie made such a hit with First National executives in the leading roles of "The Girl of the Golden West" and "The Bad Man" that the long contract was forthcoming.

EX-FOLLIES GIRL SIGNED BY PATHE

When Florenz Ziegfeld started glorifying the American girl in his Follies shows, he had no idea, of course, of the many picture stars he was training.

The newest one to be given a long-term film contract is Frances Upton, leading lady with Eddie Cantor in "Whoopee," in "Little Jessie James," and before that a Follies beauty and show girl, who has just signed a contract with Pathe for a term of years.

Miss Upton is to have the featured comedienne lead in Eddie Quillan's next starring picture, "Night Work," a role said to be equal in importance to that of Sallie Starr, who has the romantic lead.

A whole roster of important names supports the principals, and includes John T. Murray, George Duryea, Addie McPhail, Georgia Caine, Billie Bennett, Kit Guard, Arthur Hoyt, William Holden, Tom Dugan, George Billings, Robt. McWade and the child actor, Wally Albright.

Russell Mack is directing and the picture is to be a musical special, with color photography thrown in for good measure. Walter De Leon wrote the story.

Popular Comics in Film

Amos and Andy, the two comics who have set the country by the ears recently, especially by their regular radio discussions, will make a talking picture, it was said last night. R.-K.-O., it is strongly rumored, has or will in the near future sign the two for a gigantic musical production, the cost of which, it is said, will be around $1,000,000.

That the comedians will register more or less of a sensation in films is a foregone conclusion. Their following is reported as immense throughout the country, both in the rural districts, the small towns and the metropolitan centers.

Miss Lillie's Lead Chosen

Naturally everyone has been on tiptoe to learn who would play the male lead in Beatrice Lillie's new starring vehicle for Fox, a revue entitled "Are You There?" which Hamilton McFadden will direct.

BEATRICE LILLIE

It is all settled now, and and the man is none other than John Garrick, who lately finished the lead in United Artists' "Bride 66," and did so well that his fame has gone forth to all the studios.

Other highly important names were yesterday added to the cast, including those of Nicholas Soussanin, Henry Victor, Richard Alexander, Gustav Von Seyffertitz and Roger Davis.

Gillian Sand, the London actress, and George Grossmith, as already announced, have principals' roles.

Carl Laemmle, Jr., Leaving

Carl Laemmle, Jr., general manager of Universal Films, is going to have a great birthday celebration, when his twenty-second natal day comes on the 28th inst. For on that date the Roxy Theater in New York will open with its first $5 premiere, when the Paul Whiteman revue, "King of Jazz," goes in. Laemmle, Jr., will be present. Carl Laemmle, Sr., who is quite willing to take a back seat these days, and beam on his clever son, will also be on hand.

CARL LAEMMLE JR.

The Laemmles, Jr. and Sr., are leaving on the 24th inst. for New York, accompanied by Ike St. John, head of the publicity department at Universal City, and by other executives of the concern.

But the Whiteman revue is only one of two highly important Universal premieres which will take place in New York, inasmuch as "All Quiet on the Western Front" is also slated at the Central Theater on the 29th inst.

The program of the Universal heads, will not only include pleasure, inasmuch as during their stay they will undertake the colossal job of planning next year's production schedule for the concern and they will also attend the Universal convention while in the East.

Only twenty pictures are to be produced by Universal, the heads declare, but on those twenty will be lavished all the care, money and brains obtainable.

"Dancing Mothers" as Talker

That amusing and successful picture, "Dancing Mothers," Edmund Goulding's play, which was picturized by Paramount as a silent movie about a year ago, is to be remade by the same organization as a talker, we learned yesterday, so that everyone will have an opportunity to find out how dancing mothers talk as well as how they act and look.

Edmund Goulding is at work on the dialogue and adaptation, and will probably also direct.

Hedda Hopper, we hear, may be loaned by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the leading feminine role.

May McAvoy Comes Back

Being a nice little housewife is all very fine, says May McAvoy, who is married happily to Maurice Cleary, but all the same she feels the lure of pictures, she declares, and as her husband is willing, Miss McAvoy is to stage a comeback. She has been studying music, voice culture, French and Spanish, and as she has had some stage experience, she feels qualified to undertake the talking pictures.

MAY McAVOY

Already, we learn, Miss McAvoy is the recipient of a number of offers, and she will have an announcement to make, she assures us, within a few days.

"Strictly Dishonorable," a Film

Word reached us by wire last night that "Strictly Dishonorable," one of the most successful of this year's crop of New York productions, has been purchased by one of the leading film companies here, to be made into a talker.

Along with the news came also the word that, as the play is one of the spicy sort, the Hays organization is "undecided what to do about it."

The purchase price paid for the play was $125,000, it was said.

Jungle Picture Opens Today on Orpheum Screen

The old cry of the circus ballyhoo man who tells of the wonders of the jungle are gone one better, it is claimed, in "Ingagi," the talking picture which opens at the Orpheum Theater today for the scenes of which everyone has read, and many which could scarcely be imagined, will be shown.

Among the highlights of the film, which is said to have been filmed by Sir Hubert Wistead and his party of scientists during a three-year scientific tour of the Belgian Congo, are said to be some of the most unusual scenes ever recorded.

"Ingagi," which means gorilla, is expected to play to record patronage at the Orpheum.

Waring Plans Radio Broadcast

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, noted orchestra entertainers, will broadcast a half-hour program over the radio tomorrow evening, prior to their regular performance in "Rah Rah Daze" at the Mason Theater.

"Couldn't You?" "So Beats My Heart For You," "Jay Hop," "I'm in the Mood" and other numbers from the score of the show will be included in the selection, as well as a medley of college songs, climaxing with "Fight On," popular Trojan song.

On account of the success scored by "Rah Rah Daze," his initial musical comedy production, Fred Waring has renewed his option on the Mason, and the local engagement will continue indefinitely.

Shriners Will Attend "Hero"

Capacity houses are expected at the Shrine Civic Auditorium tomorrow when Al Malaikah Temple will offer free to Shriners and their families two opportunities to witness Gilbert Emery's play, "The Hero," which is enjoying an extended run at the Civic Repertory Theater.

The entire production will be brought over to the Shrine late tonight. There will be a matinee and evening show tomorrow. Potentate Fred J. Wadley, Jr., announces that all Shriners may attend and be admitted with their families upon presentation of a membership card.

"Desert Song" Closes Tonight

The fifth Los Angeles engagement of the stage version of "The Desert Song," with Perry Askam, Josephine Houston and a majority of the original California cast, will be brought to a close at the Majestic Theater tonight. This is said to be the last opportunity local theatergoers will have to witness a performance of the noted Romberg operetta.

"The Desert Song" is said by theatrical men to be the greatest "repeater" of any musical show written, many persons having seen it as many as ten times.

"SPRING IS HERE" AT WARNERS

Musical Comedy Enacted on Screen With Melodies as Chief Features

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Now it develops that the balmy April we have been enjoying is an advance publicity "plug" for "Spring Is Here," a musical comedy which reached the screen at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater yesterday. Adapted, so one gathers, practically in toto from the stage play of the same title which flourished for some months in Manhattan, the film's chief asset is its musical numbers. These, if they do want for inspirational fire in "spotting" and delivery, are quite as melodious as anything in town.

A typical First National cast is instrumental in singing the lyrical tunes of Lorenz Hart, Richard Rodgers and a trio of other fellows. From the original show have been preserved, notably, "With a Song in My Heart" and "Yours Sincerely," with the tricky rhyming for which Hart is so admired. "Have a Little Faith in Me" and the minor-strained "Cryin' for the Carolines" are pleasing afterthoughts.

These pieces are sung by Lawrence Gray, Alexander Gray, Bernice Claire, Inez Courtney and Frank Albertson. The Messrs. Gray reveal an aptitude for this sort of thing; the similarity in their names is extended to a similarity in voices, microphonically. The two young ladies are of a like genre; that is, ingenues of familiar capable type. Mr. Albertson gets by on his spontaneity. "Cryin' for the Carolines" is interpolated by the Brox sisters.

Ford Sterling, with no cadenzas to worry about, manages very well as a harassed husband. His wifely nemesis is Louise Fazenda. Natalia Moorhead has a part.

All the action—optimistically speaking—is centered in and about the home of Peter Braley on Long Island's North Shore. There is no use detailing the plot; it is that of the conventional musical comedy, with quick love and quicker misunderstandings, and nobody caring very much who will be the lucky man to win the heart of the girl. The dialogue is "snappy" in the footlights manner.

"Spring Is Here," is harmless, cheerful, and innocuous as the weather.

John Francis Dillon is the director. James A. Starr adapted Owen Davis's play.

A variety of short subjects includes a pair of obvious sketches, a color revue, and Pathe Sound News.

'Montana Moon' Now Playing at Fox Criterion

"Montana Moon," starring Joan Crawford, is now playing at the Criterion Theater. It will continue until Friday. On the 19th inst., Paul Whiteman's picture, "The King of Jazz," will open an engagement.

The comedy of "Montana Moon" is furnished by Benny Rubin Cliff Edwards, Karl Dane and others. Most of the action takes place on a private car on a Montana railroad and in a wealthy rancher's mountain home. Joan Crawford has another of her vivacious roles, in which she is given a fine opportunity to display acting ability.

Universal studios have expended much time and money on "The King of Jazz," and advance reports say that it is the acme of all screen revues up to the present time. It contains spectacular scenes and colorful ensembles, as well as a large roster of principals. Whiteman's band is also very much in evidence.

Noted Persons to Attend Fay Marbe's Revue

Judging from the noted personages who have reserved seats for the premier performance of Fay Marbe Sunday night at the Belasco Theater, a gala affair is in prospect.

Among those who are expected to attend are Alice Gentle, Bruce Gentle, Marian Burns, Betty Compson, James Cruze, Walter Lang, Felix Hughes, Mary Lewis, Edmund Goulding, John Murray Anderson, Ernst Lubitsch, Cecil De Mille, Isabel Withers, Zoe Akins, Laura Hope Crews, Alan Crosland, Bebe Daniels, Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Warners Plan Late Matinees

Two midnight shows will be given tonight by Warner Brothers at their two first-run houses. At Warners' Hollywood the last late show of Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner in "Hold Everything" will be offered, as the engagement closes Sunday to make way for Dorothy Mackaill in "The Love Racket," starting Monday.

At Warner's Downtown Theater, "Spring Is Here," with a wealth of song hits including "Cryin' for the Carolines" and "Have a Little Faith in Me," will also have a late showing. Lawrence Gray, Alexander Gray, Bernice Claire, Louise Fazenda, Inez Courtney and Ford Sterling are featured.

"Holiday" Due in Hollywood

Dale Winter

Portrays the leading role in Philip Barry's stage play which starts tomorrow at Henry Duffy's Hollywood Playhouse Theater.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THERE will be comic opera at the Shrine Auditorium, starting June 8, according to news yesterday from Ferris Hartman.

Hartman, well known as an opera comedian, plans to produce a repertoire of standard, classical and modern operettas, starting the season with a festival of Victor Herbert compositions.

His prima donna will be Estaleah, an 18-year-old Los Angeles girl with a coloratura soprano voice, who is said to have had experience in stock and concert work. Earl Askam will be the romantic baritone lead. Naomi Fielding will sing mezzo-soprano parts, and Sidney Jarvis will be the baritone buffo.

Rehearsals will start next month.

Garrity and Mulligan Again

Frank McCormack and Clifford Dempsey, who were the originals of Garrity and Mulligan in "The Gorilla," are going to play for Henry Duffy.

The pair have been signed for "The Blue Ghost," the Bernard J. McOwen mystery play arriving at the President a week from tomorrow. This is ought to be good news for playgoers who like their mystery fare well seasoned with comedy. McCormack and Dempsey are past masters at the art of clowning. Duffy, so goes the report, picked them up "between pictures."

Colored Revue to Vine-street

It looked last night as if the new colored revue, "Up and At 'Em," with Stepin Fetchit will go to the Vine-street Theater on May 8. It will follow "Philadelphia," now current.

Egan to Reopen

A play called "For Cryin' Out Loud" by Joe Lawliss is now booked into the Egan. Two gentlemen, by name, Henry C. Brown, Jr., and Cyr Forrest, are the producers and declare they have ambitious plans for other plays.

The cast of "For Cryin' Out Loud," as present, numbers Lorraine Du Val, Etta Delmas, William Ruhl, Toni March, Don Wilson, Al Aidrich, Louise Bowdel and Lester Thomas.

"Decency" Not Yet Cast

Production of "Decency," the drama with only three characters, by Arthur Gregor, and which is scheduled as the next stage attraction at the Mayan, is temporarily at a halt.

Gregor planned to have Mary Duncan play the leading feminine role, but now, it seems, Miss Duncan is ill in the East and probably won't be able to act for some months. Meanwhile, a new leading woman is sought.

Fern Andra in Play

Fern Andra, the German star, in a new play, "The Lavender Chalice," by Clark Silvernail, is a possibility for fall. Plans were under way some months ago to present this when Silvernail went to Florida with the "Hell Harbor" location company.

Meantime, Miss Andra appeared in "Grounds for Divorce" at the Windsor Square and aroused considerable interest in her work.

Weston-Fort Play on Broadway

Garnett Weston and Garrett Fort, who have written many a Hollywood scenario, will have a play on Broadway this fall. It is called "The Feast of the Fools," and Crosby Gaige has just announced that he will produce it. It is Gaige who is producing "Beautiful Evening," the new Helen Hayes play.

Society Girl in Lead

When "Strictly Dishonorable," the Preston Sturges comedy, arrives at the Biltmore in May, Margaret Perry will be in the leading feminine role. Miss Perry understudied Muriel Kirkland in the New York cast and was called upon to give several performances last December when Miss Kirkland was ill. It is said she is a New York society girl who has given up parties and dances for a career.

Children's Matinees Today

Today's the day of the first children's morning matinee at the Civic Repertory Theater in Hollywood. There will be two performances at the Music Box, one at 9:30 and one at 11 o'clock this morning of the Aircastle Marionettes, of which "Clickety-Clack" is a leading performer.

Jackie Searles, the little boy who is seen in "The Hero," is going to act as host at both matinees.

PITTSBURGHERS MEET

Three natives of Pittsburgh are appearing together in Paramount's new William Powell starring picture, "Facing the Law." They are Powell, Natalie Moorhead and Regis Toomey.

HOLT RIDES SHAMROCK

Shamrock, a camera-trained, white-spotted black cow pony, is Jack Holt's mount in Paramount's talking picturization of Zane Grey's novel, "The Border Legion."

FRENCH PICTURE HAS BALZAC PLOT

"Survival" at Filmarte Tells Interesting Story of Ambitious Convict

BY ELENA BOLAND

From France comes a feature which in its original story was authored by Honore de Balzac. It was then entitled "Splendeurs et Miseries des Courtesans." As it appears at the Filmarte it is known as "Survival."

The picture's general tone is modern, as modern, in fact, as anything which has been shipped over from a foreign studio. Traces of Hollywood gestures are to be found frequently and some of them are of a prewar vintage.

In directing the film, Manfred Noa has started off with a snap and verve. There are a chase, a wreck, a death and a change of identity all within the first few minutes. But with that bit of the plot established, the tempo slows up until at times action seems practically suspended.

The camera tells of a convict who had his chance to live by exchanging identity with a dead Marquis. He took it and ventured slyly into the highest circles. To get money he adopted a son whom he wished to marry into a wealthy family. But the son loved Renee who became redeemed by his love. All sorts of peculiar complications occurred as the older man tried to keep them apart. Most of these are brought out illogically and ineffectively.

The criminal's fight for freedom is short lived as he is eventually arrested by a horde of earnest policemen "in the name of the law."

An interesting personality is Paul Wegener, who portrays Jean Collin, convict. He extends a dynamic influence in spite of a phlegmatic expression.

Andree La Fayette, once known in Hollywood, probably comes up to French standards as Renee, but she lacks that something essential to our newer actresses.

A handsome youth and one with ability, more latent now than expressed, is Werner Feutterer, an exponent of romantic nobility.

The rest of the cast divides itself between representatives of Germany and France and there is one upholder of China's position in the drama.

"Shadows," a short subject, occupies a little of the evening's time. It was a pity that "Her Torpedoed Love" cracked under the strain of revival, for Louise Fazenda and Ford Sterling were just beginning to prove they were as funny in Mack Sennett days as they are now.

Scenes of Meet to be Screened

Paramount sound news scenes of the Southern California-Stanford track meet, which takes place today, will be shown tonight on the screen of the Paramount Theater. "The Benson Murder Case," with William Powell in his original role of Philo Vance, is the feature attraction at the Paramount this week.

BENEFIT PROMISES ARRAY OF TALENT

Every branch of the amusement field will be combined in the preparation and presentation of the N.V.A. benefit to be held at the Shrine Auditorium on the 26th inst. Motion-picture stars, producers, directors, stage stars, noted personalities, night club entertainers and bands will entertain.

PREMIERE PLANS COLORFUL

Plans for the western premiere of John McCormack in "Song O' My Heart" at Grauman's Chinese Theater on the 19th inst., are being completed. Officials state that the colorful scenes at the theater on the opening night will be broadcast strictly as a news event and not associated with a commercial advertising program at the same hour.

For forty-five minutes on Saturday night those who can not attend the premiere performance will receive an aside seat report of the arrival of the stars and other notables, what they are wearing and their welcome greetings.

There will be no interruption to give the phone number or address of some commercial advertiser sponsoring the radio hour, as Grauman's Chinese Theater will take over the exclusive time on the air. The opening night audience is expected to be one of the most representative groups of California society ever gathered within a theater.

THE SOUL OF THE THEATRE finally captured by the wondrous art of talking and singing motion pictures

FOX-MOVIETONE, with its life-like realism of recording, has enshrined the voice of

JOHN McCORMACK

The world's most popular tenor, in a romantic story of tender laughter close to tears.

Song o' My Heart

By TOM BARRY

Never before has the talking and motion picture risen to such heights above the conventions of the old time theatre. Before a glowing background of unusual beauty runs like a thread of gold, a story of love that finds its exaltation in perfect song.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HEALTHY HAIR INDICATES SIMILAR PHYSICAL CONDITION

The general condition of the hair is a fairly good index to the child's general health. The puny underfed child is apt to have a head of thin, lusterless hair. The strong child (whether thin or fat) has vigorous, shining hair, indicative of his abounding vitality. Obviously there are all types of hair—light, fine hair, and coarse, strong hair, curly and straight. The first type may seem thinner than the second without its actually being so. One can usually distinguish unhealthy hair no matter what its general type.

Scalp and skin conditions are closely allied, so that when the child's skin shows a rash due to an imperfect diet, the scalp shows the same rash, somewhat aggravated by being more difficult to keep clean.

When there is something in the scalp or hair condition that doesn't please the mother, she is apt to think that her treatment must be confined to hair and scalp. What she should realize is that through proper diet, sunlight and exercise she must build up the child's whole body and then the scalp conditions and the glory of the hair will be likewise improved.

We feel certain, though we can't prove it, that if we washed our heads as often as our faces we would not have dandruff. The skin all over is subject to a daily fluffing off. When washing the skin this is not so apparent though it can be detected when rubbing with a rough towel. On the head this fluffing off takes place daily also and, not being washed, collects on the head. This, when mixed with dirt and oil from the scalp, gives us our common, garden variety of dandruff. No wonder it is so hard to get rid of—it's perfectly natural.

GOOD DIET IMPORTANT

Diet has a lot to do with hair. Glandular conditions have even more. The bearded lady of the circus and the hairless youth are both suffering from glandular abnormalities, which in the first case influence an extraordinary growth of hair and in the second have the opposite effect.

The child who is a cretin (suffering from an undersecretion from the thyroid gland) has a peculiar dry and straw-like hair. When the doctor finds a child with this type of hair and, added to it, some of the other striking indications of thyroid insufficiency, he doesn't advise the mother to go home and rub oil on the child's dry scalp. Instead, he gives the child glandular medication, knowing that when the glandular condition is improved the hair will be likewise.

All of this, Mrs. A. G., is in answer to your question about what to do for an oily scalp. I would brush the child's hair daily to take off surface dirt. I would wash it frequently enough to keep it clean and healthy, twice weekly if necessary. I would look to the child's diet to see that it is good in every respect, and if this doesn't help, I would have the child given a thorough physical examination.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

SALMON SALAD

Take one large can of salmon, drain well, remove all the skin and bones and allow to stand for one hour, flake and for each cupful of fish add the same quantity of finely shredded lettuce, one coarsely chopped hard-boiled egg, three slices of small cubed cucumbers, and six chopped ripe olives, mix well, and add a fourth of a cupful of boiled dressing. Place on individual nests of lettuce leaves, garnish with capers and grated hard-boiled egg yolk.

MAYONNAISE FOR SALMON

Rub the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs to a fine powder, then add very slowly eight tablespoonfuls of cream, a seasoning of white pepper, a few grains of cayenne, and a little salt; lastly add two tablespoonfuls of white vinegar, adding the vinegar drop by drop; otherwise the mixture will curdle.

RHUBARB STRAWBERRY PIE

Use one-fourth rhubarb and three-fourths strawberries, wash and pick over the berries, wash the rhubarb and cut it in one-inch lengths, barely cover it with boiling water to which one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda has been added, let it stand for five minutes, and drain and rinse with cold water. Mix one cupful of sugar with one-fourth of a cupful of flour, line a deep pie dish with a rich pastry, brush it with the beaten white of an egg which has been diluted with one tablespoonful of water. Sprinkle half of the sugar and flour over it, then place a layer of the rhubarb on the bottom, then a layer of strawberries, and alternate, sprinkling each layer with the sugar and flour mixture. Dot the top with bits of butter, lattice with strips of pastry and bake in a hot oven.

MARYLAND FRIED CHICKEN

Cut the chicken in half, and each half in two pieces, wipe the meat dry, and roll well in flour, shake off all the extra flour, then dip in beaten eggs that have been mixed with fine grated bread crumbs. In a thick bottom saute pan, place three tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of oil, when this is not, place the chicken in it, and fry until a golden brown. Then set the pan in a rather moderate oven and bake until the chicken is tender. Season with salt and pepper, basting two or three times, while baking. Arrange the chicken over hot buttered toast that has been mashed with a cream sauce, over each piece of chicken place a slice of broiled bacon, and around it corn fritters.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department. PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

UNSPOILING PARENTS

The modern schools of psychology have brought out the statement that bad children are really caused by their parents or early environment. It is unfortunate that few parents seem to have even a rudimentary knowledge of the best way to train children, and training is often attempted in exactly the wrong way. It would seem then that the best way to develop a sweet and obedient child is to first unspoil its parents.

Children are very clever at finding out ways of doing things that are successful from their viewpoint. When a child finds that he can get what he wants by acting mean or by crying, the mother has a very difficult problem. If she can weather the first two or three storms the child will drop that kind of technique and try some other method.

One of the quickest ways of getting a child out of an unpleasant habit is to find out just what he believes he is going to get by that particular mean trick. Sometimes he is crying for attention, other times he wants his own way and other times he is only bored. He may refuse to eat his dinner, scream at having his face washed, absolutely refuse to do anything that he is asked to do. Examine him while he is engaged in these actions and then cooly and calmly decide just what it is that he is trying to get. Then don't give it to him. For example, if a child is crying for attention, the best method is to ignore him utterly. Quietly put on your hat and coat and explain that you will be back when he stops yelling. Then simply walk out the door. The first two or three treatments of this kind are the hardest, because the child then and there begins to scream at the top of his lungs. He does this because he knows from experience that it is the speediest way to make you come running back. If his screaming doesn't bring you then he will try moaning and sobbing very pitifully and calling your name. If this doesn't work he will probably stop crying and after the performance is over often surprise his parents by his sweetness and docility. Repeat this each time he cries needlessly and the time will come when the child will cease to make everyone miserable when he finds out that his being mean doesn't work; he looks for some method that will.

Many people find that instead of giving children an allowance of so much money to spend each week they are better satisfied by paying the child for doing various chores. Even a penny makes quite a difference and the child who used to take an hour to do a task often snaps into it and has it done very quickly. When the work is well done pay on the spot and not after awhile. He will be pleased with himself when he learns that you are pleased because of his quickness. For the first few days let the child spend his money any way that he wishes. In this way he builds up an image of the task until it no longer is unpleasant to him. Then show him that by saving his nickels and pennies he can buy himself a toy which he greatly desires. Before he begins his saving let him pick out what he is going to buy and let him know exactly how much it is going to cost.

Canning Time

Soon the things we wish to do up will be appearing in market and we must be all set to do them at the most reasonable time. The best quality rubber ring for canning jars is a real economy, for it means air-tight jars and rightly preserved foods. Avoid "pretty" jars. Fancy jars are hard to keep clean and frequently have varied tops that do not fit the uniform lids and rubbers.

Sound the Alarm

If you are afraid you will forget a certain kitchen duty that must be exactly on time, set your kitchen alarm clock at that time. Then you are certain of a persistent reminder.

THERE'S MORE IN THIS THAN MEETS THE EYE

said the clever housewife, as she lifted the package of White King Granulated Soap. . . . The fact is, there's more real soap in a White King carton than there is in many a package of soap flakes or bubbles twice its size!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is pure soap—condensed—without "filler" of any sort, and it comes close packed in the carton, like powdered sugar. And a little goes a long way. A teaspoonful in a basin of water, a cupful in a tub is ample. No more!

White King is good for the heaviest or most delicate washing—blankets, dishes, or lingerie. It is the safest, most economical soap made. At your grocer's.

Use Mercolized Wax—Have Young Complexion

The daily use of Mercolized Wax is all that the average woman needs to keep her skin radiantly young. Mercolized Wax seeps into the pores, flushing from their depths all accumulated grime and soil. It peels off the surface skin in tiny particles, making freckles, tan, blackheads and all other blemishes disappear. The new complexion is white, smooth, beautiful. Mercolized Wax brings out the hidden beauty. To reduce wrinkles and restore the youthful contour use as an astringent 1 ounce Powdered Saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel. At all drug stores.—[Advertisement.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

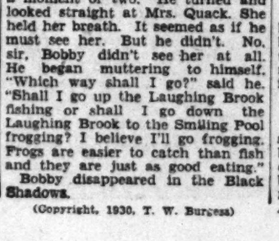
MRS. QUACK HOLDS HER BREATH

For courage that will stand the test,
See Mother Bird upon her nest.
—Old Mother Nature.

Mrs. Quack the Mallard Duck was very happy. To begin with, she had a most comfortable nest. She had made it of dead bulrushes, grass and some leaves. Then she had taken great pains with the lining. That lining was of feathers—the softest, nicest feathers you can imagine. She had pulled them from her own breast. Yes, sir, Mrs. Quack had pulled all these feathers from her own breast. So you see it was a very nice nest.

Then, as I have already told you, that nest was very well hidden. Mrs. Quack had looked all up and down the Laughing Brook and all through the little alder swamp before she had decided on this particular spot. She had even gone down to the Big River and looked along the bank there. Nowhere had she found quite such a perfect spot for a nest. It seemed as if Old Mother Nature had caused the bushes and the skunk cabbage plants to grow just where they did for the special purpose of hiding a Duck's nest. It was only a little way to the Smiling Pool; it was only a few steps to the Laughing Brook. A better situation couldn't have been made to order. Anyway, that is what Mrs. Quack thought. So she was very happy there.

But Mrs. Quack was not free from worries. No, indeed! No one is free from worries. This is especially true of a mother bird on her nest. She knows full well that there is always the chance that some sharp eyes will find that nest. There is always the chance that some one will accidentally stumble over it, as Peter Rabbit had.



Bobby was headed straight toward her

It was on the night following the laying of her tenth and last egg that Mrs. Quack had her first real scare. It was in the dusk of early evening. Mrs. Quick had had a nap that afternoon and she was very much awake. You see, now that she had all her eggs, she was settling down to the work of brooding them. She felt very proud of those eggs. They were to her the most important things in all the great world. She dreamed of the Ducklings that would come from those precious eggs. You see, there wasn't anything else to do but dream. But while she dreamed she was alert every instant. She was always listening, always watching for possible danger.

The Black Shadows crept all through the little alder swamp. Later, Mistress Moon poured down a flood of silvery light. It got into the little swamp in patches. Right where Mrs. Quack was, however, lay the blackest of Black Shadows. Just beyond her was quite a broad patch of moonlight. She happened to be looking at this patch of moonlight when her bright eyes caught a movement in the shadows just beyond. Instantly, she fixed her eyes on that spot. A moment later there shuffled out into the moonlight the last person in the world whom she wanted to see around there. It was Bobby Coon. Yes, sir, it was Bobby Coon!

Bobby was hunting for something to eat. There was no doubt of that. Mrs. Quack shivered when she thought of those ten eggs under her and how Bobby Coon would like to get them. Bobby was headed straight toward her. In the middle of the moonlit space he stopped for a moment or two. He turned and looked straight at Mrs. Quack. She held her breath. It seemed as if he must see her. But he didn't. No, sir, Bobby didn't see her at all. He began muttering to himself. "Which way shall I go?" said he. "Shall I go up the Laughing Brook fishing or shall I go down the Laughing Brook to the Smiling Pool frogging? I believe I'll go frogging. Frogs are easier to catch than fish and they are just as good eating."

Bobby disappeared in the Black Shadows.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Cleaner Feeling

If your body excretes a great deal of grease and you are constantly having to have dresses cleaned on account of grease stains between the shoulders, you will have much more comfort out of dresses made over a washable lining. The lining will catch the body excretions and prevent them from soiling the outside material. Also, when the dress does not feel quite fresh, the lining may be removed, washed and put back again.

Everyday Hints

Pure castile soap is best for baby.

A handful of common salt will set the dye in cotton stockings.

Powdered alum and borax combine into an effective moth preventive.

Oil the furniture castors occasionally and the furniture will move without force.

The care of the refrigerator plays a great part in the keeping quality of the milk stored in it.

When It Curdles

There is only one infallible way of getting curdled mayonnaise to "come back." Start all over again with another egg yolk, add a little oil to it and when it has thickened, very gradually beat in the curdled dressing until it is all blended into the new.

Spring Socks

Haven't you some of baby's winter stockings that are worn at the knee from pinning and yet are good in every other part? If so, cut them off at the knee and crochet a shell stitch in a pale shade at the top for a finish. A summer's wear as socks is then guaranteed.

Insured

An asbestos mat directly over the burner and under the preserving kettle gives the housewife a comfortable feeling that her preserves will not stick and burn while she is doing other household work.

Large Sheets

The bed will never stay neat with sheets that are too short. When buying sheets, allow ten inches over on each side, top and bottom of the bed and you will have satisfactory results. Remember this when the August white sale comes along.

CITY ZONE LAW PERIL SIGHTED

Appeal Court Review Asked for Hospital Ruling

City Continues Fight to Curb Mental Sanatoriums

Werner Believes Decision Due to Misconception

Los Angeles' entire zoning theory is overthrown by a decision of Division One, District Court of Appeal, against the constitutionality of an ordinance regulating establishments for the treatment of mental cases, City Attorney Werner contends in a petition filed yesterday asking the State Supreme Court to review the Appellate Court's findings.

"If the city is not allowed to zone relatively sparsely inhabited sections of the city, even though those sections are parts of larger districts, it will become impossible to protect these districts from what has been termed 'nuisances in fact' as distinguished from 'nuisances in law' and the very theory of zoning is destroyed," the City Attorney asserted.

The decision attacked by the city official declared that a zoning measure specifying areas in which mental case hospitals might be erected and operated is unreasonable and discriminatory and, therefore, unconstitutional.

City Attorney Werner set forth that the District Court of Appeal misconceived vital questions of fact in direct opposition to the findings of the trial court and that the conclusion reached by the Appellate Court is based upon this misconception.

The hospitals over which the fight is being waged are located in the Mar Vista district, in the western part of the city.

LEADER OF LEGION WILL BE GREETED

Warm Reception Planned for Bodenhamer Monday at San Bernardino

The greatest welcome ever extended to a World War veteran is being prepared for National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer of the American Legion when he arrives in this State Monday morning. He will be met at San Bernardino by a party consisting of Department Commander Clarence Kincaid, Department Adjutant James K. Fisk; chairman of the department distinguished guest committee, Charles Van Wyck; L. V. McCardle of the Los Angeles county distinguished guest committee, and a delegation of San Bernardino Legionnaires.

O. L. BODENHAMER

The Commander is scheduled to visit Redlands, Riverside and Santa Ana Monday, ending with an open meeting in the Santa Ana High School.

Tuesday will be Los Angeles county day, and Bodenhamer is scheduled to visit Covina, Pasadena, South Pasadena, the Veterans' Bureau Hospital at San Fernando and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio at Culver City, after which he will lay the corner-stone of the new Culver City clubhouse.

Tuesday evening the Commander will review the bands and drum corps of the county in front of the University of Southern California auditorium, after which he will address a public gathering.

Wednesday morning, before leaving for Bakersfield, he will be the guest of the Los Angeles Breakfast Club, at which time he will deliver a short message of greeting.

Sunday-school Teacher Sued by His Spouse

When a church faction sought removal of W. Marynn Toole as Sunday-school teacher, Toole blamed his father-in-law and used language not at all becoming to a student of the Scriptures, his wife, Mrs. Charlotte T. Toole, asserted in her divorce complaint, on file yesterday.

So aggravated was the defendant that he threw eleven shoes at her, the complaint continues.

On another occasion, her husband threw a pitcher of water at her and beat her, Mrs. Toole says.

Governor Due at Whittier Today

Gov. Young is scheduled to pass through Los Angeles this morning on his way to Whittier to attend a conference and luncheon of the department of institutions at the Whittier School for Boys.

Following the visit to Whittier the executive will go to San Diego to speak tomorrow at the meeting of the San Diego open forum and on Monday afternoon at the high school principals' convention. Monday evening the Governor will speak in the Hollywood Presbyterian Church.

KNOWLES BROTHER SOUGHT

Aid in locating a brother of the late Charles A. Knowles, so that the latter's funeral may be conducted, was requested yesterday by Kirkelie, Bernard & Peek, undertakers, at 202 Main street, Ocean Park. Neighbors state that Knowles who died alone on the 5th inst., at 123 Raymond avenue, Ocean Park, often spoke of having a brother in Los Angeles. The public administrators and the undertakers have been unable to locate this brother.

iopry Grows That Bandits Planned Ambush

uard at Bank Prevented Success of Scheme

The belief that the extortion plot ected against Willard H. George, lshire-district furrier, in which was ordered by anonymous let- to deliver $6500 with the alter- tive of being taken for a ride, s merely a ruse used by a gang bandits to get him to carry a ge amount of cash became more tain yesterday, Captain of Detec- es McCaleb declared, as he con- ued surveillance of several sus- cts.

"We have learned," McCaleb said, at at least three men and one man discussed a plan to hold up . George. So that he would be rrying a large amount of cash one the gang, signing himself 'Mr. x,' wrote Mr. George the letter reatening his life and directing n to deliver the money from the r end of a San Diego-bound in when he observed a white flag ved as a signal. Handwriting of one suspect was and not to be the same as that the letter, McCaleb said.

Despite the belief that the death reats were made only as a ruse r. George was still under police ard yesterday.

SEWER PROJECT ADVANCED

Public Works Board to Build $1,000,000 System in San Fernando Valley With Bond Funds

Definite steps were taken by the Board of Public Works yesterday toward the construction of a sanitary sewer system for the San Fernando Valley which will cost approximately $1,000,000. The new sewage disposal system will eradicate the cesspool evil from the valley, and the contemplated immediate beginning of work on the project will aid toward a solution of the unemployment problem, it was declared by Public Works Commissioner Elkins.

Preliminary steps had been taken to construct the new sewer system under the assessment district plan, with the property owners in the valley being assessed to pay the costs. Several days ago, however, the City Council, at the suggestion of Councilman Randall, abandoned this plan.

That left the matter up to the Board of Public Works, which settled it yesterday by declaring that the contemplated sewer system is a trunk-line project, and, therefore, the costs can be paid from a city bond fund. It pointed out that the $12,000,000 north outfall sewage disposal bond issue voted in 1922 has never been fully utilized and that the amount of unsold bonds is considerably more than is necessary for the San Fernando Valley project. It will still be necessary for the Council to adopt an ordinance ordering the sale of bonds from this issue in the amount required.

Besides declaring its intention to build the sewer system with bond funds, the Board of Public Works yesterday also authorized City Engineer Jessup to complete his plans for the system and to advertise for bids on the first unit. The system will comprise four units, the first to be a trunk line from Laurel Canyon Road in Studio City to Kester avenue at a point one-half mile west of Van Nuys, and the other three to be branch trunk lines.

The estimated cost of the first unit is about $350,000, and it is expected that work on it will be commenced within twenty days, according to Commissioner Elkins.

MANY ADDED IN CAMPAIGN OF W.C.T.U.

More Than 3100 Members Obtained During Week and 2000 More Sought

More than 3100 paid-up members have been added to the membership of the W. C. T. U. since last Monday, according to announcement made yesterday by Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president of the W.C.T.U. of Southern California.

The 765 membership-drive workers expect to obtain at least 2000 more members by Monday.

"This is a national campaign and we expect to add 500,000 new members, said Mrs. Wheeler. "There are 15,000 unions in America and every union is reported to be working at high speed."

The charge of the wets that "school children have degenerated under prohibition" was denied by Mrs. Wheeler, who said the Eighteenth Amendment has been of inestimable benefit to the schools.

"The high school enrollment has grown, since 1920, from 2,000,000 to more than 5,000,000, an achievement unparalleled in history," said Mrs. Wheeler. "Many of the 3,000,000 additional students who have sought a high school education within the last decade have come from poorer homes in which, formerly, the consumption of liquor was a heavy burden on the family income."

Officials at Temperance Temple yesterday received a message to the effect that Dr. Ella A. Bool, national president of the W.C.T.U., will broadcast an address from Columbia Station, New York, Monday at 3:30 to 4 p.m., eastern standard time.

CENSUS SHOWS FEW MEN IDLE

terday that all information given the census enumerator is held strictly confidential with the government and is not available even to city or county officials, let alone private individuals or organizations. One woman reported that a tax assessor stood by an enumerator while the latter was taking the information for the census. The supervisor advised that if the assessor refused to remove himself he would be subject to arrest for interfering with the taking of the census.

CHARGES FILED

Although the enumerators are receiving co-operation from virtually everyone they contact in making their rounds, a few cases of flat refusal have been reported. In two instances charges were filed in the United States District Court yesterday.

In one information filed, it was charged that Mrs. Hattie Potts of 404 Sierra Bonita street refused to give any information to Frank Rogers, an enumerator.

In the second case George Ewing, 8256½ Norton avenue, was charged with refusing to give census information to Frances Baker, an enumerator.

It is expected the two will either surrender today or be arrested and required to furnish the customary $50 bail for appearance in court.

Bay City Plane Trips Increased

A schedule of three round trips a day between Los Angeles and San Francisco will go into effect Monday on Western Air Express, when the first thirty-passenger planes will be placed in service, it was said yesterday by C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager.

Heretofore there have been only two flights in each direction daily. Northbound departures will be at 8:50 a.m., 1 p.m. and 4:35 p.m.

Southbound planes will leave at 9:10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Addition of the early afternoon trips is largely experimental, Smith said.

KILLING EFFORT CHARGES MADE

Official Accuses Hal Wilson and Russell Graney

Shooting at Mrs. Moore on 9th Inst. Asserted

Differing Stories Told by Two Suspects

A charge of attempted murder was filed yesterday against Hal Wilson and Russell Graney, whom police accuse of firing through a glass door at Mrs. W. A. Moore, 4019½ Marathon street, on the morning of the 9th inst. The complaint was issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McKay.

Detective Lieutenants Condaffer and Ryan charge that the two defendants the night before made threats that they were going to run Moore "off the hill," because he was interfering with their bootlegging business.

At 4 o'clock the following morning, the officers assert, the two men called at the Moore residence and rang the door bell. When Mrs. Moore went to the door she pulled the shade to one side and peered out. Two shots were fired at her. Mrs. Moore told officers that she recognized the two defendants but did not know which one had fired shots.

When the officers arrested Wilson he stated that he and Graney were together and that Graney fired the shots. The gun was found checked at a stage depot at Sixth and Los Angeles streets.

Graney denies the charge, declaring that he has an alibi.

DIFFERENCE IN PISTOLS CLEARS MAN

James Caldwell Released After Gun in Vancouver Proves Him Innocent

Difference in caliber of two revolvers exonerated James D. Caldwell, 24 years of age, a lithographer, of suspicion in connection with the murder of a Mrs. Perrin during a robbery in Vancouver, B. C., February 28, last, and Captain of Detectives McMahon of the local police fugitive detail ordered his release yesterday.

Detectives Bell and Reilly of the Vancouver police department, who took Caldwell into custody here last Wednesday, declared their case here had blown up and departed for home.

Caldwell became a suspect when it was learned he had obtained a revolver in trade from a man convicted in Vancouver of burglary. The gun was supposed to have been the same as that used in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Perrin and the wounding of her husband.

Yesterday, the Canadian detectives declared, Caldwell told them where the gun could be located in Vancouver. Their home office wired back, they said, that the gun had been found but that it is of .38 caliber, while the weapon identified as the one used in the slaying is a .32 caliber.

Return of Auto Finance Racket Suspect Blocked

Local police yesterday learned that New York authorities have blocked their efforts to have returned here for trial Charles W. Lloyd, charged with obtaining more than $40,000 from finance companies on one automobile. Lloyd was apprehended in New York City through efforts of Detective Lieutenant Hansen, who went east to bring the man back. Hansen telegraphed yesterday to Detective Chief Taylor that Lloyd had been released on $2500 bail, and that the Governor of New York refused to extradite him.

Taylor instructed Hansen to take the matter up with the Federal authorities in New York, in an effort to obtain co-operation.

Lloyd engineered a novel scheme, according to police. They say he changed the number plate on his sedan's engine, forged new bills of sale, used different names, and obtained repeated refinancing on the one car. This scheme, they assert, was worked in several States.

"TAPING" CHARGES PRESSED

Pastor Shepard to Give Names in Connection With School Punishment Assertions

Reiteration that he will furnish names both of teachers and pupils involved in asserted "taping" punishment in the public schools was made yesterday by Rev. Sheldon Shepard, pastor of the First Universalist Church. This information will be forthcoming when he meets City Superintendent Bouelle to discuss complaints made before the school board at the Thursday meeting, he said.

"I have no desire whatever to get a teacher or principal into trouble. That was not my idea in making the inquiry," Mr. Shepard said yesterday. "I meet with several groups of young people at the church and from time to time I have heard of specific instances where children were punished by having their mouths sealed with adhesive tape. Again I have heard of instances where children have been slapped and again where property such as knives, candy and marbles has been taken by teachers and not returned.

PURPOSE EXPLAINED

"My purpose in addressing the school authorities is to find if this is the general practice and, if such is the case, to protest against it. I might say that I am not complaining in regards to my own children.

"I have been asked to furnish specific instances to Supt. Bouelle when I confer with him. This I will do, but in the meantime, I do not wish to make names, places or dates public."

"The school board has strict rules regarding punishment," said Asst. Supt. Monlux yesterday. "The entire teaching force of the city again will be notified to adhere strictly to these rules in administering punishment. We are constantly referring to these rules and every teacher in the city should know them perfectly."

RULES SET FORTH

Reproof may be administered verbally in private and privileges may be taken from an offending pupil, according to Monlux. The rules regarding corporal punishment read, he states, as follows:

"Corporal punishment is not prohibited by the school law, but may be administered only after milder measures have failed and after the nature of the offense has been fully explained to the pupil. In administering it, a switch or light strap only may be used and in such a manner so as not to inflict a lasting mark. If administered by a teacher, the principal must be present, and if by the principal, in the presence of a witness other than the pupil."

The rules expressly forbid infliction of punishment other than in the manner stated and prohibit a teacher from slapping, striking about the head, boxing or pulling ears or severely shaking a pupil. Monlux asserts. Taping of a pupil's mouth with adhesive tape would be under the ban, he declares.

Celebration to Be Held as Sequel to Engagement of Miss Olson and Grey

When the traditional box of candy is passed at next Monday night's meeting of the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles, it will be in celebration of the announcement of the engagement of one of its members, Miss Dorothy Emmogene Olson, to Romer Zane Grey, son of the writer, Zane Grey, and Mrs. Grey. The engagement is the result of a friendship that began five years ago at Catalina, where the Zane Grey house on the hill is one of the show places of the island, and where the parents of Miss Olson also own a summer home.

ROMER ZANE GRAY.

Romer Grey recently left the university at Westwood to devote all his time to writing. He is the author of a book published last September, "The Cruise of the Fisherman," written on his yacht, The Fisherman, during a cruise to Tahiti. He is a pledge of Beta Theta Pi. Young Grey lives with his parents at Altadena. He is 21 years of age and his fiancee a little younger.

Miss Olson is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Olson of 332 North Louise street, Glendale. No date has been set for the wedding.
